Upon the return of the verdict of the jury as provided in the preceding section, it shall appear to the court that the total benefits found by the jury to have accrued to the lands of the district is equal to or exceeds the actual cost of the improvement including the increased cost of completing the same, the court shall enter its judgment in accordance therewith, as supplemental to and in lieu of the original decree fixing the benefits to the respective tracts of land, and thereafter the assessment and levy for the original cost of the construction of the improvement, including the indebtedness incurred for completing the improvement together with interest at the legal rate on the warrants issued therefor, and all assessments and levies if any, for the future maintenance of the drainage system described in the judgment shall be based upon the respective benefits determined and assessed against the respective tracts of land as specified in the judgment. Every person or corporation feeling himself or itself aggrieved by any such judgment may appeal therefrom to the supreme court within thirty days after the entry thereof, and such appeal shall bring before the supreme court the propriety and justness of the verdict of the jury in respect to the parties to the appeal. [L. '21, p. 751, § 5.]

§ 4465. Refunding Bonds for Drainage Improvement Districts.

Whenever in any drainage improvement district a drainage system has been constructed pursuant to the provisions of chapter 66 of the Laws of 1901, and the costs of construction thereof have been paid entirely by the issuance of warrants, or partly by the issuance of bonds of the district pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, and partly by the issuance of warrants, refunding bonds of the district may be issued to procure funds with which to pay such outstanding bonds and warrants or to exchange for such outstanding bonds and warrants, as herein provided. [L. '17, p. 560, § 1.]

§ 4466. Issuance and Mode of Payment—Apportionment.

The board of county commissioners shall determine in the manner provided by section 4422, the term for which bonds shall be issued and the installments in which the assessments shall be paid, and shall determine the total amount of all such outstanding bonds and warrants, including any warrants issued for any costs of construction which for any reason may not have been included in the costs apportioned and assessed against the lands of the district either in the original apportionment and assessment or in any attempted supplemental apportionment and assessment; and they shall add thereto a reasonable sum, not to exceed five per cent of the total amount of all such outstanding bonds and warrants, to cover the costs of the proceedings and the issuance of the refunding bonds. With the advice and assistance of the county engineer, the county commissioners shall apportion the aggregate amount against the lands of the district in the following manner: (1) All unpaid assessments or any part thereof, legally levied in the original apportionment and assessments for costs of construction, shall be apportioned against the counties, cities, lands and other property against which they were theretofore assessed; (2) All costs of construction omitted for any cause from the original apportionment and assessment, and all costs not legally assessed in the original apportionment and assessment shall be apportioned to the lands and other property of the district and to the counties, cities and towns benefited thereby in proportion to the benefits derived from the drainage system of the district. Thereupon the county commissioners shall prepare a reassessment-roll, showing the total amounts so apportioned and reapportioned, and giving proper credit for all payments theretofore made on assessments for costs not legally assessed in the original proceedings or in any attempted supplemental proceedings. [L. '17, p. 560, § 2.]

§ 4467. Notice of Hearing—Assessments—Equalization—Levy.

Upon the completion of the reassessment-roll, the board of county commissioners shall fix a day for a hearing thereon, which hearing may be either at the commissioners' office or at some place in the district; and shall cause notice thereof to be given in the manner provided for the giving of notice of a hearing on a schedule of apportionment in drainage improvement districts. Such notice shall describe the boundaries of the district and the sections and lesser subdivisions of land contained therein, and shall state that the reassessment-roll of said drainage improvement district is on file in the office of the clerk of the board of county commissioners and open to public inspection; and that at or prior to the hearing, any person interested may file written objections to the amount of said reassessment-roll or any item thereof. At the hearing, the board may equalize and apportion according to the benefits received therefrom, all costs apportioned in the original or any supplemental proceedings which they may find to have been illegally apportioned and assessed and all costs which were not apportioned and assessed either in the original or in any attempted supplemental proceedings, but they shall not change the apportionment and assessment of any costs which they shall find to have been legally made in the original proceedings. Upon the completion of the equalization and apportionment of the reassessment-roll the board shall enter an order approving the same, and shall levy the assessments therein contained against the lands and the property and against the cities, towns and counties therein described, and shall turn the roll over to the treasurer for collection in accordance with the resolution of the board of county commissioners fixing the method of payment of the assessments therein contained. [L. '17, p. 561, § 3.]

§ 4468. Collection of Assessments.

Thereupon the treasurer shall give notice that the roll is in his hands and that assessments may be paid thereon, as provided for similar notice in drainage improvement districts; and all the provisions of this chapter, and acts amendatory thereof, shall govern the adoption, extension and transmission of the reassessment-roll, and the collection of the assessments therein contained, and the form, denomination, and manner of issuance and manner of payment of the refunding bonds, and shall also govern all other matters and procedure herein provided for, so far as the same shall be applicable: Provided, that the additional sum required by section 4465 to be levied to cover the cost of the reassessment and other expenses, shall not be collected on any assessments paid in full before the issuance of refunding bonds. [L. '17, p. 562, § 4.]

§ 4469. Sale of Refunding Bonds—Exchange.

After the expiration of thirty days from the first publication of the notice given by the treasurer, that the assessment-roll is in his hands for collection, the county commissioners may issue and sell refunding bonds of the district, as determined by them in their resolution, to the amount of the total assessments remaining unpaid upon the reassessment-roll at the expiration of the thirty days above mentioned; or they may issue and exchange such refunding bonds at par value for any bonds or warrants outstanding against the district. [L. '17, p. 563, § 5.]

§ 4470. Refunding Bond Redemption Fund.

The proceeds of the sale of any refunding bonds and of all payments of assessments levied in the original assessment-roll or in any attempted supplemental roll, or in the reassessment-roll, within the thirty-day period above mentioned, and any balance remaining in the fund for the payment of the outstanding bonds and warrants of the district, after such bonds and warrants shall have been paid, shall be paid into a fund to be designated the "Refunding Bond Redemption Fund," and shall be applied: (1) To the payment of the interest on all outstanding refunding bonds, and (2) to the payment of the principal of such bonds in the order of their issuance. [L. '17, p. 563, § 6.]

§ 4471. Reassessment not to Affect Prior Maintenance Levies.

Upon the entry of the order confirming the reassessment-roll, and the levy of the assessments contained therein, the reassessment-roll herein provided for shall govern the collection of all assessments against the lands of the district. No assessments for maintenance levied against the lands of the district shall be affected by the reassessment herein provided for, but such assessments shall be collected as if no reassessment proceedings had been had. [L. '17, p. 563, § 7.]

§ 4472. [4267-1.] Abandoned Ditches.

Where a ditch or drain shall have been in part constructed in compliance with the provisions of Remington & Ballinger's Annotated Codes and Statutes of Washington, sections 4226—4250, 4256—4267, and the work of constructing said ditch or drain shall have ceased before the completion thereof or for any reason, the county commissioners shall declare said ditch or drain abandoned. [L. '11, p. 439, § 1.]

Mode of Assessment: See Remington's Digest, Drains, § 17; Espy Estate Co. v. Pacific County, 40 Wash. 67, 82 Pac. 129.

§ 4473. [4267-2.] Apportionment of Cost.

When any such drainage proceedings shall have been abandoned by the county commissioners they shall, unless a petition shall have been filed within ninety days after such abandonment, as hereinafter provided, order the county engineer to apportion the costs of improvement, so far as constructed, against the lands benefited and like proceedings shall be had for the apportionment and collection of the costs and expenses of constructing said ditch or drain so far as the same shall have been constructed as are provided for the apportionment and collection of costs and expenses when such ditch or drain shall have been completed in accordance with the provisions of the said act. [L. '11, p. 439, § 2.]

§ 4474. [4267-3.] Petition—Contents.

When any ditch or drain shall have been in part constructed pursuant to the provisions of the said act, and the same shall have been abandoned as provided herein, a petition may be filed as provided in section 4299, and like proceedings shall be had thereon as are provided by sections 4298 to 4340 of this code. Said petition shall include only such lots or tracts of land and public or corporate roads or railroads as were included in the schedule filed by the county surveyor in the original proceedings pursuant to said sections 4226—4250, 4256—4267 of Remington & Ballinger's Annotated Codes and Statutes of Washington: Provided, that the boundaries of such proposed drainage district may be extended by the board of county commissioners in like manner as is provided for the extending of boundaries in section 4300 of this code. [L. '11, p. 439, § 3.]

§ 4475. [4267-4.] Rights and Powers Conferred.

When a petition for the establishment and organization of a drainage district shall have been filed as provided herein the same shall be governed by all the provisions of sections 4298—4340, so far as the same are applicable and all rights and powers conferred upon drainage districts established and organized in compliance with said act shall be and are hereby conferred upon drainage districts organized and established in accordance herewith. [L. '11, p. 440, § 4.]

§ 4476. [4267-5.] Construction.

When any drainage district shall be established and organized as provided in this act it shall be lawful for such drainage district to use so much of the original ditch or drain as shall have been constructed and to construct such additional ditches or drains as shall be petitioned for and ordered by the board in the course of said proceedings. Upon the completion of said original ditch or drain, the cost of such new ditches or drains, if any, as shall be constructed and expense thereof, together with all costs and expenses lawfully incurred in the partial construction of said original ditch or drain, shall be apportioned against the land in the district established and an assessment made for the payment of the entire sum in accordance with the provisions of sections 4298—4340. [L. '11, p. 440, § 5.]

§ 4477. [4267-6.] Concurrent Act.

Nothing in this act shall be construed so as to amend, change or repeal any of the existing laws relating to dikes and drains but concurrent therewith. [L. '11, p. 440, § 6.]

CHAPTER VIII.

ASSESSMENTS ON STATE LANDS.

§ 4478. [4251.] Assessments on State Lands Certified to Land Commissioner.

The several county treasurers of this state shall, in each year, within thirty days after the tax-rolls have been received and filed by them, make up and certify to the commissioner of public lands a list of all state, school and granted lands upon said rolls against which special assessments have been levied under the laws of this state for the construction or maintenance of any diking system or any drainage system constructed and maintained under the laws of this state. Said certificate shall contain (1) a description of the state, school or granted lands by legal subdivisions, (2) the amount of the assessment against each legal subdivision separately stated. [L. '07, p. 125, § 1.]

See notes to § 4490, partial constitutionality of assessment against school lands.

See, also, supra, §§ 4289, 4336, 4375, 4433, 4478, assessments against public lands.

See infra, §§ 8125—8136, later enactment on this subject.

§ 4479. [4252.] Land Commissioner to Certify to State Auditor.

As soon as the said assessments shall become due and payable the commissioner of public lands shall certify to the state auditor a list of all lands certified to him by the county treasurer, which have not been sold by the state, and his certificate shall contain the same facts as to the land certified by him that the certificate of the county treasurer shall contain as provided for in the next preceding section. [L. '07, p. 125, § 2.]

See note to § 4478.

§ 4480. [4253.] Assessment Added to Appraised Value of Land.

Upon issuing his certificate to the state auditor as provided for in the next preceding section, the commissioner of public lands shall make a minute upon his records showing the amount paid and charge it to the tract of land against which it was assessed. The valuation of the tract of land benefited by the diking or drainage improvement shall not be raised by or on account thereof, but when any of said land is offered for sale there shall be added to the appraised value of such lands as provided for by law the amount of such payments made by the state out of the general fund, which amount so added shall be paid by the purchaser in cash at the time of the sale of said land, and such additional sum shall be turned over to the state treasurer and placed to the general fund. [L. '07, p. 125, § 3.]

See note to § 4478.

§ 4481. [4254.] Payment by State Auditor.

Upon receipt of the certificate of the commissioner of public lands herein provided for the state auditor shall draw his warrants in favor of the several county treasurers upon the general fund for the payment of such assessments; and when he transmits his warrants he shall certify to the several county treasurers a description of the lands upon which he pays the assessment, the amount paid on each legal subdivision of land. [L. '07, p. 126, § 4.]

See note to § 4478.

§ 4482. [4255.] Estimate of Money Required.

It shall be the duty of the state auditor to include in his estimate of the amount of money necessary to be appropriated for the purposes of this act a statement of the amount necessary to pay the assessments certified to him. [L. '07, p. 126, § 5.]

See note to § 4478.

"Act," in this section, refers to §§ 4478—4482.

CHAPTER IX.

PAYMENT OF EXPENSES HERETOFORE INCURRED IN CONSTRUCTION OF DITCHES, ETC.

§ 4483. [4268.] Purchase or Condemnation of Lands—Under Act of 1890.

Where any ditch or drain or any portion thereof has been constructed in compliance with the provisions of an act of the legislature of the state of Washington entitled "An act to provide for the construction, repairing and protection of drains and ditches for agricultural, sanitary and domestic purposes, and to provide for the organization of drainage districts, and declaring an emergency," approved March 19, 1890, it shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners of any county in which the same is located, to purchase the lands occupied by or necessary to said drain or ditch, or any culverts, bridges or approaches thereto, or appurtenances to said drain or ditch, or acquire the same by condemnation proceedings, wherever title to such lands has not already been obtained, and to that end are hereby authorized to institute and maintain in the name of the county the proceedings provided in sections 921–936, supra. [L. '95, p. 142, § 1.]

Cited in 19 Wash. 201; 20 Wash. 85, 92; 28 Wash. 40; 30 Wash. 631; 31 Wash. 358; 40 Wash. 68; 45 Wash. 424; 47 Wash. 415, 416; 48 Wash. 231.

This act is general, and not special, legislation: Lewis County v. Gordon, 20 Wash. 80, 54 Pac. 779.

This act is not subject to the objection that it deprives the land owner of property without due process of law, because no provision is made in the act in positive terms for contesting the assessments imposed by the county commissioners, since the act itself provides that in a suit to enforce the lien the property owner might set up any matter respecting the amount or legality of the assessment, and in addition an ample remedy for reviewing the proceedings of the board of commissioners is provided by writ of certiorari under the general laws of the state: State ex rel. Latimer v. Henry, 28 Wash. 38, 68 Pac. 368.

This act makes no provision in regard to dikes, and cannot be held as authorizing a reassessment to cover the expenses of dikes and dams constructed under a void statute: Franklin Sav. Bank v. Moran, 19 Wash. 200, 52 Pac. 858.

The title of this act is sufficiently comprehensive to cover the subject of assessments according to benefits upon lands drained in order to pay for right of way through same: Lewis County v. Gordon, 20 Wash. 80, 54 Pac. 779.

An assessment for the maintenance of a drainage district is void where part of the assessment was stated to be intended for another purpose than that permitted by the statute, and the assessment was in excess of the amount required for any lawful purpose: McDougall v. Bridges, 52 Wash. 396, 100 Pac. 835.

Reassessment or Additional Assessment: See Remington's Digest, Drains, § 20; Franklin Sav. Bank v. Moran, 19 Wash. 200, 52 Pac. 858; State ex rel. Espy Estate Co. v. Board of Commrs. of Pacific County, 48 Wash. 230, 93 Pac. 326; Pool- man v. Langdon, 94 Wash. 448, 162 Pac. 578.

It is within the power of the legislature to enact a statute authorizing the making of an assessment to cover the cost of work done on a public improvement under a void law: State ex rel. Latimer v. Henry, 28 Wash. 38, 68 Pac. 368.

§ 4484. [4269.] Ditch Fund Established.

Said board of county commissioners shall establish a ditch fund named after such ditch or drain, and whenever there is not sufficient money to make the payments required under the provisions of the last section, they shall borrow money wholly on the faith of, and to be repaid wholly from, the moneys in such fund by issuing bonds payable out of said funds in denominations of not to exceed twenty dollars each, due on or before five years from date, and drawing not to exceed seven per cent interest per annum, in order to make such payments required pursuant to the last section. Where said ditch or drain is uncompleted, or completed only in part, said board shall proceed to finish said ditch according to the survey and report of said improvement made in accordance with the provisions of said act of March 19, 1890, and pay for the same by warrants duly issued on said ditch fund, and the total cost of said improvement, including expenses heretofore incurred and warrants heretofore issued for the location, right of way and construction of said ditch, shall be paid as hereinafter provided. [L. '95, p. 142, § 2.]

§ 4485. [4270.] Apportionment According to Benefit—Notices.

Said board of county commissioners shall, upon obtaining title to lands as provided in section 4483, file the survey and report of said improvement, if any has been made, in accordance with the provisions of said act of March 19, 1890, and shall ascertain the aggregate cost of said ditch, and shall apportion the said cost to each lot, tract of land, road or railroad, according to the benefit which will result to each from said improvement, not exceeding the amount of such benefit, and shall fix a day for the hearing of said apportionment. The county auditor shall prepare a notice in writing directed to the resident lot or land owners, or to the municipal or private corporations affected by the improvement, setting forth a general description of the improvement, together with a tabular statement of the apportionment of the cost as hereinbefore provided for, which notice shall be served upon each lot or land owner and upon each member of any public board of authority and upon an officer or agent of such private corporation, in the manner provided for the service of a summons, at least eight days before the day set for the hearing, and return of service shall be made in the mode provided for the return of service of a summons in a civil action, and the notice and return shall be filed with the county auditor on or before the day of hearing, and the county auditor shall at the same time give like notice to each nonresident lot or land owner, either in the mode above prescribed or by publication in a newspaper printed and of general circulation in the county for at least two consecutive weeks before the day set for the hearing, proof of which service shall be by affidavit of the publication of said notice during said time by the printer of such paper or other person knowing the fact, which proof shall be filed with the county auditor on or before said day of hearing. [L. '95, p. 143, § 3.]

§ 4486. [4271.] Commissioners to Examine Apportionment.

The county commissioners shall meet at their regular place of meeting on the day fixed for the hearing, and shall first determine whether the required notice has been given. If they find that due notice has not been given they shall continue the hearing to a day to be fixed by them, and order the notice to be served as hereinbefore provided, and when they find due notice has been given they shall examine said apportionment, and if it is in all respects fair and just according to benefits they shall approve and confirm the same. [L. '95, p. 144, § 4.]

§ 4487. [4272.] Unjust Apportionment.

If the commissioners find that the apportionment is unfair and unjust, and ought not to be confirmed, they shall so order and amend it as to make it fair and just in proportion to benefits, and if necessary, in their opinion, they may adjourn the further hearing not exceeding twenty days to a day to be fixed by them, and go upon the premises and by actual view apportion the entire cost of location and construction, or any part thereof, according to benefits, as may seem just and proper, and on the day so fixed by them they shall again meet and determine the apportionment. [L. '95, p. 144, § 5.]

§ 4488. [4273.] Exceptions Filed.

Any person or corporation party to the proceedings may file exceptions to the apportionment at any time before the time set for the final hearing of the report and apportionment. The commissioners may hear testimony and examine all witnesses upon questions made by the exceptions, and for that purpose may compel the attendance of the witnesses by subpoena, which the clerk of the superior court shall issue on demand, and their decision on the exceptions shall be entered upon the journal, and if they sustain the exceptions the cost of hearing thereon shall be paid out of the county treasury, and if they overrule the same such costs shall be taxed against such person or corporation filing the exceptions. L. '95, p. 144, § 6.]

§ 4489. [4274.] Assessments, When Made—Collections, How Made.

When the cost of said ditch shall have been approved as hereinbefore provided the commissioners shall determine at what time and in what number of assessments, not to exceed four, they will require the same to be paid, and order that the assessments as made by them be placed upon the tax-roll accordingly against the lots or lands assessed. When the commissioners make an assessment they shall cause an entry to be made directing the clerk of the board of county commissioners to make and furnish to the treasurer of the county a special tax-roll with the assessment arranged thereon, as required by their order, and the clerk of the board of county commissioners shall retain a copy thereof in his office, and all assessments shall be liens on the property against which they are assessed, and shall be collected and accounted for by the treasurer as taxes: Provided, that the treasurer shall accept in payment of assessments the bonds issued under the provisions of section 4484, and said treasurer shall place the assessment so collected in said ditch fund. The list thus prepared must remain in the office of the treasurer for thirty days, or longer if ordered by the board of trustees; and during the time it so remains any person may pay the amount of the charges against any tract to the treasurer without costs; or, if so ordered by the board of county commissioners, said payments may be by installments; and if, at the end of thirty days, or the longer period fixed by the said commissioners, any of the charges, or any of the installments ordered by them already due, has not been paid, the treasurer must transmit the list to the county attorney, who must at once proceed, by civil action, to collect such charges and foreclose the liens therefor. All moneys in said ditch fund shall be applied to the payment of any bonds issued by the county commissioners, on the faith of said ditch fund, and to the payment of warrants issued for the construction of said ditch or drain and appurtenances and right of way, in the order of their issue. Wherever any assessments heretofore levied for said ditch have been paid, due credit for such payments shall be allowed, and the receipt given for such payments shall be received in lieu of a payment of a sum of money equal to the sum receipted for in the receipt. [L. '95, p. 144, § 7.]

Collection and Enforcement—Actions:

See Remington's Digest, Drains, § 22; State ex rel. Ames v. Lewis County, 45 Wash. 423, 88 Pac. 760; State ex rel. Seymour v. Slater, 53 Wash. 608, 102 Pac. 651.

The fact that county commissioners are to disburse moneys in a ditch fund under their control in the way pointed out by law, on the happening of certain events determined by them judicially, would raise no presumption that they would not be an impartial tribunal: State ex rel. Latimer v. Henry, 28 Wash. 38, 68 Pac. 368.

Under this section and under Laws of 1893, page 76, which provides that all warrants shall draw interest from date of presentation and nonpayment thereof, the holder of warrants against a ditch fund is entitled to their payment, with accrued interest, in the order of issuance, even if the payment of interest on such warrants prevents payment of subsequent warrants in the hands of other holders: State ex rel. Rush v. St. John, 30 Wash. 630, 70 Pac. 192.

The holder of warrants of a drainage district is not guilty of laches in enforcing an assessment where he commenced suit within six months after the abandonment of the project by the county: Espy Estate Co v. Pacific County, 40 Wash. 67, 82 Pac. 129.

§ 4490. [4275.] Railroads to Pay for Benefits.

When the improvement drains or benefits the whole or a part of any public or corporate road or railroad, there shall be apportioned to the county, if the road is a state, county or free turnpike road, or to the corporation, if a corporate road or railroad, a share of the costs and expense thereof proportionate to the benefits to said road or railroad. All lands of the state, or any county, school district or other municipal corporation, shall be subject to the provisions of this act. [And when any assessment shall be apportioned against any school lands of the state, the county shall pay the same out of its general fund and have a lien on the proceeds of the sale of such lands, from which it shall be reimbursed.] [L. '95, p. 146, § 8.]

"Act" refers to the foregoing sections of this chapter.

The portion in brackets is unconstitutional.

Cited in 28 Wash. 46.

That part of this section in brackets is unconstitutional on the ground that funds raised by taxation for general county purposes cannot be applied to the payment of assessments for local improvements, and on the further ground that the proceeds of the sales of school lands cannot be diverted from the permanent and irreducible common school fund: State ex rel. Latimer v. Henry, 28 Wash. 38, 68 Pac. 368.

§ 4491. [4276.] Assessment Inadequate—Proportionate Payment of Expenses.

Whenever assessments have been made or shall hereafter be made, under the provisions of sections 4483-4490, supra, and the assessments realized are inadequate and insufficient, after deducting therefrom the amount of bonds issued for damages for rights of way to pay said warrants heretofore issued under the act of March 19, 1890, the same shall be paid in the proportion which the whole number of warrants issued under said act of March 19, 1890, bears to the assessments realized and available for the payment of said warrants, regardless of the number, or order of issue. [L. '03, p. 390, § 2.]

§ 4492. [4277.] Payment of Expenses Incurred Under Act of 1895.

When any drainage district has been or shall be established and created under the provisions of Chapter II of this title, and when the drainage commissioners of such district have employed surveyors or draftsmen or legal assistance as provided in section 4308, and have incurred expenses for the compensation of such surveyors, draftsmen and legal assistance, and have issued to such surveyors, draftsmen or person rendering said legal assistance any warrants, orders, vouchers or other evidence of indebtedness for said expenses so incurred, and when such warrants, orders, vouchers or other evidences of indebtedness remain outstanding and unpaid, and when from any cause no further proceedings are had as provided for in said Chapter II, within a reasonable time, it shall be the duty of the county commissioners of the county in which such drainage district is located to assess in accordance with the provisions of this act the lands constituting and embraced within such drainage district for the purpose of paying such outstanding warrants, orders, vouchers, or other evidences of indebtedness, together with interest thereon. [L. '03, p. 87, § 1.]

"This act," refers to §§ 4492-4500.

In proceedings to assess property for benefits accruing by reason of the construction of a drainage district, the county commissioners have no power to assess property in excess of the benefits received; and in the absence of fraud, they cannot be compelled by mandamus to increase their assessment for benefits so as to cover the total cost of the work and interest: State ex rel. Espy Estate Co. v. Board of Commissioners of Pacific County, 48 Wash. 230, 93 Pac. 326.

Where the proceedings for the assessment of property for a drainage district were void, and the legislature, recognizing the moral obligation of the lands benefited, provided a method for making the cost a lien thereon, the county commissioners in making a new assessment are not bound by the acts of the former board, but must determine the amount of benefits to be assessed: Id.

This act does not violate Constitution, Article II, § 37, providing that no act shall be revised or amended without setting out the same in full, since the same is a complete law of procedure within itself: Northern Pac. R. Co. v. Pierce County, 51 Wash. 12, 92 Pac. 1099, 23 L. R. A. (N. S.) 286.

The power of the legislature to authorize the levy of a tax upon a drainage district to pay the preliminary expense of ascertaining whether the improvement shall be made does not depend upon whether the district is a municipal corporation, and the tax cannot be objected to where the burden was voluntarily assumed by a vote of the people of the district: Id.

§ 4493. [4278.] Claims—Notice, Registration—Failure to Present.

The county auditor of any county in which such drainage district is located upon the written request of any holder or owner of any such warrant, order, voucher or other evidence of indebtedness, mentioned in the preceding section, shall forthwith cause to be published in the newspaper doing the county printing, if any such there be, and if not, then in some newspaper of general circulation in the county, a notice directing any and all holders or owners of any such warrants, orders, vouchers, or other evidences of indebtedness, to present the same to him, at his office, for registration within ninety days from the date of the first publication of such notice; and such notice shall be published once a week for six consecutive weeks. Said notice shall be directed to all holders and owners of warrants, orders, vouchers or other evidences of indebtedness issued by the drainage commissioners of the particular district giving its name and number, and shall designate the character of the warrants, orders, vouchers, or other evidences of indebtedness, the registration of which is called for by said notice. Upon the presentation to him of such warrants, orders, vouchers or other evidences of indebtedness, the county auditor shall register the same in a separate [separate] book to be kept for that purpose, showing the date of registration, the date of issue, the purpose of issue when the same is shown upon the face, the name of the person by whom presented, and the face value thereof. Any such warrants, orders, vouchers, or other evidences of indebtedness, not presented within the time prescribed in such notice, shall not share in the benefits of this act, and no assessment or reassessment shall thereafter be made for the purpose of paying the same. [L. '03, p. 87, § 2.]

§ 4501. [4286.] Payment of Expenses Incurred Under Act of 1888.

Where any dike, or any portion thereof, has been constructed and maintained in compliance with the provisions of an act of the legislative assembly of the territory of Washington, entitled, "An act to provide for the construction and maintenance of dikes and dams in certain cases," approved February 2, 1888, or any acts amendatory thereof, and where any warrants or orders, issued in connection with the expense of the construction and maintenance thereof, remain outstanding and unpaid, it shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners of the county in which the same are located to assess the lands benefited thereby for the purpose of paying said outstanding warrants, or orders together with interest thereon from the date of their issuance until paid, at the rate of six per cent per annum: Provided, that no such assessment shall be made, nor shall any proceeding under this act be had, unless such dike or system of dikes shall have been so constructed and maintained and be at the time of the initiation of such assessment proceeding in such a condition as to constitute an actual substantial benefit to the land included within the limits of said diking district, by so protecting said lands from overflow as to render them suitable for cultivation. [L. '05, p. 282, § 1.]

"This act," refers to §§ 4501—4516.

§ 4502. [4287.] Notice to Present Warrants—Failure to Register.

The county auditor of any county in which such dike or dam is located upon the written request of any holder or owner of any such warrant or order, shall forthwith cause to be published in the newspaper doing the county printing, if any such there be, and if not, then in some newspaper of general circulation in the county, a notice directing any and all holders or owners of any such warrants or orders to present the same to him, at his office for registration within ninety days from the date of the first publication of such notice; and such notice shall be published once a week for six consecutive weeks. Upon the presentation to him of such warrants or orders, the county auditor shall register the same in a separate book to be kept for that purpose, showing the date of registration, the date of issuance, the name of the person by whom presented and the face value thereof; Provided, however, that warrants or orders on the several diking districts organized under said act or any act amendatory thereof, shall be registered separately. Any such warrant or order not presented within the time prescribed in such notice, shall not share in the benefits of this act, and no assessment or reassessment shall thereafter be made for the purpose of paying the same. [L. '05, p. 283, § 2.]

§ 4503. [4288.] Acquisition of Necessary Lands—Purchase—Condemnation.

Where the land included within the boundaries of any diking district established in accordance with the said act approved February 2, 1888, or of any acts amendatory thereof, are included within the boundaries of any diking district or districts organized in accordance with the provisions of Chapter I of this title, no condemnation proceedings for the purpose of acquiring title to the lands upon which such dikes or dams are located shall be necessary. But where the lands included within the boundaries of any diking district organized under said act approved February 2, 1888, or any acts amendatory thereof, are not included within the boundaries of any diking district or districts organized under said Chapter I, it shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners of any county in which said dike or dams are located to purchase the lands occupied by, or necessary to said dikes or dams, and of any spurs, offshoots or appurtenances thereto, or acquire the same by condemnation proceedings, whether title to such land has not already been acquired, and to that end are hereby authorized to institute and maintain, in the name of the county, the proceedings provided by sections 921—936 of this code. [L. '05, p. 283, § 3.]

§ 4504. [4289.] Assessment—Procedure—Completion of Work.

Where the lands [are] within the boundaries of any diking district or districts organized under said Chapter I of this title, the board of county commissioners at the end of ninety days after the date of the first publication of the notice provided for in section 4502, supra, shall forthwith proceed to levy an assessment against such lands for the purpose of paying such outstanding warrants or orders, with interest thereon as referred to in section 4501, supra. And where such lands are not so included, the board of county commissioners shall forthwith proceed to acquire by purchase or condemnation proceedings the necessary lands as provided for in section 4503, supra. Said board of county commissioners shall establish a fund for each diking district organized under said act approved February 2, 1888, or acts amendatory thereof, to be called, "Old Diking Fund No. —," (here insert No. of diking district established under said act approved February 2, 1888, or any acts amendatory thereof) and for the purpose of paying for the lands to be acquired as provided in section 4503, supra, shall borrow money wholly on the faith of and to be repaid wholly from the money in said fund by issuing bonds payable out of said fund in denominations of not to exceed twenty dollars each due on or before five years from date and drawing not to exceed six per cent interest per annum. Where any such dike or dam is uncompleted and the lands for the benefit of which the same was constructed, are not included within the boundaries of any diking district or districts organized under said Chapter I, said board shall proceed to finish said dike or dam according to the survey and report of said improvement made in accordance with the provisions of said act of February 2, 1888, or of any act amendatory thereof, and to pay for the same by warrants duly issued on said dike fund and the total cost of said improvement, including the expenses heretofore issued for the location of right of way and construction or maintenance of said dike or dam shall be paid as hereinafter provided. [L. '05, p. 284, § 4.]

§ 4505. [4290.] Reassessment—Procedure—Notice, Objections, etc.

For the purpose of paying outstanding warrants or orders together with interest thereon, issued in connection with the expense of constructing or maintaining any dike or dam of any diking district organized under said act approved February 2, 1888, or any acts amendatory thereof, and also for the purpose of paying for acquiring the title to lands as provided for in section 4503, supra, and for the completion of any dike or dam as provided for in section 4504, supra, where the acquiring of such title, or the completion of such dike or dam is required under the provisions of this act, the board of county commissioners shall determine the aggregate cost of such dikes or dams and shall apportion the same to each lot or tract of land, road or railroad, according to the benefit which has resulted, or will result to each from said improvement, not exceeding the amount of such benefits: Provided, that such new assessment shall be for an amount which shall not exceed the actual cost and value of the improvement, together with interest thereon as provided for in this act, and costs, and that such amount shall be equitably apportioned upon the property benefited thereby, according to the provisions of the laws in force at the time such reassessment is made notwithstanding the proceedings of the county commissioners or of any of the officers of the county in which such improvement may be located may be found irregular or defected [defective], whether jurisdictional or otherwise. When such reassessment is completed all sums paid on the former attempted assessments shall be credited to the property on account of which the same was paid. The board of county commissioners shall cause the clerk of the board to make out a list of the lands benefited, giving a description of each tract or lot separately, and showing the sum apportioned to each of such tracts or lots, but said list need not contain the names of the owners of said tracts or lots. Said list shall be filed with the county auditor, and upon the filing thereof he shall forthwith cause to be published in the newspaper doing the county printing, if any such there be, and if not, then in such newspaper as he may select, a notice that said list is on file in his office and is open to inspection. Said notice shall give the number of the diking district organized under said act approved February 2, 1888, or any act amendatory thereof, state the total face value of warrants or orders registered in compliance with section 5402, supra, and contain a description by sections, townships and range, and by blocks where land has been platted, of the land claimed to be benefited. Where an entire section or block is not benefited a description of the part of such section or block claimed to be benefited shall be given. Said notice shall direct any and all persons or corporations interested, who desire to do so, to file with the county auditor exceptions to the apportionment made to lands claimed to be benefited, or to warrants or orders registered, the exceptions, if any, to the latter, to be on the ground that the same were not issued in connection with the expense of the construction or maintenance of dikes or dams, or where fraudulently issued, and all exceptions herein provided shall be filed within sixty days after the date of the first publication of said notice. Said notice shall also give the date on which the board of county commissioners will meet to hear and pass upon such exceptions, which shall be on the sixtieth day after the date of the first publication of said notice; said notice shall be published once a week for six consecutive weeks. [L. '05, p. 285, § 5.]

"This act" refers to §§ 4501—4516.

§ 4506. [4291.] Hearing on Exceptions—Amendments, etc.—Costs.

Upon the day stated in said notice the board of county commissioners shall meet at their regular place of meeting and proceed to hear and pass upon exceptions filed with the county auditor as provided in section 4505, supra. If they find that the apportionment is unfair and unjust, and ought not to be confirmed, they shall so order and amend it to make it fair and just in proportion to benefits, and if necessary, in their opinion, they may adjourn the further hearing not to exceed twenty days, to a day to be fixed by them, and go upon the premises and by actual view apportion the entire cost of location and construction or maintenance, or any part thereof, according to benefits as may seem just and proper, and on the day so fixed by them they shall again meet and determine the apportionment. The cost of the publication of the notice in this act provided for shall be considered as a part of the costs to be apportioned to said lands. The commissioners may hear testimony and examine all witnesses upon questions made by the exceptions, and for that purpose may compel the attendance of witnesses, by subpoena, which the clerk of the superior court shall issue or demand, and their decision on the exceptions shall be entered on the journal, and if they sustain the exceptions the cost of the hearing thereof shall be paid out of the county treasury, and if they overrule the same such costs shall be taxed against the person or corporation filing the exceptions: Provided, however, that if exceptions to warrants or orders registered with the auditor are sustained the costs of the hearing thereof shall be taxed against the owner of such warrants or orders. Where costs are taxed against any person or corporation it shall be the duty of the prosecuting attorney, to institute action in the superior court for the recovery of the same. [L. '05, p. 286, § 6.]

"This act" refers to §§ 4501—4516.

§ 4507. [4292.] Exceptions to Warrants—Hearing on.

Where exceptions are filed to warrants or orders registered with the auditor of the board of county commissioners, on the day of their meeting provided for in section 4506, supra, shall set the same down for hearing at a day not later than thirty days thereafter and shall direct the auditor to notify the person or corporation who presented said warrants or orders to him for registration of such exceptions, and shall state the time when and place where such exceptions shall be heard; and said notice shall be deposited by the county auditor in the postoffice at the county seat at least twenty days before the day set for such hearing, postage prepaid, and addressed to such person or corporation at his last known address, or at its principal place of business. The affidavit of the auditor shall be proof of such service. [L. '05, p. 287, § 7.]

§ 4508. [4293.] Appeals—Procedure.

Any person or corporation feeling aggrieved by the ruling of the board of county commissioners upon exceptions filed as hereinbefore provided for, may appeal to the superior court. Upon such appeal no bond shall be required and no stay shall be allowed. If the appeal be from the ruling of the board of county commissioners in relation to the apportionment of costs or assessments of benefits to land, such appeal shall bring before the superior court the justness of the amount of benefits in respect to the parties to the appeal. Such appeal shall be made by filing a written notice of appeal with the clerk of the board of county commissioners within ten days after such new assessment or reassessment-roll shall have been approved and confirmed by the board of county commissioners; and said notice shall describe the property and the objections of such appellant to such assessment or reassessment, and such appellant shall also file with the clerk of the superior court aforesaid within twenty days from the approval and confirmation of such roll by the board of county commissioners a copy of said notice, appeal, reassessment-roll and proceeding thereon, certified by the clerk of such board of county commissioners; and the case shall be docketed by the clerk of such court in the name of the person taking such appeal against said county as "an appeal from assessments." Said cause shall then be at issue, and shall have preference over all civil cases pending in said court, except proceedings under the acts relating to eminent domain by cities and towns, and actions of forcible entry and detainer. Such appeal shall be tried in said court as in the case of equitable causes, except that no pleadings shall be necessary. The judgment of the court shall be either to confirm, modify, or annul the assessment in so far as the same affects the property of the appellant, from which judgment an appeal shall lie to the supreme court as in other cases. In case the assessment is confirmed, the fees of the clerk of the board of county commissioners for copies of the record shall be taxed against the appellant with other costs. If the appeal be from a ruling of the board of county commissioners in relation to exceptions filed to warrants or orders registered with the county auditor, such appeal shall be taken in the manner provided by law for appeals from the action of the board of county commissioners in other cases. [L. '05, p. 287, § 8.]

§ 4509. [4294.] Apportionment to Highways, Railroads, State Lands, etc.

When the improvement protects or benefits the whole or any part of any public or corporate road or railroad there shall be apportioned to the county, if the road is a state, county or free turnpike road, or to the corporation if a corporate road or railroad, a share of the cost and expenses thereof proportionate to the benefits to said road or railroad. All lands of the state or any county school district or other municipal corporation shall be subject to the provisions of this act. [L. '05, p. 288, § 9.]

"Act" refers to §§ 4501—4516.

§ 4510. [4295.] Time and Manner of Payments—Extension of Tax-roll.

When said apportionment or assessment of benefits shall have been approved as hereinbefore provided, the commissioners shall determine at what time and in what number of assessments, not to exceed four, they will require the same to be paid, and order that the assessments, as made by them, be placed upon the tax-roll accordingly against the lots or lands assessed. When the commissioners make an assessment they shall cause an entry to be made directing the clerk of the board of county commissioners to make and furnish to the treasurer of the county a special tax-roll with the assessment arranged thereon as required by their order, and the clerk of the board of county commissioners shall retain a copy thereof in his office, and all assessments shall be liens upon the property against which they are assessed, and shall be collected and accounted for by the treasurer as taxes: Provided, that the treasurer shall accept in payment of assessments the bonds issued under the provisions of section 4504, supra, and said treasurer shall place the assessment so collected in said dike fund. The list thus prepared must remain in the office of the treasurer for thirty days or longer if ordered by the board of county commissioners, and during the time it so remains any person may pay the amount of charges against any tract to the treasurer without costs, or if so ordered by the board of county commissioners said payments may be by installments, and if at the end of thirty days or the longer period fixed by said commissioners, any of the charges or any of the installments ordered by them already due have not been paid, the treasurer must transmit a list to the prosecuting attorney, who must at once proceed by civil action to collect such charges and foreclose the liens therefor, and such charges or liens shall draw interest at the same rate as the delinquent taxes for state and county purposes. [L. '05, p. 288, § 10.]

§ 4511. [4296.] Payment of County Costs from Diking Fund.

Where exceptions to the apportionment or assessment are sustained by the county commissioners the costs of the hearing thereof shall be paid out of the county general fund, and where upon any appeal provided for in this act costs are taxed against the county, such costs shall be paid in the same manner, and the county shall be reimbursed therefor out of the first moneys paid into the said diking fund provided for in this act. If by reason of the payment of such costs, or the reduction or annulment of any assessment on appeal, the apportionment or assessment made by the board of county commissioners shall be found insufficient to make the payments required by this act, then said board shall increase such apportionment or assessment in the same proportion as such apportionment or assessment was made: Provided, however, that the total apportionment to and assessment against any tract or lot shall not exceed the benefits derived by the same. [L. '05, p. 289, § 11.]

§ 4512. [4297.] Action Brought in Name of County.

All actions authorized by this act to be brought by the prosecuting attorney shall be brought in the name of the county. [L. '05, p. 290, § 12.]

"Act" refers to §§ 4501—4516.

§ 4513. [4298.] Lists of Prior Assessments, etc., to be Filed.

The county treasurer of any county in which any diking district or districts were organized under said act approved February 2, 1888, or any acts amendatory thereof, shall within ninety days after the date of the first publication of the notice provided for in section 4502, supra, make out and file with the board of county commissioners a list for each of such diking districts; said list to contain a description of each tract or lot of land against which assessments were made under said act approved February 2, 1888, or any acts amendatory thereof, and to show any and all assessments made against the same and what payments were made upon the same. [L. '05, p. 290, § 13.]

§ 4514. [4299.] No Other Costs to be Taxed.

No costs shall be taxed for the work required to be done according to the provisions of this act by the county treasurer or the county auditor or the clerk of the board of county commissioners except as herein otherwise provided. [L. '05, p. 290, § 14.]

§ 4515. [4300.] Outstanding Warrants—Order of Payment—Interest.

Outstanding warrants or orders, together with interest thereon, issued in connection with the expenses of the construction or maintenance of dikes or dams constructed or maintained under the provisions of said act approved February 2, 1888, or of any acts amendatory thereof, shall be paid first and shall be paid in the order of their issuance; and thereafter indebtedness such as is authorized by this act, incurred by said board of county commissioners, shall be paid in the order of the issuance of the evidence of such indebtedness. Warrants issued by the said board shall draw interest at the rate of six per cent per annum. [L. '05, p. 290, § 15.]

§ 4516. [4301.] Irregularities not to Invalidate.

The fact that a contract has been let, or such improvement shall have been made and completed in whole or in part shall not prevent such assessments being made; nor shall the omission, failure or neglect of any officer or officers to comply with the provisions of law governing such county or county commissioners as to petition, notice, resolution to improve, estimate, survey, diagram, manner of letting the contract or section of work, or any other matter whatsoever connected with the improvement and the first assessment thereof, operate to invalidate or in any way to affect the making of the new assessment or reassessment as provided for herein, charging the property benefited with the expense thereof: Provided, that such new assessment shall be for an amount which shall not exceed the actual cost and value of the improvement, together with the interest and costs as herein provided for, and that such amount be equitably apportioned upon the property benefited thereby according to the provisions of the laws of this state relative to municipal corporations. [L. '05, p. 290, § 16.]

§ 4517. Renting Equipments.

The commissioners of any diking, drainage or commercial waterway district organized under the laws of this state, shall have power and authority to rent any machinery, tools or equipment belonging to such district, to any individual or corporation for hire under such conditions regarding the care and maintenance thereof as the commissioners may determine; and all sums of money received for the rent thereof shall be paid into the county treasury, to the credit of the district. SCHOOL SYSTEMS AND STATE OFFICERS.

§ 4518. [4302.] Uniform School System.

A general and uniform system of public schools shall be maintained throughout the state of Washington, and shall embrace common schools (including high and elementary schools, schools for special help and discipline, schools or departments for special instruction), technical schools, the University of Washington, the State College of Washington, state normal schools, state training schools, schools for defective youth, and such other educational institutions as may be established by law and maintained at public expense. [L. '09, p. 230, § 1. Cf. L. '90, p. 348, § 1; 1 H. C., § 8769; L. '97, p. 356, § 1.]

Former laws cited in 13 Wash. 362, 702; 25 Wash. 124; 29 Wash. 598; 32 Wash. 274, 666; 36 Wash. 409, 422, 432; 43 Wash. 242; 69 Wash. 192; 72 Wash. 455.

See Const., Art. IX, § 2.

This title embraces the "School Code" of 1909, with some necessary additions. The unusual classification and nomenclature adopted inevitably resulted in many serious errors in reference to various sections of the act. This not only leaves the intent of the legislature to conjecture in each instance of error, but casts some doubt upon all the other references. The greatest care has been exercised in reducing these references to a more practicable system. The sections are cited by reference to page and section number only, and the subject matter reclassified as logically as possible, without disarranging the order of the sections as enacted, except to insert other laws.

Const., Art. IX, § 2, provides: "The public school system shall include common schools, and such high schools, normal schools, and technical schools as may hereafter be established."

Cited in 84 Wash. 415, 102 Wash. 344.

A common school, within Constitution, Article IX, § 2, means one that is common to all children of proper age and capacity, free, and subject to, and under the control of the qualified voters of the district: School District v. Bryan, 51 Wash. 498, 99 Pac. 28, 20 L. R. A. (N. S.) 1033.

§ 4519. [4303.] Administration.

The administration of the public school system shall be intrusted to a superintendent of public instruction, a state board of education, to regents or trustees for educational institutions, to county superintendents of common schools, to boards of directors and district clerks. [L. '90, p. 348, § 2; 1 H. C., § 770; L. '97, p. 363, § 19; L. '09, p. 230, § 2.]

§ 4520. [4304.] Vacancies.

Whenever any vacancy in the board shall occur, whether by death, removal, resignation or otherwise, the governor shall fill the vacancy by appointment. [L. '90, p. 355, § 9; 1 H. C., § 774; L. '97, p. 367, § 26.]

§ 4521. [4305.] State Superintendent—Term of Office.

A superintendent of public instruction shall be elected by the qualified electors of the state, on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of the year in which state officers are elected, and shall hold his office for the term of four years, and until his successor is elected and qualified. [L. '09, p. 231, § 1. Cf. L. '61, pp. 55, 56; L. '90, p. 348, § 3; L. '91, p. 237, § 1; 1 H. C., § 119; L. '97, p. 363, § 20.]

See Const., Art. III, §§ 1, 3 and § 10980, infra, time of election and term of office.
See infra, § 10981, oath.

§ 4522. [4306.] Salary.

The superintendent of public instruction shall receive an annual salary of three thousand dollars, payable monthly, upon warrant of the state auditor, drawn upon the state treasurer, in the same manner as other state officers are paid. [L. '09, p. 231, § 2. Cf. L. '97, p. 363, § 21; L. '07, p. 174, § 1.]

See Const., Art. III, § 22.

Query: Whether this section is superseded by § 4557, supra.

§ 4562. [4326.] Erection of Buildings.

It shall be the duty of the board of regents herein provided for, as soon after their organization as practicable, and as soon as there shall be an appropriation therefor in the hands of the state treasurer in any amount sufficient to warrant the beginning the erection of the several buildings herein provided for, or any wing or section of the same, to enter into contracts with one or more contractors for the erection and construction of such suitable buildings and improvements for the institution created by this chapter as in their judgment shall be deemed best, or the funds aforesaid shall warrant, all things considered; such contract or contracts to be let after open public notice and competition under such regulations as shall be established by said board to the person or persons who offer to execute such work on the most advantageous terms: Provided, that in all cases said board shall require from contractors a good and sufficient bond for the faithful performance of their work, and the full protection of the state against mechanics' and other liens: And provided further, that the board shall not have the power to enter into any contract for the erection of any buildings or improvements which shall bind said board to pay out any sum of money in excess of the amount provided for said purpose. [L. '09, p. 242, § 9.]

The meaning of "several buildings herein provided for" is not clear, as this act does not authorize or provide for any.

A surety on a contractor's bond for the faithful performance of a state contract, under this section, is liable for claims duly filed with the state board for materials furnished prior to default, the fairness of which is not questioned, although they had not yet been paid: Finne v. Maryland Casualty Co., 102 Wash. 651, 173 Pac. 501.

§ 4563. [4327.] Regents may Employ Architects.

The board provided for in this chapter shall have power in their discretion to employ skilled architects and superintendents to prepare plans and specifications, and to supervise the construction of any of the buildings provided for in this chapter, and to fix the compensation for such services subject to the provisions and restrictions of this act. [L. '09, p. 242, § 10.]

See note to last section.

§ 4564. [4328.] Disbursement of Funds.

Whenever there shall be any money in the hands of the state treasurer to the credit of any of the specific funds set apart for that institution created by this chapter, deemed sufficient by the board to commence the erection of any of the necessary buildings or improvements, or to pay the necessary running or other expenses of said institution, the state auditor, on the request in writing of said board, shall, and it is hereby made his duty to draw his warrant in favor of the treasurer of said board and upon the state treasury against the specific fund belonging to said institution in such sum not exceeding the amount on hand in such specific fund at such time as said board may deem necessary: Provided, that said board shall draw said money as it may be necessary to disburse the same. [L. '09, p. 243, § 11.]

§ 4565. [4329.] Donations to be Kept as Separate Fund.

All donations of money, security, or other property shall be paid into the state treasury and invested as other funds of the university, and donations may be made to and for the sole use of any one of the departments of the university, and donations so made shall be kept as a separate fund for the use of such department. [L. '90, p. 399, § 18; 1 H. C., § 956.]

It seems that subdivision 4 of § 4557, supra, may supersede parts of this section.

§ 4566. [4330.] Restrictions upon Regents as to Debts, etc.

The board of regents are hereby prohibited from creating any debt as against the university, or in any manner encumbering the same, or of incurring any expense beyond their ability from the annual income of the university for the then current year. [L. '90, p. 399, § 20; 1 H. C., § 957.]

A school district has no authority to render free medical services to pupils by maintaining a clinic for the treatment of school children whose parents are unable to pay for regular professional services: McGilvra v. Seattle School District No. 1, 113 Wash. 619, 194 Pac. 817.

In a law for the compulsory vaccination of all pupils attending the public schools, an exception will be presumed in favor of individuals whose health is such as to render the operation dangerous or injurious: State ex rel. McFadden v. Shorrock, 55 Wash. 208, 104 Pac. 214.

A law requiring "successful vaccination" of school children is not too indefinite for enforcement because of its failure to define the terms used; and permitting attendance after the usual reaction, or after three operations without reaction, is not a violation of the statute, but a recognition of an intended exception: State ex rel. McFadden v. Shorrock, 55 Wash. 208, 104 Pac. 214.

§ 4690. [4411.] Pupils shall Comply With Regulations.

All pupils who may attend the common schools shall comply with the regulations established in pursuance of the law for the government of the schools, shall pursue the required course of studies, and shall submit to the authority of the teachers of such schools. '97, p. 385, § 69; L. '09, p. 263, § 6.]

All school districts in this state shall maintain school during at least six months each year. [L. '09, p. 263, § 7. Cf. L. '97, p. 385, § 70; L. '03, p. 179, § 23.]

Whenever the word "he" or "his" occurs in this act, referring to either the members of the city board of directors, county superintendents of common schools, city superintendents, directors, clerks, state board of education or other school officers, it shall be understood to mean also "she" or "her," and any woman possessing all of the qualifications of an elector, except as to sex, and possessing all of the other qualifications required by law for such offices shall be eligible to hold such offices. [Cf. L. '90, p. 382, § 78; 1 H. C., § 856; L. '95, p. 66, § 1; L. 97, p. 425, § 176; L. '09, p. 263, § 8.]

§ 4693. [4414.] Free from Sectarian Influence.

isted for special assistance; notwithstanding section 116, supra, makes the prosecuting attorney the legal adviser of all school districts: State ex rel. Dysart v. Gage, 107 Wash. 282, 181 Pac. 855.

§ 4703. [4424.*] Each Incorporated City to Constitute One District.

Every incorporated city in the state shall be comprised in one school district, and shall be under the control of one board of directors: Provided, that any two or more contiguous or adjacent districts of the second and third class may form a union high school district in the manner and with all the powers provided by law for union high school districts: Provided, that nothing in this section shall be so construed as to prevent the extension of such city district a reasonable distance beyond the limits of such city: And provided further, that nothing in this section shall be so construed as to change or disturb the boundaries of any school district organized prior to the incorporation of any city, except in cases of incorporation of cities lying partly in two or more school districts organized prior to the incorporation of such city, or the extension of the boundaries of cities beyond the limits of the school districts in which they are situated, or in cases where two or more cities unite, as provided by law: And provided further, that the fact of the issuance of bonds by school districts, heretofore or hereafter, shall not prevent the formation of new school districts, whether or not such bonds have been redeemed, canceled, or paid in whole or in part and shall not prevent the transfer or uniting with another school district of a portion or the whole of a district where bonds have been or may hereafter be issued. That part of this section forbidding actions against school district officers is severable from the balance: Swanson v. School District No. 15, 109 Wash. 652, 187 Pac. 386.

This section exonerates a district only from liability for negligence as to athletic apparatus or appliances or manual training equipment used in connection with any park, playground or field house: Stovall v. Toppenish School District No. 49, 110 Wash. 97, 188 Pac. 12, 9 A. L. R. 908.

This section (Amendment of 1917), does not apply to an action which had gone to judgment against the school district prior to the taking effect of the law in June, 1917, notwithstanding the pendency of an appeal by the defendant at that time; since the prevailing party is not "maintaining" an action by appearing and resisting the appeal: Bruenn v. North Yakima School Dist. No. 7, 101 Wash. 374, 172 Pac. 569; Kelley v. School Dist. No. 71, 102 Wash. 343, 173 Pac. 333; Holt v. School Dist. No. 71, 102 Wash. 442, 173 Pac. 335.

This section prohibits the prosecution of an appeal by plaintiff after taking effect of the law: Foley v. Pierce County School District No. 10, 102 Wash. 50, 172 Pac. 819.

This section applies to pending actions that had accrued prior to the enactment of the law: Bailey v. School District No. 49, 108 Wash. 612, 185 Pac. 810.

As to the right to sue a school district in tort rests in statute, it is not a vested right of property; hence this act repealing the law is not unconstitutional in depriving a child of his former right of action for injuries sustained on playgrounds prior to the enactment of the law: Bailey v. School District No. 49, 108 Wash. 612, 185 Pac. 810.

The provision of this section forbidding certain actions against school district officers is severable from that part of the act forbidding actions against school districts; so that failure of the title of the act to include officers does not affect the constitutionality of the balance of the act relating to school districts: Swanson v. School District No. 15, 109 Wash. 652, 187 Pac. 386.

This section bears a direct relation to the title, "An act relating to actions against school districts"; and the generality of the title is not a valid objection to it: Swanson v. School District No. 15, 109 Wash. 652, 187 Pac. 386.

This section changing the law relating to certain actions against school districts, being a complete and independent act without reference to prior laws on the subject, does not offend against Const., Art. II, § 37, providing that no act shall be revised or amended by reference to its title but the revised act shall be set forth in full: Swanson v. School District No. 15, 109 Wash. 652, 187 Pac. 386.

While repeals by implication are not favored, the later of two irreconcilable acts must prevail: Swanson v. School District No. 15, 109 Wash. 652, 187 Pac. 386.

This section is not open to the objection of being class legislation; since it covers all school districts in the state: Swanson v. School District No. 15, 109 Wash. 652, 187 Pac. 386.

Liability for Torts, in General: See Remington's Digest, Schools, § 29-1; Redfield v. School District No. 3, 48 Wash. 85, 92 Pac. 770; Howard v. Tacoma School Dist. No. 10, Pierce County, 88 Wash. 167, 152 Pac. 1004, Ann. Cas. 1917D, 792; Holt v. School Dist. No. 71, 102 Wash. 442, 173 Pac. 335; Foley v. Pierce County School Dist. No. 10, 102 Wash. 50, 172 Pac. 819; Kelley v. School Dist. No. 71, 102 Wash. 343, 173 Pac. 333.

§ 4707. [4426-1.] Insurance Fund in First Class District.

School districts of the first class shall, when in the judgment of the board of directors it be deemed expedient, have power to create and maintain a permanent insurance fund for said districts, to be used to meet losses by fire, if any, of said school districts. [L. '11, p. 378, § 1.]

Power of legislature to devote portion of school fund to establishment of insurance fund. Ann. Cas. 1917C, 925.

§ 4708. [4426-2.] Estimate.

The board of directors shall annually, at the same time and in the same manner as provided for reporting to the board of county commissioners an estimate of the amount of funds required for the support of the schools, report the additional amount of funds determined upon for creating or adding to the permanent insurance fund of the district, and the board of county commissioners are hereby authorized and required to levy and collect such additional amount of funds, the same as other school taxes. [L. '11, p. 378, § 2.]

§ 4709. [4426-3.] Investment.

The county treasurer, when authorized to do so by the board of directors of any school district, may invest any accumulated permanent insurance fund of said district in school, county, or state warrants of the state of Washington, and all profits accruing from such investment, and the funds so invested, shall revert to the permanent insurance fund of said district, and the county treasurer shall be the custodian of all warrants purchased by and with said permanent insurance fund until the same are redeemed, and the county treasurer shall submit a statement of such fund and warrants as a part of his monthly report to each district. [L. '11, p. 378, § 3.]

CHAPTER XII.

HIGH SCHOOL AND NON-HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICTS.

§ 4710. Division of Districts—High School and Non-high School.

For the purposes of this act all school districts in the state of Washington shall be and the same are hereby divided into two divisions to be known and designated respectively as high school districts and non-high school districts. [L. '17, p. 65, § 1.]

§ 4711. Classification of Districts—Removal to Other Class.

The state board of education is hereby empowered, and it shall be the duty of said board, to prescribe rules and regulations governing the classification of school districts as high school districts and non-high school districts and to classify school districts in accordance with such rules and regulations: Provided, that any school district which shall, at the time this act goes into effect, maintain a two year high school course shall by such fact be temporarily classified as a high school district. Any high school district shall be removed from such classification by the state board of education at any time when it shall fail to comply with the rules and requirements of such schools, or when such district shall fail to advance its high school to a four year course within two years from the time of its classification: Provided further, that for good and sufficient reasons the state board of education may grant one or more extensions of time for establishing such four year course. [L. '17, p. 66, § 2.]

This section of the school code, being later in time, controls earlier sections in the same code, so far as there is conflict: State ex rel. Calouri v. Stratton, 138 Wash. 485, 185 Pac. 610.

§ 4712. List of High School Districts to be Certified to County Superintendent.

The state board of education shall, within thirty days from the time this act goes into effect, provide each county superintendent of schools in the state with a copy of the rules and requirements for the classification of districts as provided for in this act; and the said board shall, on or before the first day of July of each year, certify to the county superintendent of schools of each county in the state a complete list of all high school districts in his county. [L. '17, p. 66, § 3.]

§ 4713. County Superintendent to Certify List to County Officers.

The county superintendent of schools of each county shall, on or before the first day of September, certify to the county assessor, the county treasurer, the county auditor, and the board of county commissioners of his county, a complete list of all high school districts and all non-high school districts in his county. [L. '17, p. 66, § 4.]

§ 4714. School Clerk's Report—Nonresident Pupils—Record—Cost.

The clerk, or secretary, of every high school district, shall certify under oath, as a part of his annual report to the county superintendent of schools to be made on or before the fifteenth day of July, as required by law, the following facts as nearly as the same can be ascertained: First, the name, postoffice address, county and number of school district if obtainable, of each nonresident high school pupil, not a resident of another high school district, enrolled in the high school, or high schools, of his district during the school year, with the days of attendance of each such nonresident high school pupil. Second, the cost per pupil per day of educating high school pupils for the school year in his district. For ascertaining such cost the following items of high school expenditure shall be used: Salaries of all high school teachers, supervisors, principals, special instructors, superintendent and assistants, janitors, clerks and secretaries, stenographers, and all other employees; fuel, light, water, power, telephones, text-books, office expenses, janitors' supplies, freight, express, drayage, rents for high school purposes, upkeep of grounds, upkeep of shops and laboratories, all materials used in instruction, insurance, current ordinary repairs of every nature, inspection, promotion of health, and such other current expenditures as may be necessary to efficient operation of the high school, or high schools. Expenditures for real estate, construction of buildings, and for other permanent improvements and fixtures shall not be included in estimating high school expenditures for the purposes of this act. When any item shall, as a necessary result of organization, cover both grade and high school work, it shall be prorated, as nearly as practicable, by the clerk, or secretary. [L. '17, p. 66, § 5.]

§ 4715. Certifying Cost of Educating Nonresident Pupils—Tax Levy.

The county superintendent of schools shall, after verifying such reports, certify, on or before the fifteenth day of August each year, to the county commissioners of his county and to the county commissioners of such other counties as any high school district of his county may have claims against under the provisions of this act, the amount of each such high school district claim for the cost of educating nonresident high school pupils, and such county commissioners are hereby authorized to levy and shall levy as a tax, not to exceed two mills, against all non-high school districts in their respective counties the aggregate amount, as certified to them by the county superintendent of schools, such levy to be made at the same time and in the same manner as other county levies for school purposes are made. In fixing the amount of any such claim by a high school district for educating nonresident high school pupils the county superintendent shall take the net difference between the cost per pupil per day of educating high school pupils in the given high school district and the apportionment per pupil per day to such high school district from the state current school fund and the county school tax as provided in section 4936, such difference to be multiplied by the days of attendance of nonresident high school pupils in each case. Such amount, when ascertained and certified as provided in this act, shall constitute a valid claim against the high school district fund hereafter provided for in this act. The above tax shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner as other taxes are collected, and shall be segregated by the county treasurer into a fund which shall be designated as the high school district fund and which shall be used only for reimbursing high school districts for the cost of educating nonresident high school pupils whose legal residence shall be in a non-high school district. [L. '17, p. 67, § 6.]

§ 4716. Certificates of Amounts Due High School Districts.

The county superintendent of schools shall, on or before the first day of September, certify to the county treasurer the amounts due to each high school district in his county from the high school district fund, and also the amounts due to the high school district fund of other counties wherein high school districts may have educated pupils from non-high school districts of his county as certified by the county superintendent of schools of such county to the county commissioners of his county. [L. '17, p. 68, § 7.]

§ 4717. Apportionment and Transfer of Funds by County Treasurer.

At the time of apportioning funds to school districts the county treasurer shall transfer to the credit of each high school district the amount due such district from the high school district fund, or such prorated portion thereof as may be in such fund at the time. He shall at the same time transfer to the credit of the high school district fund of other counties such amounts, or prorated portions thereof as may be in the high school district fund of his county, as may be due the high school district fund of such other county as certified by the county superintendent of schools of his county. [L. '17, p. 69, § 8.]

§ 4718. Admission of Nonresident Pupils.

Every high school in the high school district shall admit all persons of school age who are residents of this state, and not residents of another high school district, carrying the grades for which they desire to enroll, upon presentation of satisfactory evidence of having completed in a creditable manner the state eighth grade course of study as prescribed by the state board of education: Provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed as affecting section 4780. [L. '17, p. 69, § 9.]

§ 4719. Payment for Transportation of Pupils—Joint Agreements.

The board of directors of a non-high school district is hereby empowered to provide and to pay for the transportation of high school pupils to the most available high school when, in their judgment, it shall be to the best interests of the district to do so. Such board is hereby further empowered to enter into agreement with the board of directors of one or more school districts, whether high school districts or non-high school districts, to jointly provide and pay for the transportation of pupils upon such terms as they shall deem best: Provided, that it shall not be required to transport any pupil living within two miles of the school which such pupil attends: Provided further, that all such joint agreements for transporting pupils shall be duly executed in writing, the original to be filed with the county superintendent of schools and a copy thereof with each board of directors. § 4720. Reimbursement not a Tuition Charge.

The reimbursement of a high school district for cost of educating high school pupils for a non-high school district, as provided for in this act, shall not be deemed a tuition charge as affecting the apportionment of current state school funds provided for in section 4877. [L. '17, p. 70, § 11.]

§ 4722. [4428.] Notice—Hearing.

The county superintendent shall give notice to the parties interested by causing notices to be posted at least twenty (20) days prior to the time appointed by him for considering said petition, in at least three of the most public places in the proposed new district, and one on the school-house door of each district affected by the proposed change, and in one of the most public places of the territory affected by the proposed change. On the day fixed in the notice, he shall proceed to hear said petition, and if he deem it advisable to grant the petition he shall make an order establishing said district and describing the boundaries thereof and shall certify his action to the board of county commissioners at their next regular meeting. § 4723. [4429.] Conditions to be Performed.

No new district formed by the subdivision of an old one shall be entitled to any share of public money belonging to the old district until a school has actually been taught one month in the new district and unless within eight months from the order of the county superintendent granting such new district a school is opened, the action making a new district shall be void, and all elections or appointments of directors or clerks made in consequence of such action, and all rights and office of parties so elected or appointed shall cease and determine, and all taxes which may have been levied in such old district shall be valid and binding upon the real and personal property of such new district, and shall be collected and paid into the school fund of the old district. [L. '09, p. 266, § 3. Cf. L. '90, p. 362, § 21; 1 H. C., § 786; L. '97, p. 400, § 115.]

§ 4724. [4430.] Apportionment of Funds Between New and Old District.

When a new district is formed from one or more old districts it shall be entitled to a just share of the school money to the credit of the one or more old districts, from which the new district is formed, at the time the petition was granted to establish the new district. And the county superintendent (or in case of an appeal, the board of county commissioners), shall divide such money and also such money as may, for the current year, afterward be apportioned to the said one or more old districts, according to the number of school children resident in the new district, as may be ascertained by a census taken for that purpose: Provided, that the new district shall be entitled to all school district tax levied within the boundaries of the new district, for the current year in which the new district is formed. And if such tax, or any part of it has already been collected and placed to the credit of the aforementioned one or more old districts, it shall be the duty of the county treasurer, upon the order of the county superintendent, to transfer the money received from such special tax to the credit of the new district. [L. '09, p. 267, § 4. Cf. L. '90, p. 363, § 22; 1 H. C., § 787; L. '93, p. 265, § 1; L. '97, p. 401, § 116; L. '99, p. 22, § 3.]

Liability of territory annexed to school district to pay proportionate share of existing debts. 27 L. R. A. (N. S.) 1147.

§ 4725. [4431.] Adjustment of Property, Debts, etc.—Appeal.

At the hearing for the formation of a new school district, the county superintendent shall, in case the petition is granted, hear testimony offered by any person or school district interested therein, for the purpose of finding and determining the amount and value of all school property of whatever nature involved in the proposed action, the nature and amount and value of all bonded, warrant and other indebtedness of the original school district or districts out of whose territory such new district is formed, including all legal uncompleted obligations then existing, and in so doing shall consider the amount of such outstanding indebtedness incurred for current expenses, the amount incurred for permanent improvement, and the location of such improvements, and shall make an equitable adjustment of all property, debts and liabilities among the districts involved.

He shall make a full record of all such findings and terms of adjustment and the decision of said county superintendent shall be final unless appealed from in the manner provided by law, in which case the decision of the board of county commissioners shall be final. [L. '09, p. 267, § 5.]

§ 4726. [4432.] Tax Levy to Pay Indebtedness.

When a new school district is formed in the manner provided by this article it shall be the duty of the county commissioners to provide by appropriate levies on the property of such new district, in the manner provided by law, for the payment of such indebtedness as may be imposed upon it by the decision of the county superintendent, or in case of appeal by the board of county commissioners. [L. '09, p. 268, § 6.]

"This article" refers to the first six sections of this chapter.

§ 4727. [4433.] Alterations of Boundaries of School Districts—Requisites of Petition for.

For the purpose of transferring territory from one district to another or enlarging the boundaries of any school district, a petition in writing shall be presented to the county superintendent, signed by a majority of heads of families residing in the territory which it is proposed to transfer or include, or in case there be no family resident in such territory then by the board of directors in one of the districts affected by such proposed change, which petition shall describe the change which it is proposed to have made. It shall also state the reason for desiring said change, and the number of children of school age if any residing in the territory to be transferred. For such proposed transfer of territory the notices shall be posted and the hearing and appeal shall be the same as for the formation of a new district: Provided, that whenever any part of a school district of the third class in which no high school is maintained is bounded on three sides by a school district of the second class in which a high school is situated and maintained, the county superintendent of schools may without petition, transfer the territory of the school district of the third class so bounded to the school district of the second class in which said high school is situated and maintained: Provided, that the county superintendent of schools, shall hold a hearing upon the advisability of said transfer, and shall give notice of the time and place of said hearing to the parties interested, by causing notices to be posted at least twenty

(20) days prior to the time appointed by him for said hearing, in at least three of the most public places in the territory proposed to be transferred, and one on the schoolhouse door of each district affected by the proposed change. On the day, and at the place fixed in the notice, he shall hold said hearing and if he deem it advisable to make such transfer, he shall make an order establishing said transfer, and shall certify his action to the board of county commissioners at their next regular meeting. Upon making such transfer of territory the county superintendent of schools shall fix a time and place for adjusting the assets and liabilities of the school districts affected, and shall give notice thereof by posting said notice at least twenty days prior to the appointed time in not less than three of the most public places in the district from which the territory was transferred (at least one of which shall be in the territory transferred), and a like number in the district to which the territory is transferred. At the time and place fixed he shall hear the testimony offered by any interested party or district, and make an equitable adjustment of all property, debts and liabilities among the districts affected in the same manner and to the same effect as is provided in section 4728. [L. '15, p. 171, § 1. Cf. L. '09, p. 268, § 1; L. '90, p. 362, § 20; L. '91, p. 247, § 8; 1 H. C., § 785; L. '97, p. 358, § 5; L. '01, p. 370, § 1; L. '03, p. 157, § 1.]

Upon petition to the county school superintendent for a change of school district boundaries, the superintendent cannot radically depart from the petition and transfer from one district to another territory not described in the petition, except as necessary to correct the descriptions: State ex rel. Calouri v. Stratton, 108 Wash. 485, 185 Pac. 610.

Under this section, the county superintendent cannot transfer portions of one school district to another where the petition was not signed by a majority of the heads of families residing in the territory transferred; and this means heads of families, regardless of whether they have children of school age or not: State ex rel. Bouffleur v. Superior Court, 111 Wash. 477, 191 Pac. 621.

§ 4728. [4434.] Hearing—Adjustment of Property and Liabilities.

At the hearing for the alteration of any school district the county superintendent shall, in case the petition is granted, hear testimony offered by any person or school district, for the purpose of finding and determining the value and amount of any school property of whatever nature involved in the proposed action, the nature and amount and value of all bonded, warrant and other indebtedness of each school district affected by the action, including all legal uncompleted obligations then existing, and in so doing shall consider the amount of such outstanding indebtedness incurred for current expenses, the amount incurred for permanent improvements and the location of such improvements, and shall make an equitable adjustment of all property, debts and liabilities among the districts involved.

He shall make a full report of all such findings and terms of adjustment and the decision of said county superintendent shall be final unless appealed from in the manner provided by law, in which case the decision of the board of county commissioners shall be final. [L. '09, p. 268, § 2.]

Cited in 108 Wash. 487.

§ 4729. [4435.] Levy for Payment of Indebtedness.

In case of the alteration of any school district, in the manner provided by this article, it shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners to provide by appropriate levies on the property of such district, in the manner provided by law, for the payment of such indebtedness as may be imposed upon it by the decision of the county superintendent, or in case of appeal, by the board of county commissioners. [L. '09, p. 269, § 3.]

"Article" in this section refers to this and the last two preceding sections.

§ 4730. [4436.] Alteration by Extension of City Limits—When Annexation in Effect.

Whenever an incorporated city shall extend its limits in the manner provided by law, so as to include all or a part of one or more school districts, the territory so included shall not be deemed annexed for school purposes until the thirtieth day of June next succeeding the date of annexation for municipal purposes, at which time the county superintendent shall declare the territory added to the limits of said city to be a part of the school district embracing said city: Provided, that when a school-house is located within the territory annexed for municipal purposes, and yet remains the most accessible school for a part of the school district left outside of the territory so annexed to such incorporated city, the county superintendent may annex all or any part of such school district to the school district embracing such city. [L. '09, p. 269, § 1.]

Cited in 72 Wash. 455.

§ 4731. [4437.] Adjustment of Property by County Superintendent.

At the time of declaring any territory to be added to the limits of a school district embracing an incorporated city, as provided in the last preceding section, the county superintendent shall make an equitable adjustment of all property, including current funds and taxes, and of all debts and liabilities between the districts involved, and shall certify his action to the board of county commissioners. Before making said adjustment, he shall give not less than ten days' written notice to the directors of each district affected by such change, fixing the time and place of the hearing before him. [L. '09, p. 269, § 2.]

§ 4732. [4438.] Hearing—Procedure as to Adjustment.

At such hearing the county superintendent shall hear testimony offered by any person or school district interested therein pertaining to the value and amount of any school property, of whatever nature, including current funds and taxes, involved in the proposed action, the assessed value of all taxable property in said districts, the nature, amount and value of all bonded, warrant and other indebtedness of each school district affected by the action, including all legal uncompleted obligations then existing; and whenever the territory so added to the school district embracing such incorporated city, shall include a part only of the school districts from which such territory shall be taken, he shall consider the amount of outstanding indebtedness, of each of said school districts, incurred for current expenses, the amount incurred for permanent improvements and the location of such improvements, for the purpose of making such equitable adjustment of all property, debts and liabilities among the districts involved. He shall make a full report of his findings and terms of adjustment, and the decision of said county superintendent shall be final unless appealed from in the manner provided by law, in which case, the decision of the board of county commissioners shall be final. [L. '09, p. 270, § 3.]

§ 4733. [4439.] Corporate Existence Continued Until Indebtedness Paid.

Whenever the territory so added to a school district, embracing an incorporated city, shall include the whole of the school district from which such territory was taken, such district shall retain its corporate existence so far as necessary for that purpose, until its indebtedness as determined by such adjustment shall have been paid in full, and the officers of the district embracing such incorporated city to which its territory shall have been added shall have the power, and it shall be their duty, to provide, by appropriate levies upon such old district or districts, for the payment of such indebtedness: Provided, that when such payment of indebtedness is fully made, the clerk of the district shall enter the fact upon the records of the district, and report the same to the county superintendent of schools. [L. '09, p. 270, § 4.]

CHAPTER XIV.

CONSOLIDATED AND JOINT DISTRICTS.

§ 4734. [4440.] Petition for Consolidated District, Requisites of.

Upon receipt of a petition signed by five heads of families requesting the consolidation of two or more adjoining districts in the same county, the county superintendent shall call a special election of the voters of such school districts at some convenient place, by posting written or printed notices in like manner as is provided for calling annual school district elections, and said notices shall state the object for which the election is called.

Cited in 104 Wash. 661.

After the direct action of a school board in discharging a principal of schools had been reversed by the county superintendent, the board cannot designate a subordinate teacher as "superintendent" of schools and require the principal to work under him, and it is immaterial that this section provides for the election of a superintendent or principal to have charge of the schools, the position and not the name being material: Williams v. School District No. 189, 104 Wash. 659, 177 Pac. 635.

§ 4944. [4610.] Sale of Bonds—Duty of County Treasurer.

At the time named in said notice it shall be the duty of said board of directors to meet with the county treasurer at his office, and with him open said bids, and sell said bonds or any portion thereof to the person or persons making the most advantageous offer: Provided, the bonds shall never be sold below par, and the board of directors may reject any and all bids, and at any time within two years of the election at which authority was granted to issue and sell said bonds, the board of directors may proceed to readvertise the sale of such bonds or any portion thereof as often as may be necessary, until the whole thereof shall be sold; and such board may also require all persons bidding for such bonds, except the state of Washington, to deposit one per centum of the par value of the bonds bid for on depositing with the treasurer their bids, and if the bidder

The county treasurer shall, upon payment of the price agreed upon, deliver the same to the person or persons to whom sold, and place the moneys arising from such sale to the credit of the general school fund of the district: Provided, that where the bonds have been sold for the purchase of schoolhouse site or sites, building one or more schoolhouses and providing same with all necessary furniture, apparatus or equipment, or for any or all of these purposes, he shall place the money derived from such sale to the credit of the building fund of the district, and such fund is hereby created. Fees for advertising shall be deducted from the proceeds: Provided, that if the board of directors and the person or persons to whom the bonds are sold agree that the delivery of said bonds shall be in installments, the county treasurer shall hold said bonds, and deliver to purchasers only on written order of the board of directors to deliver at specified time the bonds designated by number and series. § 4945. [4611.] May Exchange Warrants for Bonds.

If bonds issued under this chapter are not sold as herein provided, the holders of unpaid warrants drawn on the county treasurer by such district for an indebtedness existing at the date of the election may exchange said warrants at the face value thereof and accrued interest thereon for coupon bonds issued under this chapter, at not less than par value and accrued interest of such bonds at the time of the exchange; such exchange to be made under such regulations as may be provided by the board of directors of such district. [L. '09, p. 327, § 5.]

§ 4946. [4612.] Joint Districts.

For the purposes of this chapter a joint school district shall be deemed as belonging to the county in which the schoolhouse is located, if there be a schoolhouse, and if there be no schoolhouse, then it shall be deemed as belonging to the county in which the district owns a schoolhouse site that has been lawfully selected by the electors of the district. [L. '09, p. 327, § 6.]

§ 4947. [4613.*] Bond Interest Levy—Sinking and Redemption Fund.

The county commissioners must ascertain and levy annually, in addition to the school district tax, the tax necessary to pay the interest upon such bonds as it becomes due, and at the expiration of one-half of the time for which said bonds are to run, and annually thereafter, until full payment of said bonds is made, they shall levy, in addition to the tax required to pay the interest such amount for sinking fund to meet the payments of said bonds at maturity, to be determined by dividing the amount of bonds outstanding by the remaining number of years to run, and the fund arising from such levy shall be kept as the bond redemption fund of said district, and each of said tax levies shall be a lien upon the property of said district, and must be collected in the same manner as the taxes for other school purposes: Provided, That the county treasurer, when authorized to do so by the board of directors of any school district, may invest any accumulated or other sinking fund of said district in general bonds or warrants of the state of Washington, or of any school district, city or county therein, if the maturity of the bonds precedes the maturity of the bonds for which said sinking fund is being accumulated, and all profits accruing from such investment and the fund so invested shall revert to the sinking or other fund of said district, and the county treasurer shall be custodian of all bonds or warrants purchased by and with the said sinking fund, until the same are redeemed: And provided further, that the county treasurer, when authorized to do so by the board of directors of any school district, may purchase and redeem any of the outstanding bonds of said district, paying for said bonds out of the accumulated sinking fund of the district; all revenues provided for in this section shall constitute a separate fund, to be known as the bond redemption fund. [L. '21, p. 555, § 2; L. '11, p. 391, § 2. Cf. L. '09, p. 327, § 7; L. '90, p. 48, § 5; 1 H. C., § 2701; L. '97, p. 403, § 121; L. '99, p. 321, § 20; L. '07, p. 197, § 3; L. '07, p. 615, § 10.]

§ 4948. [4614.] Levy in Joint Districts.

In case of a joint school district, the county commissioners of each and every county in which any part of such joint district shall lie, shall levy a tax as hereinbefore provided in section 4946 [4947], and the treasurer of each county in which the schoolhouse or schoolhouse site is not situated shall at least five days before the time at which said bonds or the interest thereon must be paid, according to the conditions of the issuance and sale thereof, transmit to the treasurer of the county in which the schoolhouse or schoolhouse site is situated (and to which the joint school district is construed to belong), all moneys in his possession derived from the tax provided for in this chapter; and the county treasurer receiving such money shall receipt in duplicate to the treasurer or treasurers remitting such funds for such money; and he shall also place the amount or amounts so received to the credit of the special bond fund or funds of the joint school district to which it properly belongs. [L. '09, p. 328, § 8.]

§ 4949. [4615.] Payment of Interest on Bonds.

The county treasurer must pay out of moneys belonging to the credit of the fund of the school district created by section 4947, the interest upon any bonds issued under this chapter by such school district when the same becomes due, at such place as may be designated in the coupons attached to said bonds, or upon the presentation at his office of said coupons, which must show the amount due and the number and series of the bond to which it belongs, and all coupons so paid must be immediately reported to the school directors. [L. '11, p. 392, § 3. Cf. L. '09, p. 329, § 9. Cf. '90, p. 48, § 6; 1 H. C., § 2702; L. '97, p. 404, § 122.]

Section 6 of this act, changed to § 4946, is evidently an error, and § 7 (§ 4947, supra) was probably intended.

§ 4950. [4616.] Bonds Lithographed or Printed.

The school directors of any district must cause to be printed or lithographed, at the lowest rates, suitable bonds, with coupons attached, when the same become necessary, and pay therefor out of the moneys in the county treasury to the credit of the school district. [L. '09, p. 329, § 10. Cf. L. '90, p. 48, § 7; 1 H. C., § 2703; L. '97, p. 404, § 123.]

§ 4951. [4617.] Refunding of Bonds.

Whenever any school district in this state shall have heretofore, under any of the acts of the territorial or state legislatures then in force, lawfully issued any bonds, and the amount of said bonds so issued and negotiated did not, at the time of their issue, exceed the sum of five per centum of the taxable property of the said school district, it shall be lawful for the said school district to issue and exchange its bonds at a rate of interest not greater than that borne by the original issue of bonds, par for par, without any further vote of the school district than that theretofore had or required by existing law at the time of their issue, and said bonds shall, in all respects, conform to and be governed by the other provisions of this act. [L. '09, p. 329, § 11.]

§ 4952. [4618.] Same.

Whenever any bonds lawfully issued by any school district under the provisions of this act shall reach maturity and shall remain unpaid, or may be paid under any option provided in the bonds, the board of directors thereof shall have the power to fund the same by issuing coupon bonds conformable to the requirements of this act and exchange the same, par for par, for the outstanding bonds as aforesaid, without any further vote of the school district: Provided, that such bonds shall be issued in denominations of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, shall be redeemable within twenty years from the date of issue, and shall draw a rate of interest not to exceed six per centum per annum. [L. '09, p. 329, § 12. Cf. L. '90, p. 48, § 8; 1 H. C., § 2704; L. '97, p. 404, § 124.]

§ 4953. [4619.] Holders to Notify County Treasurer—Notice of Redemption.

Every holder of any of the bonds so issued as provided in this act shall within ten (10) days after he shall become the owner or holder thereof, notify the county treasurer of the county in which such bonds are issued of his ownership, together with his full name and postoffice address, and the county treasurer of said county shall, in addition to the published notice hereinafter provided for, deposit in the postoffice, properly stamped and addressed to each owner or holder of any such bonds subject to redemption or payment, a notice in like form, stating the time and place of the redemption of such bonds and the number of the bonds to be redeemed, and in case any owners of bonds shall fail to notify the treasurer of their ownership as aforesaid, then a notice mailed to the last holder of such bonds shall be deemed sufficient, and any and all such notices so mailed as aforesaid shall be deemed to be personal notice to the holders of such bonds, and at the expiration of the time therein named shall have the force to suspend the interest upon any such bonds. [L. '09, p. 330, § 13. Cf. L. '90, p. 49, § 9; 1 H. C., § 2705; L. '97, p. 405, § 125.]

§ 4954. [4620.] Incidental Costs.

At any time after the issuance of such bonds, and in the discharge of the duties imposed upon said county treasurer, should any incidental expense, costs or charges arise, the said county treasurer shall present his claim for the same to the board of directors of the school district issuing such bonds, and the same shall be audited and paid in the same manner as other services are paid under the provisions of law. [L. '09, p. 330, § 14. Cf. L. '90, p. 50, § 10; 1 H. C., § 2706; L. '97, p. 405, § 126.]

Former laws cited in 4 Wash. 398.

§ 4955. [4621.] Notice of Bond Redemption—Cancellation.

Whenever the amount of any sinking fund created under the provisions of this act shall equal the amount, principal and interest of any bond then due, or subject under the pleasure or option of said school district to be paid or redeemed, it shall be the duty of the county treasurer of the county in which the school district issuing such bonds is located, to publish a notice in the official newspaper of the county, if such a one there be, and if not, then in a newspaper of general circulation, that the said county treasurer will within thirty (30) days from the date of such notice, redeem and pay any such bond then redeemable or payable, giving priority according to the date of issue numerically, and upon the presentation of any such bond or bonds the said treasurer shall pay the same; and in case that any holder of such bond or bonds shall fail or neglect to present the same at the time mentioned in said notice, or in the notice hereinbefore provided for, then the interest upon such bond or bonds shall cease and determine, and the treasurer of such county shall thereafter pay only the amount of such bond and the interest accrued thereon up to the day mentioned in said notice. When any bonds are so redeemed or paid, the county treasurer shall cause the same to be fully canceled, and write across the face of such bonds the words "redeemed," with the date of redemption, and shall file the same with the county auditor as vouchers for the sum so paid. When bonds are held by the state of Washington advertising as contemplated and prescribed in the section shall be deemed unnecessary. [L. '11, p. 393, § 4. Cf. L. '09, p. 330, § 15; L. '90, p. 50, § 11; 1 H. C., § 2707; L. '97, p. 405, § 127.]

CHAPTER XXXIV.

VALIDATION OF INDEBTEDNESS AND BONDS THEREFOR.

§ 4956. [4622.] Electors may Validate Indebtedness.

Any school district may validate and ratify the indebtedness of such school district, incurred for strictly school purposes, when the same together with all then outstanding legal indebtedness does not exceed five per centum of the value of the taxable property in such school district. The value of taxable property in such school district shall be ascertained as provided in Article VIII, section 6 of the Constitution of the state of Washington. [L. '09, p. 331, § 1. Cf. L. '95, p. 26, § 1; L. '97, p. 406, § 128.]

Former laws cited in 19 Wash. 120; 39 Wash. 141.

As first enacted, this section was a bonds for the purpose of erecting a high special act and had no reference to an school building: Nichols v. School District, 39 Wash. 137, 81 Pac. 325.

§ 4957. [4623.] Resolution of Board—Vote Necessary.

Whenever the board of directors of any school district shall deem it advisable to validate and ratify the indebtedness mentioned in the preceding section, they shall provide therefor by resolution, which shall be entered on the records of such school district, which resolution shall provide for the holding of an election for the purpose of submitting the question of validating and ratifying the indebtedness so incurred to the voters of such school district for approval or disapproval, and if at such election three-fifths of the voters in such school district voting at such election shall vote in favor of the validation and ratification of such indebtedness, then such indebtedness so validated and ratified and every part thereof existing at the time of the adoption of said resolution shall thereby become and is hereby declared to be validated and ratified and a binding obligation upon such school district, when the only grounds of the previous invalidity of such indebtedness so ratified and invalidated is that at the time of the attempted incurring thereof, the same together with all other then existing indebtedness of such school district, exceeded one and one-half per centum of the taxable property in such school district, as provided in Article VIII, section 6 of the Constitution of the state of Washington, and that such indebtedness was so attempted to be incurred without the assent of three-fifths of the voters of such school district voting at an election held for that purpose, as required by said Constitution. [L. '09, p. 331, § 2. Cf. L. '95, p. 27, § 2; L. '97, p. 406, § 129.]

§ 4958. [4624.] Clerk to Give Notice of Election.

At the time of the adoption of the resolution provided for in the preceding section, the board of directors shall direct the clerk or secretary of the board to give public notice of the time, place or places, and purpose of such election, and specifying the amount and general character of the indebtedness proposed to be ratified. Such clerk or secretary shall thereupon cause written or printed notices to be posted in at least five places in such school district, at least twenty days before such election. Said notice shall also be published for the same length of time in a daily newspaper, printed and published in such district, and if there be no such daily newspaper, then in a weekly newspaper published in this state and of general circulation in the county where such school district is situated, in two regular issues of such weekly newspaper next preceding the day of such election. Said notices shall contain a copy of the resolution mentioned in the preceding section, the time of holding such election and location of polling place or places, a statement of the object of the election, and the form of the ballot adopted by the board to determine the question submitted to the voters. [L. '09, p. 332, § 3. Cf. L. '95, p. 29, § 4; L. '97, p. 408, § 131.]

§ 4959. [4625.] Election, How Held—Ballots, etc.

Elections hereunder shall be by ballot, and conducted in the manner provided for conducting annual school elections. The ballot must contain the words, "Validating and ratifying indebtedness, yes," or the words, "Validating and ratifying indebtedness, no." Ballots containing the words "Validating and ratifying indebtedness, yes," shall be counted in favor of validating and ratifying such indebtedness, and ballots containing the words, "Validating and ratifying indebtedness, no," shall be counted against validating and ratifying such indebtedness. As soon as the polls are closed at such election, the judge at each polling place shall count the votes, ascertain the result and certify the same and make return thereof, within two days after such election, to the board of directors of such district, by depositing the same, together with the ballots cast at such election, with the clerk or secretary of such board, and within five days after such election, or as soon as all the returns of election are deposited as herein provided, the board of directors of such district shall meet and canvass and declare the result, and shall cause to be entered a minute thereof on the records of such district. The qualifications of voters at such election shall be the same as prescribed for the election of school officers. [L. '09, p. 332, § 4. Cf. L. '95, p. 29, § 3; L. '97, p. 407, § 130.]

§ 4960. [4626.] Bonds—Issuance—Form—Seal—Proceeds.

If the indebtedness of such school district is validated and ratified, as provided in this chapter, by three-fifths of the voters voting at such election, the board of directors of such school district, without any further vote, may borrow money and issue negotiable coupon bonds therefor. Bonds so issued shall bear a rate of interest not to exceed six per cent per annum, interest payable semi-annually, payable and redeemable at such time and place as designated in the bonds, but not exceeding twenty years from date of issue. The bonds and coupons shall be in such form as the board of directors shall prescribe, and payable at such place as may be designated therein. In all school districts of the second or third class, said bonds, with the coupons, must be signed by the board of directors and countersigned by the clerk of the school district. In school districts of the first class said bonds, with the coupons, must be signed in the corporate name of the district, by the president of the board of directors thereof, and attested by the secretary of the board, except that the said coupons may bear the lithograph signatures of the said president and secretary. The seal of such district, if such district has a seal, shall be affixed to each bond by the secretary thereof. The moneys arising from the sale of coupon bonds issued under this chapter shall be placed by the treasurer of the county in a special fund to the credit of such school district existing at the time of the adoption of the resolution mentioned in section 4957, not evidenced by negotiable bonds. [L. '09, p. 333, § 5. Cf. L. '95, p. 30, § 5; L. '97, p. 409, § 132.]

§ 4961. [4627.] Amount to be Issued—Advertisement of Sale, etc.

When authorized to issue bonds, as provided in this chapter, the board of directors shall at a meeting of such board, by resolution provide for the issuing of such bonds, prescribing their number, amount and term, and shall deliver a copy of said resolution to the county treasurer of the county in which such school district is situated or to which it belongs as provided in this act, who shall immediately advertise for sale said bonds, and the law relating to other school bonds shall govern, control and apply to bonds issued or sold under this chapter, except that bonds issued under this chapter shall not bear a greater rate of interest than six per cent per annum, and they may be sold in such amounts or blocks as the board of directors may direct, and such board may also require all persons bidding for said bonds, except the state of Washington, to deposit one per cent of the par value of the bonds bid for on depositing with the treasurer their bids, and if the bidder fails to take and pay for the bonds for which he bid, in case of their sale to him, the amount so deposited shall be forfeited to the school district, otherwise to be returned to such bidder and a resale of such bonds so refused to be taken may be made as if the bid for the same had been rejected, and the money arising from the sale of the bonds issued under this chapter shall be applied as provided in the preceding section. [L. '09, p. 334, § 6. Cf. L. '95, p. 30, § 6; L. '97, p. 410, § 133.]

§ 4962. [4628.] Warrants Exchanged for Bonds.

If bonds issued under this chapter are not sold as herein provided, the holders of unpaid warrants drawn on the county treasurer by such district for an indebtedness existing at the time of the adoption of the resolution mentioned in section 4957, may exchange said warrants at the face value thereof and accrued interest thereon for coupon bonds issued under this chapter, at not less than par value and accrued interest of such bonds at the time of the exchange; such exchange to be made under such regulations as may be provided by the board of directors of such district. [L. '09, p. 334, § 7. Cf. L. '95, p. 31, § 7; L. '97, p. 411, § 134.]

§ 4963. [4629.] County Treasurer Notified of Result—Money, How Applied Thereafter.

When the board of directors shall have canvassed and declared the result of the election as prescribed in section 4959, it shall, if the same shall have been in favor of validating and ratifying the indebtedness, immediately cause to be sent to the county treasurer of the county in which such district is situated, notice of the result of said election. The annual expense of such district shall not thereafter exceed the annual revenue thereof, and any officer of such district who shall knowingly aid in increasing the annual expenditure in excess of the annual revenue of such district, shall be deemed to be guilty of misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars. If the indebtedness of such school district, excluding the bonded indebtedness existing before the adoption of said resolution, is not extinguished by the exchange of warrants for bonds, or by the proceeds of the sale of bonds, as herein provided, then it shall be the duty of the board of directors, thirty days before the regular annual tax levy, to certify the amount of such indebtedness remaining unpaid to the board of county commissioners of the county in which such school district is situated, and said board of county commissioners, at the time of making the regular annual tax levy, shall annually levy a special tax on the taxable property of the district not to exceed three mills on the dollar on the valuation of such taxable property, which shall be collected as other taxes are collected, and the proceeds of such tax shall be a special fund for the payment of the indebtedness of such district, not included in bonds, existing at the time of the adoption of the resolution mentioned in section 4957. [L. '09, p. 335, § 8. Cf. L. '95, p. 32, § 8; L. '97, p. 411, § 135.]

Former laws cited in 19 Wash. 120.

§ 4964. [4629½.] Indebtedness of District Merging—Election.

In case any school district has heretofore incurred, or shall hereafter incur, indebtedness for strictly school purposes in excess of one and one-half per cent, and less than five per cent of the assessed valuation of property in such district, and has heretofore, or shall hereafter, become merged in a district of the first class, the directors and clerk of the last-named district may, after such merger, cause to be submitted to the voters within the limits of the district which incurred the obligations, the question of validating and ratifying such indebtedness. The vote shall be taken and the question determined in the manner prescribed in sections 4957, 4958 and 4959. The directors of the district of the first class shall make provisions for payment of the indebtedness so validated by certifying the amount thereof to the county commissioners for a special levy, in the manner prescribed in section 4963: Provided, such district of the first class may pay a part, or all, of such validating indebtedness from any funds available or by issuing bonds therefor, under the following conditions: When such district of the first class has taken over property of any district without an adjustment and apportionment of property and of indebtedness, as provided in sections 4731 and 4732, the directors of the enlarged district shall make such adjustment and apportionment, as of the time of merger, and may pay such validated indebtedness to the extent that the value of the property received shall be found to exceed the total indebtedness of the district annexed. [L. '13, p. 416, § 1.]

§ 4965. Warrants Payable to School Directors.

Whenever any third class school district in any county of the sixth class of the state of Washington has issued, or caused to be issued, any warrants during the years 1918 and 1919, payable to any director of such school district for services actually rendered such school district, but which have not been paid because issued in violation of the law prohibiting a school director from being financially interested in any contract for services to the school district of which he is a director, such warrants are hereby validated, and the county treasurer of the county in which any such school district is located is hereby authorized and directed to pay any such warrants from any of the general funds of such school district. [L. '21, p. 754, § 1.]

This certificate shall authorize the holder to teach in any grade of elementary schools of this state and shall be valid for five (5) years, and may be renewed for a like period if application is made not later than ninety (90) days after certificate expires, and if, during the life of the certificate the holder has complied with the following provisions, to wit: An attendance of eighteen (18) weeks at an accredited institution of higher learning in which elementary teachers are trained during the life of the certificate when satisfactory work is done in at least three (3) subjects and certified to by the principal or president of such school.

§ 5019. Partial Invalidity.

If any part of this act shall be adjudged to be invalid or unconstitutional, such adjudication or [of] invalidity or unconstitutionality shall not affect the validity or constitutionality of the act as a whole, or of any part thereof not adjudged invalid or unconstitutional. [L. '17, p. 758, § 25.]

§ 5020. Tax Levies for Benefit of Retirement Fund.

If at the time of making the annual estimate of receipts and disbursements, as provided in section 5007, it shall appear that the total estimated receipts for the current fiscal year together with the total assets of the fund at the close of the preceding fiscal year, will be insufficient to meet the total estimated disbursements for the current fiscal year, it shall be the duty of the secretary of the board of trustees to certify the amount of such deficiency to the board of directors on or before the third Monday in July, and it shall be the duty of the board of directors to report to the board of county commissioners the amount required to make up such deficiency with the annual estimate of the amount required for the support of the schools of the district and the board of county commissioners shall include such amount in the general tax levy for the district, and the same shall be collected as other taxes and when collected shall be credited to the teachers' retirement fund of the district, provided, however, that the amount of such levy for the benefit of any retirement fund shall not in any year exceed a sum equal to the total amount contributed to the fund by its members during the preceding fiscal year. [L. '19, p. 418, § 5.]

§ 5022. [4658.] Election, Notice of, etc.

The district clerk must give at least ten days' notice of such school election, by posting or causing to be posted, written or printed notices thereof in at least three public places in the district, one of which must be the place of holding the election. Said notice must designate the place of holding the election, day of holding the election, hours between which the polls are to be kept open, names and offices for which persons are

In no case shall the polls be opened before the hour named in the notice, nor kept open after the hour fixed for closing the polls, but if there is not a sufficient number of electors present at the hour named for opening the polls to constitute a board of election, it shall be lawful to open the polls as soon thereafter as a sufficient number of electors is present. [L. '09, p. 346, § 2. Cf. L. '90, p. 375, § 55; 1 H. C., § 822; L. '97, p. 417, § 150.]

Elections for the purpose of authorizing an increase of the debt limit of school districts may properly be held under the general provisions of law concerning the holding of annual and special school elections: Holmes & Bull F. Co. v. Hedges, 13 Wash. 696, 43 Pac. 944.

Under Article VI, § 2, of the Constitution, women possessing certain qualifications have the right to vote at all school elections: Holmes & Bull F. Co. v. Hedges, 13 Wash. 696, 43 Pac. 944.

The successful candidate having received six hundred and fifty votes as against two hundred and eighty for the defeated candidate, the latter must allege and prove, in order to overthrow the election, that had the polls been kept open until 8 P. M. the result would have been different: State ex rel. Bailey v. Smith, 4 Wash. 661, 30 Pac. 1064.

If notice of election, published by the clerk of a school district, notified the electors that the polls would be open until 7 P. M., instead of 8 P. M., as required by statute, the clerk, being himself a candidate, cannot take advantage of his own error: State ex rel. Bailey v. Smith, supra.

On appeal from a judgment ousting the appellant from the office of school clerk, he is entitled (L. '91, p. 341) to file a bond staying proceedings pending the appeal, and it is the duty of the trial judge to order and fix the amount thereof: State ex rel. Smith v. Sachs, 3 Wash. 96, 27 Pac. 1075.

At the hour fixed for opening the polls the electors present shall select two electors to act as judges of the election and one elector to act as clerk of the election, and the three selected shall constitute the election board; and no election shall be held unless an election board is so constituted and qualified. The judges and clerk aforesaid shall, before entering upon the duties of their office, severally take and subscribe an oath or affirmation faithfully to discharge the duties as such officers of election, said oath or affirmation to be administered by any school officer or any other person authorized to administer oaths. The judges shall, before they commence receiving ballots, cause to be proclaimed aloud at the place of voting that the polls are now open. [L. '09, p. 347, § 3. Cf. L. '90, p. 376, § 56; 1 H. C., § 823; L. '97, p. 418, § 151.]

§ 5024. [4660.] Form and Reception of Ballot.

The voting shall be by ballot. The ballots shall be of white paper of uniform size and quality containing the names of the persons for whom the electors intend to vote, and designating the office to which such person so named is intended by him to be chosen. Whenever any person offers to vote, one of the judges shall pronounce his name in an audible voice, and if there be no objections to the qualifications of such person as an elector, he shall receive the ballot in the presence of the election board and deposit the same without being opened or examined in the ballot-box, and the clerk shall immediately enter the name upon the list headed "Names of voters." [L. '09, p. 347, § 4. Cf. L. '90, p. 376, § 57; 1 H. C., § 824; L. '97, p. 418, § 152.]

Persons offering to vote may be challenged by any legally qualified school elector of the district, and one of the judges of election shall thereupon, before receiving his vote, administer to the person challenged an oath in substance as follows: "You do swear (or affirm), that you are a citizen of the United States, that you are twenty-one years of age, according to your information and belief, and that you have resided in this district thirty days next preceding this election, and in the state one year, and that you have not voted before on this day." If he shall refuse to take the oath, his vote will be rejected. Any person guilty of illegal voting shall be punished as provided in the general election laws of the state. [L. '09, p. 348, § 5. Cf. As soon as the polls are closed the judges shall open the ballot-box and commence counting the votes, and in no case shall the ballot-box be removed from the room in which the election is held until all the votes are counted. The counting shall be in public. The ballots shall be taken out one by one, by one of the judges, who shall open them and read aloud the name of each person contained therein, and the office for which such person was voted for. The clerk shall write down each office to be filled and the name of such person voted for such office, and shall keep the number of votes by tallies as they are read aloud by one of the judges. The counting of the votes shall continue without adjournment until all the votes are counted. No ticket shall be rejected on account of form or mistake in the initials, or spelling of names, if the judges can determine to their satisfaction the person voted for and the office intended. After the result of the election is duly canvassed and officially declared, the clerk of the election shall forward the poll sheet thereof to the county superintendent, who shall preserve the same on file in his office. [L. '09, p. 348, § 6. Cf. L. '90, p. 377, § 59; 1 H. C., § 826; L. '97, p. 419, § 154.]

In a proceeding for an injunction to restrain the issuance of school district warrants, authorized at a special election for the purpose of erecting a high school building, the final return of the canvassing board, declaring the result, after canvassing the votes, regularly made and not impeached for fraud, nor attacked in any proceeding to obtain a review thereof, is final and conclusive on the courts as to the number of votes cast: Nichols v. School District, 39 Wash. 137, 81 Pac. 325.

§ 5027. [4663.] Certificates of Election—Tie Votes.

Persons having the highest number of votes given for each office shall be declared duly elected, and the clerk of election shall immediately make out and deliver to each person so elected a certificate of election. The clerk of election shall also make out a certificate showing the persons elected to each office at such election, with oaths of office of persons elected attached, and mail such certificates and oaths to the superintendent of schools of the county in which the election is held. If two persons have an equal and highest number of votes for one and the same office, they shall, within ten days after the election, appear before the clerk of election of said district and publicly decide by lot which of the persons so having an equal number of votes shall be declared elected, and the clerk of election shall make out and deliver to the person thus declared elected a certificate of his election, and notify the county superintendent of the county as before provided. If the persons above named do not, within ten days after election, thus decide, the office shall be declared vacant by the clerk of election, and the county superintendent shall, when notified of the vacancy, fill the same by appointment. [L. '09, p. 349, § 7. Cf. L. '90, p. 378, § 60; 1 H. C., § 827; L. '97, p. 420, § 155.]

The requirement of this section, as to published notice of school elections is but directory, and notwithstanding notice was published only two days instead of three, it will not invalidate an election, § 5066. [4708.] Basis of Appeal.

The basis of appeal shall be an affidavit or affidavits of the party aggrieved, filed within the time for the taking of such appeal, setting forth in a clear and concise manner the errors complained of. [L. '09, p. 363, § 3. Cf. L. '90, p. 366, § 32; 1 H. C., § 797; L. '97, p. 376, § 47.]

This section of the school code, being later in time, controls earlier sections, so far as there is a conflict: State ex rel. Calouri v. Stratton, 108 Wash. 485, 185 Pac. 610.

Under this section, certiorari lies to review decisions on appeal from the county superintendent, notwithstanding the earlier section 5065, supra, provides that decisions on appeal by the board shall be final: State ex rel. Calouri v. Stratton, 108 Wash. 485, 185 Pac. 610.

Under this section, and section 5065, supra, appeal lies to the board from the school superintendent, and certiorari lies to the courts from the board but not from the school superintendent: State ex rel. Calouri v. Stratton, 108 Wash. 485, 185 Pac. 610.

§ 5070. [4712.] Notice and Record of Decisions.

Decisions of appeal shall be made a matter of record in full, and certified copies of the same shall be made if asked for by the parties interested within ten days of such decision. COMPULSORY EDUCATION.

Truant schools, see infra, § 11310 et seq.

State training school: See supra, § 4519 et seq., and infra, § 10299 et seq.

State school for girls, see supra, § 4631.

§ 5072. [4714.] Attendance—Age—When Excused.

All parents, guardians and other persons in this state having or who may hereafter have immediate custody of any child between eight and fifteen years of age (being between the eighth and fifteenth birthdays), or of any child between fifteen and sixteen years of age (being between the fifteenth and sixteenth birthdays) not regularly and lawfully engaged in some useful and remunerative occupation, shall cause such child to attend the public school of the district, in which the child resides, for the full time when such school may be in session or to attend a private school for the same time, unless the superintendent of the schools of the district in which the child resides, if there be such a superintendent, and in all other cases the county superintendents of common schools, shall have excused such child from such attendance because the child is physically or mentally unable to attend school or has already attained a reasonable proficiency in the branches required by law to be taught in the first eight grades of the public schools of this state as provided by the course of study of such school, or for some other sufficient reason. Proof of absence from public schools or approved private school shall be prima facie evidence of a violation of this section. [L. '09, p. 364, § 1. Cf. L. '97, p. 385, § 71; L. '99, p. 280, et seq.; L. '01, p. 379, § 11; L. '03, p. 55, § 1; L. '05, p. 316, § 1; L. '07, p. 569, § 1; L. '07, p. 613, § 7.]

This section does not require the attendance of children in common schools of the state or private schools; hence does not tend to show that a model training school in a state normal school is either a common or private school, within the meaning of the law relating to the apportionment of state school funds: State ex rel. School District No. 3 v. Preston, 79 Wash. 286, 140 Pac. 350.

Every owner, superintendent, or overseer of any establishment, corporation, company or person employing any such child shall keep such certificate on file so long as such child is employed by him, her or it. The form of said certificate shall be furnished by the superintendent of public instruction. Proof that any child under fifteen years of age is employed during any part of the period in which public schools of the district are in session, shall be deemed prima facie evidence of a violation of this section. [L. '09, p. 365, § 2. Cf. L. '03, p. 56, § 2; L. '05, p. 316, § 2; L. '07, p. 569, § 2.]

The attendance officer is authorized to take into custody the person of any child between eight and fifteen years of age, who may be a truant from school, and to conduct such child to his parents, for investigation and explanation, or to the school which he should properly attend. The attendance officer shall institute proceedings against any officer, parent, guardian, person, company or corporation violating any provisions of this act, and shall otherwise discharge the duties prescribed in this act, and shall perform such other services as the superintendent of schools or the board of directors may deem necessary. The attendance officer shall keep a record of his transactions, for the inspection and information of the board of directors and the city and county superintendent, and shall make a detailed report to the superintendent of the city or of the county, as often as the same may be required. [L. '09, p. 365, § 4. Cf. L. '05, p. 317, § 4; L. '07, p. 570, § 4.]

The justice of the peace shall, if he be convinced that the child so arrested is a habitual truant or that the child is guilty of willful and continued disobedience to the school rules and regulations or laws, or that the conduct of the child is pernicious and injurious to the school, bind the child over to the superior court with a view of his commitment to the state reform school or other school for incorrigibles. [L. '09, p. 366, § 5. Cf. L. '05, p. 317, § 5; L. '07, p. 571, § 5.]

§ 5174. [4801.*] Nominations—Publication.

At any time not less than three days nor more than ten days before the election to fill any public office other than a municipal office, the clerk of the board of county commissioners of each county, shall cause to be published once in one or more newspapers within the county, the nominations to office, certified to him under the provisions of this chapter, but if there be no paper published within the county, written or printed notices shall be posted in not less than three conspicuous places in such precinct. In municipal elections such declination must be made at least ten days before the election. [L. '21, p. 701, § 3; L. '90, p. 404, § 11; 1 H. C., § 373.]

§ 5176. [4803.] Vacancies, Manner of Filling—Nominations for.

Should any person so nominated die before the printing of the tickets, or decline the nomination as in this chapter provided, or should any certificate of nomination be or become insufficient or inoperative from any cause, the vacancy or vacancies thus occasioned may be filled in the manner required for original nominations. If the original nomination was made by a party convention which had delegated to a committee the power to fill vacancies, or by primary election, the committee of the political party he represents may, upon the occurring of such vacancy, proceed to fill the same. The chairman and secretary of such committee shall thereupon make and file with the proper officer a certificate setting forth the cause of the vacancy, the name of the person nominated, the office for which he was nominated, the name of the person for whom the new nominee is to be substituted, the fact that the committee was authorized to fill vacancies, and such further information as is required to be given in an original certificate or nomination. The certificate so made shall be executed in the manner prescribed for the original certificate of nomination, and shall have the same force and effect as an original certificate of nomination. When such certificate shall be filed with the secretary of state, he shall, in certifying the nominations to the various county clerks [auditors], insert the name of the person who has thus been nominated to fill a vacancy in place of that of the original nominee. And in the event that he has already sent forth his certificate, he shall forthwith certify to the clerks of the boards of county commissioners of the proper counties the name and place of residence of the person so nominated to fill a vacancy, the office he is nominated for, the party or political principle he represents, and the name of the person for whom such nominee is substituted. That a primary election law tends to destroy political parties, which are of general utility and necessity, is a political rather than a judicial question, which cannot be urged upon the courts as affecting the constitutionality of the law: State ex rel. Zent v. Nichols, 50 Wash. 508, 97 Pac. 728.

§ 5178. [4805.] Application of Act—Special and Other Elections not Included.

Hereafter, all candidates for elective offices in this state, either state, county, municipal, precinct or congressional, shall be nominated at a direct primary election held in pursuance of this act: Provided, that this act shall not be held to refer to special elections for filling the vacancies of unexpired terms, or to election to offices of any city or town of the fourth class or for any school, dike, irrigation or metropolitan park district or other local improvement elections, or for presidential electors: Provided, further, that the provisions of this act shall not apply to nomination of candidates for municipal elective offices in cities of the first class which have adopted or may hereafter adopt charters under section 10, Article XI of the state Constitution, where such charters have provided or may hereafter provide a nonpartisan method or methods of nominating candidates for municipal elective offices; and all such cities shall have the right and power to provide in their charters for any method or methods of nonpartisan nomination of candidates for their elective offices as they may desire. AMENDED ACT.

§ 5189-1. [4815.*] Party Ballots—Designation of Choice—Challenges—Method of Voting.

Every qualified person, properly registered as a voter in his election precinct, shall be entitled to participate in the primary election. When he desires to vote at said primary each elector shall have the right to receive the ballot only of the party for which he asks; and in the latter event, he shall, if challenged, be required to make oath or affirmation that he intends to affiliate with said party at the ensuing election and intends to support its candidates generally. Thereupon he shall retire to one of the booths and without undue delay mark the ballot received by him and fold it so that its face shall be concealed. He shall thereafter deliver said ballot received by him to the election officers. In the event said voter shall soil or deface the ballot he desires to vote he shall at once return the ballot received by him and get a new ballot and the election officers shall destroy or render unfit for use the ballot so returned. The elector shall designate his choice on his ballot by making a cross in each of the small squares nearest the names of the candidates for whom he desires to vote and shall not vote for more candidates for an office than are to be elected thereto at the election to follow the primary election as indicated on the ballot at the right of each office for which candidates are to be selected. As nearly as possible an equal number of ballots shall be printed after each change. In making the changes of position, the printer shall take the line of type at the head of each office division and place it at the bottom of the division, and shove up the column so that the name that before was second, shall be first, after the change. After the ballots are printed they shall be kept in separate piles, one pile for each change of position, and shall then be gathered by taking one from each pile; the intention being that every other ballot in such pile shall have the names in a different position. The precinct committeemen of each party entitled to participate in the September primaries shall be elected at the September primaries.

Any elector duly registered to vote in his precinct may file, at a cost of one dollar, with the county auditor, a declaration of candidacy for precinct committeemen for the party only with which he is duly registered, and for the election precinct in which he resides. Said filing shall be in all respects and follow the form provided in section 5180-1, and be governed by its provisions. The name of such candidates so filing for precinct committeemen shall be printed or stamped upon the ballot provided for in section 5187: Provided, that nothing herein contained shall prevent any voter from writing in on the ticket the name of one qualified registered elector of the precinct, for member of the party committee of the party with which said elector is registered. (b) The party committee of each county shall consist of the precinct committeemen from the several precincts of such county. The state committee shall consist of one committeeman from each county, elected by the county committee: Provided, that the state committee of each party may, by resolution duly passed, provide for the election of the state committeemen of each county by the county convention to be held in accordance with the provisions of this act. The county committee shall meet for the purpose of electing the state committeemen, and for the purpose of organization, at the courthouse at the county seat of each county at 2 o'clock P. M. on the second Saturday after the primary election, unless some other time and place of such meeting shall be designated by a regular call of the properly authorized officers of the retiring committee. The county auditors of the various counties shall issue certificates of election to the said committeemen as is provided in the case of other primary nominations.

(c). Each county committee shall have power to make its own rules and regulations, to call conventions, to provide for the election of delegates to such county conventions, to fill all vacancies on the ticket, to delegate the whole or any part of its functions to duly authorized and elected officers or committees, and to perform all other functions regularly inherent in such organizations for political purposes, the same as though this act had not been passed.

(d) The state committee shall have the power to make its own rules and regulations, to call conventions, state, district, and national, to provide for nominating presidential electors, to fill all vacancies which may occur on the ticket, to delegate the whole or any part of its functions to duly authorized and elected officers or committees, and to perform all other functions usually inherent in organizations for political purposes. [L. '21, p. 682, § 1. Cf. L. '07, p. 468, § 22; L. '09, p. 175, § 6.]

This section is subjected to referendum and suspended until November, 1922.

§ 5199. [4827.*] Nominations—Number of Votes Required.

Candidates for party offices who receive a plurality of the votes cast for such candidates shall be the party nominees of such party: Provided, however, that no person who has offered himself as a candidate for nomination on one party ticket shall have his name printed on the ballot of another political party in the succeeding general election.

In the event that there are more than one position of the same kind to be filled and more candidates of any political party receive majorities of the votes of such party cast at such election than there are positions to be filled, then in that event the number of candidates equal to the number of positions to be filled receiving the highest number of votes shall be the nominees of such political party for such positions. [L. '19, p. 473, § 18. Cf. L. '07, p. 468, § 23.]

§ 5201. [4828.] Canvass of Returns—Report of Canvass—Contents—Tie Votes—Notice of Nomination—Vacancies.

Said state canvassing board shall meet at the office of the secretary of state on the third Tuesday at 10 o'clock A. M. next after the September primary. As soon as said board has canvassed said vote it shall file a certificate with the secretary of state which certificate shall show the vote of each candidate of each political party for each office. A copy of such certificate shall be published once in some newspaper published at the state capital, which publication shall be made by the secretary of state immediately after the same is filed in his office. The vote for all county, city and municipal officers shall be canvassed and the returns made by the same officers and in the same manner as returns of the votes cast at general elections are by law now required to be made. Such canvassing board and other officers canvassing votes cast at such primary elections shall file with the proper officer a statement and report of such canvass which statement and report of said primary election shall contain:

If two or more of the candidates of the same political party are "tied" for the same office, the "tie" shall be determined by a lot to be cast then and there by and as the canvassing board may determine. It shall be the duty of the county auditor upon the completion of its canvass by the canvassing board to immediately mail, or deliver, in person to each candidate so nominated, a notice of such fact and that his name will be placed upon the official ballot at the ensuing election. The persons whose names are so placed in said statement of nomination shall be and constitute the nominees of the said political parties of which they are candidates, and such names shall be printed upon the official ballot prepared for the ensuing election. No names of candidates of any political party which is required to make nominations under this act shall be placed upon the official election ballot, unless such candidate shall have been chosen in accordance with this act, except in cases of a vacancy occasioned by the death, removal or resignation of any candidate so chosen, or arising otherwise, and in such a case the campaign or party committee of the political party on whose ticket the same occurs, or if there be no such committee, then a convention of such party may fill such vacancy. The name of such new candidate shall be certified under oath to the county auditor, or the city clerk, as the case may be, by the chairman and secretary of said committee or convention. [L. § 5212. [4842.*] Supreme and Superior Court Judges—Nomination—Ballots—Form.

When there are to be elected at any general election one or more judges of the supreme court, the candidates for each respective office whose names are to be placed on the general election ticket shall be determined as follows: The number of candidates equaling the number of judicial positions to be filled who receive the highest number of votes at the primary election, and an equal number of candidates for such positions, providing there are such candidates, who receive the next highest number of votes, shall be the candidates for such respective offices and their names shall appear on the general election ballot under the designation of such respective offices: Provided, however, that where any candidate for any such office shall receive a majority of all votes cast at such primary election for such office, the name or names of such candidates receiving such majority shall be printed separately on the general election ballot, under the designation "Vote for —," and the name or names of no opposing candidate or candidates shall be printed on such ballot in opposition to such candidate or candidates, but spaces equaling the number of such majority candidates shall be left following such name or names, in which the voter may insert the name of any person for whom he wishes to cast his ballot. Following the names of such majority candidates, under the designation "Vote for —," the names of the minority candidates who have received the highest number of votes at the primary election equal to twice the number of the remaining places to be filled shall be printed: Provided further, that the secretary of state, in certifying to the several county auditors of the state the names of candidates for judges of the supreme court shall specify the names of those who have received a majority vote at such primary election, together with the names of the minority candidates who are entitled to have their names placed upon the official ballot. For the purpose of determining whether any candidate or candidates shall have received a majority of the votes cast under the provisions of this section the number of votes cast shall be determined by adding together the number of votes cast for each candidate and dividing the sum of such votes by the number of positions to be filled, and any candidate who receives a number of votes in excess of one-half of the votes cast as thus determined shall be deemed to have received a majority of the votes cast. If it shall appear that a number of candidates in excess of the number of positions to be filled shall have received a majority of votes cast, then there shall be printed upon the ballot only the names of the candidates who received the highest number of votes and equal to the number of places to be filled. Where a vacancy or other cause shall necessitate the election of a judge of the supreme court for a short term, and at the same election one or more judges are to be elected for the full term candidates may announce themselves for either the short or full term, and the ballots shall be arranged accordingly. Where there are to be elected at any general election one or more judges of the superior court of any county or judicial district the candidates for each respective office whose names are to be placed on the general election ticket shall be determined as follows: Not less than ten days before the time for filing declaration of candidacy, the secretary of state or the county auditor, as the case may be, shall designate by number each position to be filled upon the superior court of the county or judicial district. Each candidate at the time of the filing of his declaration of candidacy shall designate by the number so assigned, the position for which he is a candidate and the name of such candidate shall appear on the ballot only for such position. The name of the person who received the greatest number of votes and of the person who received the next greatest number of votes for each position, shall appear on the general election ballot under the designation for each such respective office: Provided, however, that where any candidate for such office shall receive a majority of all votes cast at such primary election for such office, the name of such candidate receiving such majority shall be printed separately on the general election ballot under the designation "Vote for One" and the name of no opposing candidate shall be printed on such ballot in opposition to such candidate, but one space shall be left following such name in which the voter may insert the name of any person for whom he wishes to cast his ballot. The names of all such candidates for such judicial offices shall appear on the general election ballot under the heading "Judicial ticket." There shall be a separate ballot for the candidates for nomination for such judicial offices, for use in the primary election, and such ballots shall be printed, delivered, voted and counted as hereinbefore provided for the general primary election ballot: Provided, that any voter shall have the privilege of voting this ticket alone. The form of said ballot shall be substantially as follows:

It shall be the duty of the judges of said election to entertain objections made by any qualified elector under said published call or notice to any vote which may be offered, on the ground that the person offering it is not entitled to vote under the terms of said call for said election, or that he is not a citizen of the United States, or a legal resident and voter under the general election laws of the state, in the election precinct, ward, township, or district for which the election is held, or that he has received or been promised, directly or indirectly, any money, fee, or reward for his vote for any candidate, or that he has voted before at that place, or some other place, on that day, or at the same election; and it shall be the duty of one of the judges of the election, if such objection be not withdrawn, to administer to the person so offering to vote an oath or affirmation to the general effect that he will truly testify to all matters relating to his qualifications, under said published call or notice, and under the general election laws of the state. It shall then be the duty of the judges to interrogate the person so objected to as to all matters in particular upon which said objection was made, and generally as to all of his qualifications as an elector at such election. If the person so objected to shall refuse to answer any questions asked, after said oath, or affirmations shall have been administered, or shall refuse to take such oath, it shall be the duty of the judges to reject such vote; and they shall also reject such vote, unless such person shall file with them a written or printed, or partly written or partly printed, statement, by him signed, that he is a qualified voter of the election district in which such election is held, and entitled to vote at such election; and unless such statement shall be accompanied by a similar statement of some person known to at least one of the judges to be a qualified voter in that district, to the effect that he knows the person so challenged, and that his statement is true, which said last statement must also be subscribed by the party making it. If such statements shall be filed, and such oath be taken, and such questions answered in such a manner as to show that the applicant is qualified to vote at such election, it shall be the duty of the judges of the election to receive such vote, and the word "sworn" shall be noted opposite the person's name on the poll-list, to be kept as hereinafter provided. Any violation of the provisions of this section by the judges or clerks of the election, or either of them, shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall subject the party so offending to punishment by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than three hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than two nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court; and any person who shall, upon taking such oath or affirmation, and under the examination herein authorized, willfully make a false statement as to a matter pertinent and material in

The county auditor shall cause official ballots to be numbered consecutively beginning with number 1, for each separate voting precinct.

Ninth. Official ballots for a given precinct shall not contain the names of nominees for justices of the peace and constables of any other precinct except in cases of municipalities where a number of precincts vote for the same nominee for justices of the peace and constables and in the latter case the ballots shall contain only the names to be voted for by the electors of such precinct. Each party column shall be two and five-eighths inches wide.

Tenth. On the top of each of said ballots and extending across the party groups, there shall be printed instructions directing the voters how to mark the ballot before the same shall be deposited with the judges of election. Next after the instructions and before the party group shall be placed the questions of adopting constitutional amendments or any other question authorized by law to be submitted to the voters of such election. The arrangement of the ballot shall in general conform as nearly as possible to the form hereinafter given.

INSTRUCTIONS.—Mark \times in \bigcirc under party name, for whose candidate you wish to vote.

If you desire to vote for any candidate of any other party place \times in \square at the right of the name of such candidate.

§ 5276. [4895.] Error of Omission of Name from, How Cured.

Whenever it shall appear by affidavit that an error or omission has occurred in the publication of the names of the candidates nominated for office, or in the printing of the ballots, the superior court of the county may, upon application of any elector, by order, require the clerk of the board of county commissioners or municipal clerk to correct such error, or to show cause why such error should not be corrected. § 5277. [4896.] When and to Whom Delivered.

Before the opening of the polls, the clerk of the board of county commissioners (or the municipal clerk in the case of municipal elections) shall cause to be delivered to the judges of election of each election precinct which is within the county (or within the municipality in case of municipal elections), and in which the election is to be held, at the polling place of the precinct, the proper number of ballots provided for in section 5275 of this chapter. The ballots shall be given to the inspector of each election precinct; but in case it may be impracticable to deliver such ballots to the inspector, then they may be delivered to one of the judges of election of any such precinct, and in making the appointment of judges of election under this chapter and other election laws of this state, not more than a majority of such judges of election shall be appointed from any one political party for each precinct. § 5278. [4897.] Provision for Polling Places—Division of Precincts.

The inspectors of election shall provide in their respective polling place a sufficient number of places, booths or compartments, which shall be furnished with such supplies and conveniences as shall enable the voter conveniently to prepare his ballot for voting, and in which electors may mark their ballots, screened from observation, and a guard-rail so constructed that only persons within such rail can approach within fifty feet of the ballot-boxes, or the places, booths or compartments herein provided for. The number of such places, booths or compartments shall not be less than one for every fifty electors or fraction thereof registered in the precinct, or voting at the last preceding election where there is no registration. In precincts containing less than twenty-five voters, the election may be conducted under the provisions of this act without the preparation of such booths or compartments as required in this section. No person other than electors engaged in receiving, preparing or depositing their ballots, or a person present for the purpose of challenging the vote of an elector about to cast his ballot, shall be permitted to be within said rail, and in case of small precincts where places, booths or compartments are not required, no person engaged in preparing their ballots shall in any way be interfered with by any person, unless it be someone authorized by the provisions of this act to assist him or them in preparing his or their ballot. The expense of providing such places or compartments and guard-rails shall be a public charge, and shall be provided for in the same manner as the other election expenses. Subsequent to the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November and prior to the first day of December thereafter, the officers charged by law with the division or alteration of election precincts shall, as far as necessary, alter or divide the existing election precincts in such manner that each election precinct shall not contain more than three hundred voters. § 5279. [4898.] Delivery of Ballots to Electors—Challenge.

At any election it shall be the duty of the inspector, or one of the judges of election, to deliver ballots to the qualified electors. Any elector desiring to vote shall give his name to the inspector or one of the judges, who shall then, in an audible tone of voice, announce the same, whereupon a challenge may be interposed in the manner provided by law. If no challenge be interposed, or if the challenge be overruled, the inspector or one of the judges shall give him a ballot, at the same time calling to the clerks of election the number of such ballot. In precincts where there is a registration of voters it shall be the duty of such clerks to write the number of the ballot against the name of such elector as the same appears upon the certified copy of poll-books of registration in their possession. In precincts where there are no registration of voters, it shall be the duty of the clerks to transcribe the name of the elector in the poll-books, and against such name the number of the ballot delivered to the elector. Each qualified elector shall be entitled to receive from the said judges one ballot. [L. '90, p. 409, § 22; 1 H. C., § 384; L. '95, p. 391, § 7.]

§ 5280. [4898-1.*] Authorizing Absent Voting.

Any elector of the state who believes that he will be unavoidably absent from his home, and more than twenty-five miles distant from the precinct in which he is qualified to vote, may vote at general elections to be held for federal, United States senatorial and congressional, state or legislative officers, or propositions, or at any primary held for the purpose of nomination for any such election, in the manner provided for in this act. § 5281. [4898-2.*] Certificate of Home Registration Officer—Oath.

Any elector desiring to vote at any primary or general election under the provisions of this act shall, not more than twenty days prior to any such general or primary election, procure a certificate from the registration officer of the home precinct of said elector certifying that said registration officer is personally acquainted with said elector; that said elector is duly registered and qualified to vote in said home precinct, stating the place of residence of said elector; that said elector has in the presence of said registration officer affixed his signature to said certificate at a place to be designated "for Signature of Absent Voter"; which certificate shall be executed and signed in duplicate, the registration officer retaining one in his permanent files; and the elector shall in person, at any time not less than six days prior to any such general or primary election, present said certificate to the county auditor of the county of his residence, and shall make, subscribe and file with the county auditor an affidavit as follows:

§ 5282. [4898-3.*] Method of Voting.

Upon the making and filing of the affidavit provided for in the preceding section, the auditor shall compare the signature thereon with the signature upon the certificate presented therewith, and if he is satisfied that the signatures are made by the same person, and if the official ballots for such general or primary election are in the possession of the auditor, he shall deliver to the elector a blank ballot for such election, or in the case of a primary election a blank ballot of the party for the candidate of which the elector desires to vote, and also a small envelope that shall have no mark upon it which may serve to identify it or the ballot within it with the voter; also a larger envelope upon which there shall be printed the name and postoffice address of the auditor issuing the same, and a blank affidavit in the following form:

State of ——— }

I, ———, do solemnly swear that I am a resident of and a qualified voter in ——— precinct of ——— city in ——— county, Washington; that I have the legal right to vote at the election to be held in said precinct on the ——— day of ———, 19—, and that I have herein inclosed my ballot for such election, duly marked as required by law in the presence of ———, a ——— in and for ——— county, state of ———.

(Seal)

(Signed) ———, ——— ————— in and for the county of ——— state of ——— the day and year in this certificate first above written.

Upon receiving such blank ballot and envelope the voter shall proceed, in the presence of the auditor, to mark the ballot in such manner that the auditor cannot see his vote, and fold, inclose and seal the ballot in the smaller envelope, and then inclose the smaller envelope containing the ballot in the larger envelope, and make, subscribe and swear to the affidavit printed on the larger envelope, and deliver such larger envelope, together with his certificate of registration, to the auditor, who shall file and safely keep the same until the votes are canvassed as hereinafter provided, and shall immediately notify the officer having possession of the registration-books of precinct of the voter of the fact that such voter has voted, and the registration officer shall thereupon note upon the registration-books opposite the name of the voter, in the column provided for that purpose, the word "Voted." [L. '21, p. 530, § 3; L. '15, p. 692, § 3; L. '17, p. 714, § 3.]

§ 5283. Procedure When Ballots not Ready for Delivery to Elector.

In case the official ballots for the ensuing election are not in the possession of the auditor at the time the elector requests the right to vote as an absent voter as in this act provided, the auditor shall take from the elector a written statement giving his name and the address, which address shall be more than twenty-five miles from his home precinct, to which he desires to have a ballot sent, and in case of a primary election a statement of the party for the candidates of which the elector desires to vote, and shall return to the voter his certificate of registration. As soon as the auditor shall receive the official ballots, he shall forward to the absent elector at the address given on the statement a blank ballot of the kind requested, together with the blank smaller and larger envelopes provided for in the preceding sections, and shall notify the registration officer of the absent voter's precinct of the fact that he has issued and mailed to the absent voter such ballot, and the registration officer shall thereupon note upon the registration-books opposite the name of the voter, in the column provided for noting the votes cast, the word "Absent."

The elector upon receiving the blank ballot and envelopes shall have the right thereupon to appear before any officer of any city, county or state authorized by law to administer oaths, and present his certificate of registration and identify himself by making his signature in the presence of the officer for comparison with that upon the certificate of registration, and shall then first display the blank ballot to such officer as evidence that the same is unmarked, and then proceed to mark the ballot in the presence of such officer but in such manner that such officer is unable to see how the same is marked, and shall then fold said ballot and inclose and seal the same in the smaller envelope and then inclose said smaller envelope, together with his certificate of registration, in the larger envelope and make, subscribe and swear to the affidavit printed on the larger envelope before the officer, who shall thereupon mail said larger envelope to the county auditor whose name and address are printed thereon, by registered mail, at the expense of the voter; and the county auditor, upon receiving such absentee voter envelopes, shall file the same in his office and shall keep the same until the votes are canvassed as hereinafter provided, and shall notify the registration officer of the precinct, or, if the ballot is received on election day, the election officers of the precinct that the voter, giving his name and address, has voted, and the registration officer or election officers as the case may be shall thereupon note upon the registration-books opposite the name of the voter the word "Voted." [L. '21, p. 533, § 4.]

§ 5284. Surrender of Blank Ballot upon Voting in Home Precinct.

No elector opposite whose name there shall appear on the registration-books the word "voted" shall be allowed to vote at the election, and no person opposite whose name there shall appear upon the registration-books the word "Absent" shall be permitted to vote at such election, unless he shall deliver to the election officer the blank ballot received from the county auditor and his certificate of registration, as evidence that he has not availed himself of the privilege of voting as an absent voter. [L. '21, p. 534, § 5.]

§ 5285. [4898-4.*] Return of Ballot to Home County—Canvass.

On the sixth day after any general or primary election it shall be the duty of the county auditor in the presence of the chairman of the board of county commissioners and the prosecuting attorney to open each larger outside envelope in such a way as not to injure the seal or in any way open the smaller inside envelope containing the ballot, or deface the affidavit of the larger outside envelope, and to remove said smaller envelope containing the ballot and mark upon the outside of said inside envelope the name or number of the precinct, city and county in which the ballot is to be counted and nothing whereby the identity of the voter can be known. If the voter's affidavit on the larger envelope is in due and regular form the envelope containing the ballot shall be signed by the opening officers above named and approved as a valid vote. The opening officers shall then seal securely in one package the larger outside envelopes, certificates and affidavits of voters filed as herein provided, attached securely together and the same shall be kept by said auditor for future use in case any question shall arise as to the validity of the vote. The smaller inside envelopes containing the ballots shall be filed by the auditor and kept securely locked until the time for canvassing the votes of such county. Upon the canvassing of the votes by the canvassing board of such county, whenever any precinct is called in which there shall be on file one or more such envelopes, the board shall cause such envelopes to be opened, and shall canvass and count the same for such precinct as nearly as possible in the same manner as such votes would have been counted had they been cast in such precinct, entering the same in the poll-book as absent voters, and shall modify the election returns of such precinct accordingly. Such ballots shall become a part of the returns of such precinct and shall be kept or destroyed accordingly: Provided, however, no such ballot shall be canvassed or counted unless received by the auditor within six days from the date of said general or primary election. [L. '21, p. 535, § 6. Cf. L. '15, p. 693, § 4; L. '17, p. 715, § 4.]

§ 5286. [4898-5.*] Challenges.

The vote of any absent voter may be challenged for any cause at the time the same is canvassed by the canvassing board of the county, and the said canvassing board shall have all the power and authority given by law to officers of election to determine herein the legality of such ballot. [L. '17, p. 716, § 5. Cf. L. '15, p. 694, § 5.]

§ 5287. [4898-7.] Penalty.

Any person who violates any of the provisions of this act, relating to swearing and voting, shall be guilty of a felony and shall be punished by imprisonment of not more than five years. [L. '15, p. 694, § 7; L. '17, p. 717, § 7.]

§ 5288. [4899.] Ballot, How Prepared by Voter.

On receipt of his ballot the elector shall forthwith and without leaving the polling place retire alone to one of the places, booths or apartments provided to prepare his ballot. If he desires to vote for all the candidates of any political party he may mark a cross "X" after the name, against the political designation of such party, and shall then be deemed to have voted for all the persons named as the candidates of such party. If he desires to vote for any particular candidate of any other political party he may do so by placing after the name of such candidate a mark "X": Provided, that if two or more candidates for such office are to be elected, then such voter shall place his mark "X" after the name of each of the candidates for whom he wishes to vote for that particular office, and in that case such voter shall then be deemed to have voted for all the persons named as the candidates of the political party after which he shall have made his mark "X," except those who are otherwise designated as herein provided. Each elector may prepare his ballot by marking a cross "X" after the name of every person or candidate for whom he wishes to vote. In case of a ballot containing a constitutional amendment or other question to be submitted to the vote of the people the voter shall mark a cross "X" after the question, for or against the amendment or proposition, as the case may be. Any elector may write in the blank spaces, or paste over any other name, the name of any person for whom he may wish to vote. Before leaving the booth or compartment the elector shall fold his ballot in such a manner that the number of the ballot shall appear on the outside thereof, without displaying the marks on the face thereof, and he shall keep it folded until he has voted. Having folded the ballot, the elector shall deliver it folded to the inspector, who shall, in an audible tone of voice, repeat the name of the elector and the number of the ballot. The election clerks having the certified copies of the poll-books of registration or poll-books in charge, shall, if they find the number marked opposite the elector's name on the register or poll-books to correspond with the number of the ballot handed to the inspector, mark opposite the name of such elector the word "voted," and one of the clerks shall call back, in an audible tone, the name of the elector and the number of his ballot. The inspector shall separate the slip containing the number of the ballot from the ballot and shall deposit the ballot in the ballot-box. The numbers removed from ballots shall be immediately destroyed. [L. '90, p. 409, § 23; 1 H. C., § 385; L. '95, p. 391, § 8.]

§ 5291. [4902.] Disabled or Illiterate Voter, How Assisted.

Any voter who declares to the judges of election, or when it shall appear to the judges of election that he cannot read, and was at the time of the taking effect of this act a qualified elector, or that by blindness or other physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, shall upon request receive the assistance of one or two of the election officers in the marking thereof, and such officer or officers shall certify on the outside thereof that it has been so marked, with his or their assistance, and shall thereafter give no information regarding the same. The judges may in their discretion require from such person so offering to vote a declaration of such disability, that he was at the time of the taking effect of this act a qualified elector and of his disability to read and speak the English language, to be made by the voter under oath before them and they are hereby qualified to administer the same. No elector, other than the one who may, because of his inability to read, or physical disability, be unable to mark his ballot, shall divulge to any person within the polling place the name of any candidate for whom he intends to vote or [to] ask or receive the assistance of anyone within the polling place in the preparation of his ballot. No inspector or judge of election shall deposit in any ballot-box any ballot upon which the official stamp as hereinbefore provided for does not appear. Every person violating the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '90, p. 410, § 27; 1 H. C., § 389.]

§ 5293. [4904.*] Instructions for Voting—Posting.

The clerk of the board of county commissioners of each county shall cause to be printed in large type on cards in English instructions for the guidance of electors in preparing their ballots. He shall furnish two such cards to the judges of election of each election precinct, which shall be posted by said judges in and about the polling places upon the day of election. Such cards shall be printed in large, clear type, and shall contain full instruction to the voters as to what should be done, viz.:

1. To obtain ballots for voting.
2. To prepare the ballots for deposit in the ballot-boxes.
3. To obtain a new ballot in the place of one spoiled by accident or mistake.

§ 5294. [4905.] Ballots Void, When.

In the canvass of the votes, any ballot or parts of a ballot from which it is impossible to determine the elector's choice shall be void and shall not be counted: Provided, that when a ballot is sufficiently plain to gather therefrom a part of the voter's intention, it shall be the duty of the judges of election to count such part. § 5301. [4910-2.] State Board of Voting Machine Examiners.

The governor, the secretary of state, and the state treasurer and their successors in office are hereby created and constituted the state board of voting machine examiners. It shall be the duty of said board to examine all makes of voting machines submitted to it and determine whether such machines comply with the requirements of this act, and can safely be used by voters at elections under the provisions of this act. Any person or corporation owning or being interested in a voting machine may submit same to said board for examination, and said board shall thereupon publicly examine and report upon such machine, pursuant to the provisions of this act. For the purpose of assistance in examining such machine the said board may employ not more than three expert machinists at a cost of not more than ten dollars for each day employed. The compensation of said machinists shall be paid by the person or corporation submitting the machine. Within thirty days after completing the examination of any voting machine the board shall make and file with the secretary of state its report on such machine, together with such written or printed description and such drawings and photographs as shall clearly identify such machine and the mechanical operation thereof; and within ten days after receiving such report, the secretary of state shall send a copy thereof to the county commissioners of each county, to the common council of each city, and to the board or governing body of each district or other municipality within the state. Any voting machine that shall receive the approval of a majority of said board may be used for conducting any or all elections subject to the provisions of this act. Any machine that shall not receive said approval shall not be adopted for or used at any election. After a voting machine has been approved by said board, any change, or improvement therein that does not impair its accuracy, efficiency, or capacity, shall not render necessary a re-examination or reapproval thereof. [L. '13, p. 178, § 2.]

§ 5302. [4910-3.] Definition of Terms Employed in This Act.

The list of offices and candidates, and the statements of questions used on the voting machines shall be deemed an official ballot and the words "ballot labels," as used in this act shall mean the cards, paper, or other material containing the names of offices and candidates, and statements of questions to be voted on. The word "diagram" shall mean an illustration of the official ballot when placed upon the machine, showing the names of the parties, offices and candidates, and statements of the questions in their proper places, together with the voting devices therefor, and shall be considered a sample ballot. The word "question" shall mean a statement of such constitutional amendment or other proposition as shall be submitted to a popular vote at any election. The words "irregular ballot" shall mean the paper or other material on which a vote is cast for persons whose names do not appear on the ballot labels. The words "vote indicators" shall mean those devices with which votes are indicated for parties, candidates, or for or against questions. The words "candidate counters" and "question counters" shall mean the counters on which are registered the votes cast for candidates and on questions respectively. The words "public counter" shall mean a counter or other device, which shall at all times publicly indicate how many times the machine has been voted on at an election. The words "protective counter" or "protective devices" shall mean a counter or device that will register each time the machine is operated and shall be so constructed, and so connected that it cannot be reset, altered or operated, except by operating the machine. The words "voting machine booth" shall mean the inclosure occupied by the voter when voting. The word "model" shall mean a mechanically operated model of a portion of the face of the machine illustrating the manner of voting. The word "custodian" shall mean the person charged with the duty of testing and preparing the voting machine for the election. The words "statement of canvass" shall mean a statement and return in book form of the votes cast at any election, together with suitable certificates of its correctness. [L. '13, p. 179, § 3.]

§ 5303. [4910-4.] Requirements of Voting Machines.

No voting machine shall be approved by the state board of voting machine examiners unless it be so constructed as to fulfill the following requirements: It shall secure to the voter secrecy in the act of voting. It shall provide facilities for voting for the candidates of as many political parties or organizations as may make nominations, and for or against as many questions as may be submitted. The voting devices for the candidates shall be arranged in separate parallel party lines, one or more lines for each party and in parallel office rows transverse thereto. It shall permit the voter to vote for any person for any office that he shall have the right to vote for but none other. It shall, except at primary elections, permit the voter to vote for all the candidates of one party or in part for the candidates of one party and in part for the candidates of one or more other parties. It shall, except at primary elections, provide means whereby the voter can by a single operation vote for all the candidates of one party. It shall permit the voter to vote for as many persons for an office as he is lawfully entitled to vote for but no more. It shall prevent the voter from voting for the same person more than once for the same office. It shall permit the voter to vote for or against any question he may have the right to vote on but none other. It shall correctly register or record all votes cast for any and all persons and for or against any and all questions. It shall be provided with a lock or locks by which all operation of the registering mechanism can be prevented as soon as the polls of the election are closed. It shall be provided with a "protective counter," or "protective device" whereby any operating or tampering with the machine before or after the election will be detected. It shall be provided with a counter which shall show at all times during an election how many persons have voted. It shall be provided with a mechanical model, illustrating the manner of voting on the machine suitable for the instruction of voters. It may also be provided with one device for each party, for voting for all the presidential electors of that party by one operation, and a ballot label therefor containing only the words "presidential electors" preceded by the name of that party and followed by the names of the candidates thereof for the offices of President and Vice-president, and a registering device therefor which shall register the vote cast for said electors when thus voted for collectively: Provided, however, that means shall be furnished whereby the voter can cast a vote in part for the candidates for presidential electors of one party and in part for those of one or more other parties or in part or in whole for persons not nominated by any party. [L. '13, p. 180, § 4.]

§ 5304. [4910-5.] Voting Machines may be Adopted, Procured and Used.

The county commissioners of any county, the common council of any city or town, the township board of any township or the board or governing body of any district or municipality, at any regular meeting or at a special meeting called for the purpose, may adopt, purchase, or otherwise procure, and provide for the use of, any voting machine approved by the state board of voting machine examiners, in all or a portion of the election precincts thereof; and thereafter said machine may be used for voting at all primaries and elections for public offices and on all questions and for receiving, registering and counting the votes thereof in such election district or districts as such county commissioners, council or board shall direct. The county commissioners or council may, not later than forty days before any election, create, unite, combine, or divide one or more election districts or precincts for the purpose of using one or more voting machines therein at such election, and such uniting, combining or dividing shall be done in the manner now prescribed by law for the change of election districts. More than one voting machine may be used in the same election district. The number of voters to be in each of said districts or precincts shall be determined by said commissioners, council or board, but shall not exceed six hundred for each machine. [L. '15, p. 324, § 1; L. '13, p. 181, § 5.]

in a limited number of voting places:
State ex rel. Empire Voting Machine Co.
v. Carroll, 78 Wash. 83, 138 Pac. 306.

§ 5305. [4910-6.] Payment for Voting Machines.

The county commissioners of any county, the council of any city, the supervisors of any town or township, or the governing board of any district or municipality may, on the adoption and purchase of a voting machine or machines, provide for the payment thereof in such a manner as they may deem for the best interest of the county, city, town or township, district or municipality, and may for that purpose issue bonds, warrants, certificates of indebtedness, notes or other negotiable obligations, which shall be a charge upon such county, city, town, township, district, or municipality, or may pay for the same in cash out of the general fund or otherwise; and may make such contract for the purchase of such machines with regard to price, manner of purchase and time of payment as to the said officials shall seem proper, and in estimating the amount of taxes for the general fund, if any, such amount shall be added, extending over such time as may be required to fully pay for such machines. Such bonds, certificates, warrants, notes or other obligations may be issued to bear interest not to exceed five per cent per annum. They may be made payable at such time or times as the authorities may determine, but shall not be issued or sold at less than par. [L. '13, p. 182, § 6.]

§ 5306. [4910-7.*] Printed Matter and Supplies.

Within a proper and reasonable time before the first election at which voting machines are to be used, the secretary of state shall prepare samples of the printed matter and supplies named in this section, and shall furnish one of each thereof to the board or official in charge of the election of each county, city, township or district in which the machines are to be used; such samples to meet the requirements of the election to be held and to suit the construction of the machine to be used. The board or officials charged with the duty of providing ballots shall provide for each voting machine for each election the following printed matter and supplies: Suitable printed or written directions to the custodian for testing and preparing the voting machines for the election; one certificate on which the custodian can certify that he has properly tested and prepared the voting machine for the election; one certificate on which some person other than the custodian can certify that the voting machine has been examined and found to have been properly prepared for the election; one certificate on which the party representatives can certify that they have witnessed the testing and preparation of the machines; one certificate on which the deliverer of the machines can certify that he has delivered the machines to the polling places in good order; one card stating the penalty for tampering with or injuring a voting machine; two seals for sealing a voting machine; one envelope in which the keys to the voting machine can be sealed and delivered to the election officers, said envelope to have printed or written thereon the designation and location of the election district in which the machine is to be used, the number of the machine, the number shown on the protective counter thereof after the machine has been prepared for the election and the number or other designation on such seal as the machine is sealed with; said envelope to have attached to it a detachable receipt for the delivery of the keys of the voting machine to the inspector of election; one envelope in which the keys to the voting machine can be returned by the inspector of election; one card stating the name and telephone address of the custodian on the day of election; one statement of canvass on which the election officers can report the canvass of the votes as shown on the voting machine together with other necessary information relating to the election, said statements of canvass to take the place of all tally-keepers, statements and returns as provided heretofore; three complete sets of ballot labels; two diagrams; five suitable printed instructions to the inspector of election; three notices to inspectors and judges of election to attend the instruction meetings; three certificates that the inspector and judges of an election have attended the instruction meeting, have received the necessary instruction, and are qualified to conduct the election with the machine and they may supply a sufficient number of extra ballots for use in case it shall be impossible to make use of the voting machine in any such precinct or precincts.

The ballot labels shall be printed in black ink on clear white material of such size and arrangements as to suit the construction of the machine: Provided, however, the ballot labels for questions may contain a condensed statement of each question to be voted on, accompanied by the words "Yes" and "No"; the titles of the offices on the ballot labels shall be printed in type as large as the space for such office will reasonably permit, and where more than one candidate can be voted for an office, there shall be printed below the office title the words "vote for any two," or such number as the voter is lawfully entitled to vote for out of the whole number of candidates nominated.

If the election be one at which all the candidates for the office of presidential electors are to be voted for with one device, the county commissioners shall furnish for each machine at least five lists of the names of the presidential electors nominated and at least fifty paper ballots with which the voter can vote thereon for part of the candidates for the office of the presidential electors of one party and part of the candidates therefor of one or more other parties or for persons for that office not nominated by any party. For election districts in which voting machines are to be used no paper ballots shall be furnished for any offices to be voted for on the machine except as hereinafter provided. [L. '21, p. 703, § 6; L. '15, p. 325, § 2; L. '13, p. 182, § 7.]

§ 5307. [4910-8.] Instructions to Voters Before Election.

Before each election at which voting machines are to be used the custodian shall place on public exhibition a suitable number of machines for the proper instruction of voters. Such machines shall be so arranged and so equipped with ballot labels as to best illustrate the method of voting at that election, and so far as practical shall contain the names of the offices to be filled, the names of the candidates to be voted for, together with their proper party designations, in case of party elections, and statements of the questions to be voted on. Not more than ten nor less than three days before each election at which voting machines are to be used the board or officials charged with the duty of providing ballots shall publish in newspapers representing at least two political parties a diagram of reduced size showing the face of the voting machine after the official ballot labels are arranged thereon, together with illustrated instructions how to vote and a statement of the locations of such voting machines as shall be on public exhibition; or in lieu of such publication said board or officials may send by mail or otherwise at least three days before the elections a printed copy of same to each registered voter. [L. '15, p. 327, § 3; L. '13, p. 184, § 8.]

§ 5308. [4910-9.] Instructions to Election Officers.

The election board of each election district in which a voting machine is used shall consist of one inspector, and two judges of election who shall also act as clerks of election. Where more than one machine is to be used in an election district, one additional inspector of election shall be appointed for each additional machine. In any voting precinct or district where the number of registered voters is less than one hundred the election board may consist of one inspector, one judge and one clerk. Before each election at which voting machines are to be used, the custodian shall instruct all inspectors and judges of election that are to serve thereat in the use of the machine and their duties in connection therewith; and he shall give to each inspector and judge that has received such instructions and is fully qualified to conduct the election with the machine a certificate to that effect. For the purpose of giving such instructions, the custodian shall call such meeting or meetings of the inspectors and judges as shall be necessary. Each inspector and judge shall attend such meeting or meetings and receive such instructions as shall be necessary for the proper conduct of the election with the machine; and, as compensation for the time spent in receiving such instruction each inspector and judge that shall qualify for and serve in the election shall receive the sum of one dollar, to be paid to him at the same time and in the same manner as compensation is paid to him for his services on election day. No inspector or judge of election shall serve in any election at which a voting machine is used unless he shall have received such instruction and is fully qualified to perform his duties in connection with the machine and has received a certificate to that effect from the custodian of the machines: Provided, however, that this shall not prevent the appointment of an inspector, or judge of election to fill a vacancy in an emergency. [L. '15, p. 327, § 4; L. 13, p. 185, § 9.]

§ 5309. [4910-10.*] Testing and Preparing Machines—Custodian—Bonds.

The county auditor of a county, the clerk of a city, or other district in which voting machines are to be used shall cause same to be properly prepared therefor; and for that purpose shall employ for such time as is necessary one or more competent persons who shall be known as the voting machine custodians, who shall be sworn to perform their duties honestly and faithfully, and for such purpose shall be considered as officers of election, and shall be paid for the time actually spent in the discharge of their duties in the same manner as other election officers are paid. One custodian shall be employed for each twenty machines; if more than one be employed they shall be selected from the political parties entitled to representation on a board of election officers: Provided, however, the county auditor of a county, the clerk of a city, or other district having two hundred (200) voting machines or more, shall appoint as a permanent employee, a competent mechanic who shall be known as the chief custodian of voting machines, who shall be sworn to perform his duties honestly and faithfully, and shall furnish a corporate surety bond in the sum of five thousand ($5,000) dollars for the honest and faithful performance of his duties, and whose salary shall be the sum of two hundred dollars per month, to be paid out of the general fund of said county, city or other district, in the same manner as provided by law for the payment of salaries.

Said chief custodian of voting machines shall supervise the work of all other voting machine custodians provided for by law, and shall school and instruct said custodians and have general charge and supervision of the work of said custodians in the preparation of voting machines for elections and shall check and approve the work of all custodians after the preparation of the voting machines for elections by said custodians, and shall also have charge of the instruction schools for election officials provided for by law, and shall have charge of the procuring and rental of all polling places in precincts where voting machines are to be used, and shall have continuous charge of the maintenance, upkeep and care of the voting machines of said county, city or district.

No persons shall be eligible for appointment to the office of chief custodian of voting machines who shall not have had an actual experience in the duties as prescribed herein for the period of at least two (2) years in the conduct of elections with voting machines in a county, city or district conducting its elections with at least one hundred (100) machines.

In preparing a voting machine for an election, the custodian shall, according to the printed directions furnished by such auditor or clerk, arrange the machine and labels therefor so that it will in every particular meet the requirements for voting and counting at such elections, thoroughly test same, and certify thereto to said auditor or clerk. A voting machine may be so arranged for an election that the names of candidates nominated independently may be placed in the same party row with those nominated by a political party entitled to the use of a party voting device, provided such placing does not prevent such independently nominated candidates from being voted for individually, and provided it does not prevent or interfere with the operating of the party voting device of such party. It may also be so arranged that candidates nominated independently, or by political organizations which have nominated but one candidate, each shall be placed in the same party row and voted for individually; and in that event the party voting device of such party row shall be locked against movement, and the political designations of such candidates shall be printed upon the ballot labels in connection with their names. The auditor or clerk shall direct the arrangement of all ballot labels on such machine in case of nonpartisan primaries and elections in cities of the first class operating under freeholders' charters, the arrangement of the names of candidates upon ballot labels shall conform as nearly as practicable to such charter provisions for the arrangement of names on paper ballots. In all other cases of nonpartisan primaries and elections, and in all cases of party primaries and elections, the arrangement of names of candidates upon the ballot labels shall conform as nearly as practicable to the provisions of law for the arrangement of names on paper ballots.

After being prepared for the primary or election, each machine shall be examined by the auditor or clerk, and if the same be prepared in accordance with law for use thereat, he shall file a certificate thereof in his office. The custodian shall cause all voting machines to be delivered to the polling places in charge of an authorized official who shall certify to their delivery in good order on the certificate furnished therefor. After such delivery the auditor or clerk shall provide proper protection therefor. The custodian shall provide a lantern or proper light for every machine, which light shall be in good order and give sufficient light to enable voters while in the booth to read the ballot labels, and suitable for use by the election officers in examining the counters. [L. '19, p. 475, § 23. Cf. L. '15, p. 328, § 5; L. '13, p. 186, § 10.]

§ 5311. [4910-11.] Delivery of Election Supplies and Keys.

The auditor or clerk shall cause to be delivered to the inspector or one of the judges of election not later than forty-five minutes before the time for opening the polls the keys for the voting machine, which shall be delivered in a sealed envelope on which shall be written the designation and location of the election district, the number of the voting machine, the number or other designative mark on the seal, and the number registered on the protective counter as reported by the custodian for which a receipt shall be taken on the blank attached thereto, two diagrams, one extra set of ballot labels, one envelope containing seal for sealing the machine after the polls are closed, one envelope for the return of the keys, two statements of canvass, and all other supplies necessary for conducting the election. [L. '15, p. 330, § 6; L. '13, p. 188, § 11.]

§ 5312. [4910-12.] Opening of Polls.

The election officers of each election district in which a voting machine is to be used shall meet at the polling place thereof at least forty-five minutes before the time set for opening the polls, and before unlocking the machine for voting shall proceed as follows: They shall see that the voting machine is placed where it can be conveniently attended by the election officers and conveniently operated by the voters, and where, unless its construction requires otherwise, the ballot labels thereon can be plainly seen by the election officers and the public when not being voted on. They shall see that the model is placed where each voter can conveniently operate it and receive instructions thereon as to the manner of voting, before entering the machine booth. They shall post one diagram inside the polling-room and one outside, in places where the voters can conveniently examine them. They shall see that the lantern or other means provided for giving light is in such condition that the voting machine is sufficiently lighted to enable voters to readily read the names on the ballot labels. They shall see that the ballot labels are in the proper places on the machine. They shall see if the number or other designating mark on the seal sealing the machine, also the number registered on the protective counter agree with the number written on the envelope containing the keys; and if same do not agree they shall at once notify the custodian and delay unlocking the machine and opening the polls until he shall have re-examined the machine. If such numbers or marks do so agree the election officers shall then proceed to see if the public counter and all the candidate and question counters register "000." If any of such counters shall be found to register some number other than "000," the judge of election shall at once notify the custodian who shall set such counter at "000." After performing their duties as provided in this section, the election officers shall certify thereto in the appropriate places on the statement of canvass as provided thereon. When the polls are declared open, the inspector or judge of election shall break the seal and unlock the machine for voting. [L. '13, p. 188, § 12.]

§ 5313. [4910-13.] Conducting the Election.

Before each voter enters the voting machine booth each clerk shall insert in his list of voters opposite the voter's name the letter V and the number of his vote. The election officers shall, so far as possible, inform him how to operate the machine and illustrate same upon the model, and call his attention to the diagram. No voter shall remain within the voting machine booth longer than two minutes, and if he shall refuse to leave at the end of that time, he shall be removed by the election officers: Provided, however, that they may grant him a longer time if other voters are not waiting to vote. Whenever a voter who has the right to vote only on certain offices and certain questions shall enter the [voting] machine [booth], the election officer shall so adjust same that he can vote on such office and questions, but on no others. If any voter shall, in the presence of the election officers, declare that by reason of physical disability he is unable to register or record his vote upon the machine, two election officers of opposite political parties, in case of party primaries or elections, or two officials in case of nonpartisan primaries, or elections, shall enter the voting machine booth with him and indicate and register his vote for such candidates and for or against such questions as he shall designate. If any voter shall, after entering the voting machine booth, ask for information regarding its operation, the election officers shall give him such necessary information. Any election officer who shall deceive any voter in registering or recording his vote under this section, or who shall register or record such vote in any other way than as designated by such voter, or who shall give information to any person as to what candidates or for or against what questions such voters voted, or who shall seek to suggest or persuade any voter to vote for any party, or for any candidate, or for or against any question shall be guilty of a felony and shall be punished by being fined not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars or imprisoned in a state prison for not less than six months or more than one year or by both such fine and imprisonment. Except as herein provided for in cases of physically disabled voters, the operation of voting shall be secret. The election officers shall occasionally examine the face of the machine and the ballot labels to determine if same have been injured or tampered with. No voter shall be permitted to enter the machine booth or move the operating lever more than once.

As soon as such voters have voted, the election officers shall lock and seal the machine, unlock and open the doors of the counter compartment, and canvass the votes registered on the counters therein and the votes recorded on or in the device or devices for voting for persons not nominated and shall make two statements of canvass thereof in the following manner: One election officer shall call the designating number and letter of each candidate's counter in the order given on the statement of canvass, and another election officer shall repeat such number and letter as it is read, and announce the vote registered on such counter, which shall thereupon be entered in ink on each of the statements of canvass. The canvass of each office shall be completed before proceeding to the next. The vote on each question shall be canvassed in the same manner. The votes cast on the irregular ballots and paper ballots shall then be canvassed. All votes for persons or questions, the names or propositions of which do not appear on the ballot labels, must be cast in the proper places on or in the device for irregular ballots, and all votes for persons or questions whose names or propositions do appear upon the ballot labels must be cast on the counters therefor, and any votes not so cast shall not be counted, except in case of the use of paper ballots: Provided, however, that all elections at which presidential electors are voted for with one device, the voter may vote on or in the device for irregular ballots in part for the presidential electors of one party and in part for those of one or more other parties, or in part or in whole for persons not nominated by any party. After completing and writing down the canvass of the votes cast, the election officers shall verify the same by comparing the figures on the statements of canvass with the figures on the counters in the machine and the names recorded on or in the device for voting for persons not nominated, and shall then certify, in the appropriate place on each of these statements of canvass, as to the number of voters that voted at the election as shown by the poll-list and by the number registered on the public counter; the number registered on the protective counter and the number or other designating marks on the seal with which the machine has been sealed. After completing and certifying to the statements of canvass, the inspector or judge shall read therefrom in a distinct voice the name of each candidate, the designating number and letter of his counter as stated thereon, and the vote entered for each; also the vote for or against each question. During the canvassing and announcing of the vote, the counter compartment shall remain open, and opportunity shall be given any person lawfully present to examine the counters to determine the correctness of the vote as announced. The counter compartment shall then be locked and all the keys of the machine shall be delivered in a sealed envelope to the officers or board in charge of the election. One copy of the statement of canvass shall be delivered forthwith in a sealed envelope to the office of the county auditor, city comptroller, city clerk, or other governing body, and if the election be one at which state or county offices are voted for, one copy of the returns shall be delivered in a sealed envelope to the county clerk. If, upon such recanvass, it should be found that the original canvass of the returns has been correctly made from the machine, and that the discrepancy still remains unaccounted for, the county commissioners, council, board or other governing body, with the assistance of the custodian, shall in the presence of said inspector and judges of election and the authorized representatives of the several political parties or organizations, unlock the voting and counting mechanism of said machine and proceed to thoroughly examine and test the machine to determine and reveal the true cause or causes, if any, of the discrepancy in the returns from said machine. Before being tested the counter shall be set at "000," after which each counter shall be operated at least one hundred times. After the completion of said examination and test, the custodian shall then and there prepare a statement in writing giving in detail the result thereof and said statement shall be witnessed by the persons present and shall be filed with the officer or board in charge of the election. CHAPTER XII.THE RECALL.*§ 5350. [4940-1.] Charges—How Formed.

Whenever any legal voter or committee or organization of legal voters of the state or of any political subdivision thereof shall desire to demand the recall and discharge of any elective public officer of the state or such political subdivision, as the case may be, under the provisions of sections 33 and 34 of article I of the Constitution, he or they shall prepare a typewritten charge, reciting that such officer, naming him and giving the title of his office, has committed an act or acts of malfeasance, or an act or acts of misfeasance while in office, or has violated his oath of office, or has been guilty of any two or more of the acts specified in the Constitution as grounds for recall, which charge shall state the act or acts complained of in concise language, without unnecessary repetition, and shall be signed by the person or persons making the same, give their respective postoffice addresses, and be verified under oath that he or they believe the charge or charges to be true. This act supersedes the recall provisions under the act of 1911: Tabor v. Walla Walla, 77 Wash. 579, 137 Pac. 1040.

Under this section, and Const., Art. I, § 33, there can be no joint recall of several officers of a board upon joint charges which do not permit the voter to express his wishes singly as to any one of the officers being recalled: McCush v. Pratt, 113 Wash. 7, 192 Pac. 964.

It is "malfeasance" in office within the meaning of this act, for councilmen to make an agreement for the trading of votes whereby each yielded his personal judgment in voting on certain appointments and matters in consideration of the promise of votes on other matters of special interest to him: Pybus v. Smith, 80 Wash. 65, 141 Pac. 203, Ann. Cas. 1915A, 1145, L. R. A. 1915A, 285.

In case the officer whose recall is to be demanded be a county officer, the person or persons making the charge shall file the same with the county auditor. In case the officer whose recall is to be demanded be an officer of an incorporated city or town, the persons making the charge shall file the same with the clerk of said city or town. § 5352. [4940-3.] Ballot Synopsis of Charges.

If the acts complained of in the charge are acts of malfeasance or misfeasance while in office, or a violation of the oath of office, as specified in the Constitution, the officer with whom the charge is filed shall formulate a ballot synopsis of such charge of not to exceed two hundred words, which shall set forth the name of the person charged, the title of his office, and a concise statement of the elements of the charge, and shall notify the persons filing the charge of the exact language of such ballot synopsis, and attach a copy thereof to and file the same with the charge, and thereafter such charge shall be designated on all petitions, ballots and other proceedings in relation thereto by such synopsis. Such petitions shall be substantially in the following form:

§ 5354. [4940-5.] Certificate of Precinct Officers.

Blank petitions for circulation in precincts where registration of voters is not required shall bear certificates in lieu of those contained in the foregoing form, which shall be signed by a justice of the peace, road supervisor, member of a school board or a postmaster, to the effect that he resides in the precinct, (naming it) and is acquainted with the legal voters thereof, and that he believes the signatures opposite which he has written his initials are the signatures of legal voters of such precinct. [L. '13, p. 456, § 5.]

§ 5355. [4940-6.] Size of Petition.

Each such recall petition for circulation and signing shall at the time of signing, certifying and filing with the officer with whom the charge is filed, as hereinafter in this act provided, consist of not more than five sheets with numbered lines for not more than twenty signatures on each sheet, with the prescribed warning, title and form of petition on each sheet, but with the prescribed form of certificate only on the last sheet, and a full, true and correct copy of the charge against such officer referred to therein, printed on sheets of paper of like size and quality as the petition and firmly fastened together. [L. '13, p. 457, § 6.]

Upon the filing of any such petition it shall be the duty of such officer to forthwith compare or cause a deputy to compare the signatures, addresses and precinct numbers on such petition with said registration books. The officer or deputy making the comparison shall place his initials in ink opposite the signatures of those persons who are shown by the registration books to be legal voters, and shall certify upon the last signature sheet of such petition that the signatures so initialed are the signatures of legal voters of the state of Washington and of the political subdivision affected by such recall petition, and shall sign such certificate and attach thereto the seal of the registration officer, if such officer have a seal, and return such petition to the person filing the same upon demand. The omission to fill any blank shall not prevent the initialing or certification of any name, if sufficient information is given to enable the officer, by a comparison of the signatures, to identify the voter. Every such petition bearing the signatures of persons residing in precincts where registration of voters is not required, before it is filed with the secretary of state, shall be submitted to and initialed and certified by a justice of the peace, road supervisor, member of a school board or a postmaster residing in such precinct in the form provided in section 5351. It shall be the duty of such justice of the peace, road supervisor or member of a school board to examine, and initial and certify the signatures of legal voters on any such petition upon demand. [L. '13, p. 457, § 7.]

§ 5357. [4940-8.] Names Necessary—Contributions—Expenditures.

No irregularity or improper conduct in the proceedings of the board of judges, or any one of them, shall be construed to amount to such malconduct as to annul or set aside any election, unless the irregularity or improper conduct shall have been such as to procure the person whose right to the office may be contested to be declared duly elected when he had not received the highest number of legal votes. When any election held for an office exercised in and for a county is contested on account of any malconduct on the part of the board of judges of any precinct election, or any member thereof, the election shall not be annulled and set aside upon any proof thereof, unless the rejection of the vote of such precinct or precincts shall change the result as to such office in the remaining vote of the county. [L. '66, p. 43, § 3; Cd. '81, § 3107; 1 H. C., § 429.]

§ 5369. [4944.] Election may be Set Aside on Account of Illegal Votes, When.

Nothing in the fifth ground of contest, specified in section 5366, shall be so construed as to authorize an election to be set aside on account of illegal votes, unless it shall appear that an amount of illegal votes has been given to the person whose right to the office is contested, which, if taken from him, would reduce the number of his legal votes below the number of votes given to some other person for the same office, after deducting therefrom the illegal votes which may be shown to have been given to such other person. [L. '66, p. 43, § 4; Cd. '81, § 3108; 1 H. C., § 430.]

§ 5372. [4947.] Allegations of Illegal Voting, Sufficiency of—Testimony.

When the reception of illegal votes is alleged as a cause of contest, it shall be sufficient to state generally that illegal votes were cast, which, if given to the person whose election is contested in the specified precinct or precincts, will, if taken from him, reduce the number of his legal votes below the number of legal votes given to some other person for the same office; but no testimony shall be received of any illegal votes unless the party contesting such election shall deliver to the opposite party, at least three days before such trial, a written list of the number of illegal votes and by whom given, which he intends to prove on such trial, and no testimony shall be received of any illegal votes, except such as are specified in such list. [L. '66, p. 44, § 7; Cd. '81, § 3111; 1 H. C., § 433.]

§ 5373. [4948.] Statement of Cause not to be Rejected for Want of Form.

No statement of the cause of contest shall be rejected, nor the proceedings thereon dismissed by any court before which such contest may be brought for trial, for want of form, if the particular cause or causes of contest shall be alleged with such certainty as will sufficiently advise the defendant of the particular proceedings or cause for which such election is contested. [L. '66, p. 44, § 8; Cd. '81, § 3112; 1 H. C., § 434.]

visions of any charter or ordinance of any town or city of this state, who willfully neglects or refuses to perform such duty, or who, in the performance of such duty, or in his official capacity, knowingly or fraudulently violates any of the provisions of law relating to such duty, shall be guilty of a felony. CHAPTER XV.

INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM.

§ 5397. [4971-1.] Proposals—Name and Address of Submitters.

That whenever any legal voter or committee or organization of legal voters of the state shall desire to propose any measure to be submitted to the legislature, or to the people upon initiative petition, or shall desire to order by petition the referendum of any act, bill or law, or any part thereof, passed by the legislature, he or they shall file in the office of the secretary of state five printed or typewritten copies of the proposed measure or of the act or part thereof on which a referendum is desired, accompanied by the name and postoffice address of the person, committee or organization proposing the same, and the affidavit of such person, or the affidavit of some member of such committee or organization that such person is, or the members of such committee or organization, are legal voters. Measures to be submitted upon initiative petition shall be filed within ten months prior to the election or the session of the legislature at which they are to be submitted. The secretary of state shall give to each such measure a serial number, using a separate series for the initiative and referendum measures, respectively, and forthwith transmit to the attorney general a copy of such measure bearing its serial number, and thereafter, such measure shall be known and designated in all petitions, ballots and proceedings as "Initiative Measure No. —," or "Referendum Measure No. —," as the case may be. [L. '13, p. 418, § 1.]

Proposing, Filing and Submitting Acts or Referendum: See Remington's Digest, Statutes, § 2-4, and cases cited.

This section does not require filing ten months prior to the election, but limits the time within which they may be filed to "less than ten months" before election: State ex rel. Kiehl v. Howell, 77 Wash. 651, 138 Pac. 286.

The legislature has power to fix a reasonable time preceding the election within which a proposed measure shall be filed with the secretary of state, as an act to "facilitate" the initiative and referendum; and the fixing of ten months before the election, leaving but six months within which to complete and file the petitions is not unreasonable: State ex rel. Kiehl v. Howell, 77 Wash. 651, 138 Pac. 286.

The determination of the number of valid signatures upon an initiative petition to submit a measure to a vote of the people is a political rather than a judicial question, although including an issue of fraud, in the absence of statutory provisions to the contrary; hence the legislature has power to commit the same to administrative officers, and the courts could not, in the absence of express statute, review the determination of such officers: State ex rel. Case v. Superior Court, 81 Wash. 623, 143 Pac. 461, Ann. Cas. 1916B, 838.

The passage of an initiative measure as a law being the exercise of the same power of sovereignty as that exercised by the legislature in the passage of laws, the people can supersede existing laws by an initiative measure only by a repeal, express or implied: State v. Paul, 87 Wash. 83, 151 Pac. 114.

The proponent of an initiative measure is in no sense a legislator, nor is his filing a legislative step with which the courts have no right to interfere: State ex rel. Berry v. Superior Court, 92 Wash. 16, 159 Pac. 92.

Canvass, Certification, and Determination of Result: See Remington's Digest, Statutes, § 2-5; State ex rel. Case v. Superior Court, 81 Wash. 624, 143 Pac. 461, Ann. Cas. 1916B, 838.

§ 5398. [4971-2.] Form of Ballot Title.

Within ten days after the receipt of any such measure the attorney general shall formulate therefor and transmit to the secretary of state a ballot title of not to exceed one hundred words, bearing the serial number of such measure, which ballot title may be distinct from the legislative title of such measure, and shall express, and give a true and impartial statement of the purpose of such measure, and shall not be intentionally an argument, or likely to create prejudice, either for or against the measure. Such ballot title formulated by the attorney general shall be the ballot title of such measure unless changed on appeal as hereinafter provided. [L. '13, p. 418, § 2.]

Cited in 77 Wash. 653.

§ 5399. [4971-3.] Appeal—Court to Fix Title.

Upon the filing of such ballot title in his office, the secretary of state shall forthwith notify the persons proposing the measure by telegraph and by mail of the exact language thereof. In case such persons are dissatisfied with said ballot title they may at any time within ten days from the filing thereof in the office of the secretary of state appeal from the decision of the attorney general to the superior court of Thurston county by petition setting forth the measure, the title formulated by the attorney general and their objections thereto, and praying for amendment thereof. A copy of said petition, together with a notice that an appeal has been taken shall be served upon the secretary of state and upon the attorney general. Upon the filing of such petition on appeal the court shall forthwith, or at such time to which the hearing may be adjourned by consent of the appellants, examine the proposed measure, the title prepared by the attorney general and the objections thereto and may hear argument thereon, and shall as soon as possible render its decision and certify to and file with the secretary of state such ballot title as it shall determine will meet the requirements of this act. The decision of the superior court shall be final, and the title so certified shall be the established ballot title. Such appeal shall be heard without costs to either party. [L. '13, p. 419, § 3.]

§ 5400. [4971-4.] Title Mailed to Proposers.

When the ballot title shall have been finally established, the secretary of state shall file the instrument establishing it with the proposed measure and transmit a copy thereof by mail to the persons proposing the measure. Thereafter such ballot title shall be the title of the measure in all petitions, ballots and other proceedings, if any, in relation thereto. Upon the ballot title being established, the persons proposing the measure may prepare and cause to be printed upon single sheets of white paper of good quality twelve inches in width and fourteen inches in length, with a margin of one and three-quarters inches at the top for binding, blank petitions for proposing measures for submission to the legislature or to the people, or for ordering legislative enactments to be referred to the people, as the case may be. [L. '13, p. 419, § 4.]

§ 5401. [4971-5.] Petitions to Legislature—Form.

Petitions for proposing measures for submission to the legislature at its next regular session, to be filed with the secretary of state not less than ten days before such regular session, shall be substantially in the following form:

WARNING.

Every person who shall sign this petition with any other than his true name, or who shall knowingly sign more than one of these petitions, or who shall sign this petition when he is not a legal voter, or who shall make herein any false statement, shall be punished by fine or imprisonment or both.

The secretary of state is without authority upon the canvass of initiative petitions, to inquire into or decide whether the names signed are the "signatures of legal voters," and when a local certifying officer has decided that names upon a petition are the signatures of legal voters, and has evidenced his decision by a proper certificate, his decision is final; in view of this section, and sections 5404 and 5411, infra: State ex rel. Case v. Superior Court, 81 Wash. 623, 143 Pac. 461, Ann. Cas. 1916B, 838.

§ 5402. [4971-6.] Petitions to People—Form.

Petitions for proposing measures for submission to the people for their approval or rejection at the next ensuing general election, to be filed with the secretary of state not less than four months before such general election, shall be substantially in the following form:

WARNING.

(Same form as in section 5401.)

§ 5403. [4971-7.] Petitions to Refer—Form.

Petitions ordering that bills or parts of bills passed by the legislature be referred to the people at the next ensuing general election, or special election ordered by the legislature, to be filed with the secretary of state within ninety days after the final adjournment of the session of the legislature at which such bill was passed, shall be substantially in the following form:

WARNING.

(Same form as in section 5401.)

PETITION FOR REFERENDUM.

To the Honorable —, Secretary of State of the State of Washington:

We, the undersigned citizens of the State of Washington and legal voters of the respective precincts set opposite our names, respectfully order and direct that Referendum Measure No. —, entitled (here insert the established ballot title of the measure) being a (or part or parts of a) bill passed by the —th legislature of the State of Washington at the last regular (special) session of said legislature, shall be referred to the people of the state for their approval or rejection at the regular (special) election to be held on the — day of —, A. D. 19—; and each of us for himself says: I have personally signed this petition; I am a legal voter of the State of Washington, in the precinct, city (or town), and county written after my name, and my residence address is correctly stated.

(Followed by the same form of blanks and certificate as in section 5401.) [L. '13, p. 422, § 7.]

§ 5404. [4971-8.] Signatures—Certificate.

Blank petitions for circulation in precincts where registration of voters is not required shall bear certificates, in lieu of those contained in the foregoing forms, to be signed by a justice of the peace, road supervisor, member of a school board or a postmaster, to the effect that he resides in the pre-cinet, naming it, and is acquainted with the legal voters thereof and that he believes the signatures opposite which he has written his initials are the signatures of legal voters of such precinct. [L. '13, p. 422, § 8.]

§ 5405. [4971-9.] Size of Petitions.

Each initiative or referendum petition for circulation and signing shall at the time of signing, certifying and filing with the secretary of state, as hereinafter in this act provided, consist of not more than five sheets with numbered lines for not more than twenty signatures on each sheet, with the prescribed warning, title and form of petition on each sheet, but with the prescribed form of certificate only on the last sheet, and a full, true and correct copy of the proposed measure referred to therein printed on sheets of paper of like size and quality as the petition, firmly fastened together. [L. '13, p. 423, § 9.]

Cited in 81 Wash. 650.

This section, in so far as it declares that petitions shall consist of sheets with numbered lines for not more than twenty signatures on each sheet, is directory, in so far as it may be considered as limiting the number of signatures that may be placed on any petition: State ex rel. Case v. Superior Court, 81 Wash. 623, 143 Pac. 461, Ann. Cas. 1916B, 838.

§ 5406. [4971-10.] Check of Petitions—Certificate.

Every initiative and referendum petition, before it is filed with the secretary of state as hereinafter provided, shall be filed with the officer having custody of the registration books containing the signatures, addresses and precinct of the registered voters of the city, town or precinct, as the case may be, where the persons who have signed such petition claim to be legal voters. Upon the filing of any such petition it shall be the duty of such officer to forthwith compare or cause a deputy to compare the signatures, addresses and precinct number on such petition with said registration books. The officer or deputy making the comparison shall place his initials in ink opposite the signature of those persons who are shown by the registration books to be legal voters, and shall certify upon the last signature sheet of such petition that the signatures so initialed are the signatures of legal voters of the State of Washington, and shall sign such certificate and attach thereto the seal of the registration officer, if such officer have a seal, and return such petition to the person filing the same upon demand. The omission to fill any blank shall not prevent the initialing or certification of any name, if sufficient information is given to enable the officer, by a comparison of the signatures, to identify the voter. Every such petition bearing the signatures of persons residing in precincts where registration of voters is not required, before it is filed with the secretary of state, shall be submitted to and initialed and certified by a justice of the peace, road supervisor, member of a school board or a postmaster residing in such precinct in the form provided in section 5404. It shall be the duty of such justice of the peace, road supervisor or member of a school board to examine and initial and certify the signatures of legal voters on any such petition upon demand. [L. '13, p. 423, § 10.]

Cited in 81 Wash. 629.

This section, requiring a local certifying officer, in comparing and certifying the signatures on an initiative petition, to place his initials "in ink opposite the signatures of those persons shown by the registration books to be legal voters" is directory to the extent that initialing the signatures with a common lead pencil is a sufficient compliance with the law, in view of the liberal construction accorded ex. rel. Case v. Superior Court, 81 Wash. election laws, the law not declaring a sig- 623, 143 Pac. 461, Ann. Cas. 1916B, 838. nature invalid for failure to use ink: State § 5407. [4971-11.] Number of Signatures—Contributors—Expenditures.

When the person, committee or organization proposing any such initiative measure or demanding any such referendum shall have secured upon any such initiative petition the signatures of fifty thousand legal voters or the signatures of legal voters equal in number to or exceeding ten per centum of the whole number of electors who voted for governor at the regular gubernatorial election last preceding, or shall have secured upon any such referendum petition the signatures of thirty thousand legal voters, or the signatures of legal voters equal in number to or exceeding six per centum of the whole number of electors who voted for governor at the regular gubernatorial election last preceding, he or they may submit said petition to the secretary of state for filing in his office. At the time of submitting such petition the person, committee or organization submitting the same shall file with the secretary of state a full, true and detailed statement giving the names and postoffice addresses of all persons, corporations and organizations who have contributed any moneys to aid in the preparation, publication and advertising of the measure and the preparation, circulation and filing of the petition, with the amount contributed by each, and a full, true and detailed statement of all expenditures, giving the amounts expended, the purpose for which expended, and the names and postoffice addresses of the persons and corporations to whom paid, which statement shall be verified by the affidavit of the person or some member of the committee or organization in charge of the measure, and until such statement is filed with the secretary of state shall refuse to receive such petition. [L. '13, p. 424, § 11.]

Cited in 97 Wash. 572, 573, 578.

Notwithstanding the use of "petition" in the singular number, the filing of a number of sheets or petitions does not preclude the filing of additional petitions relating to the same matter: State ex rel. Howell v. Superior Court, 97 Wash. 569, 166 Pac. 1126.

§ 5408. [4971-12.] Time for Filing Petition.

The secretary of state upon any such petition being submitted to him for filing shall examine the same, and if upon examination said petition appear to be in proper form and to bear the requisite number of signatures of legal voters, and if said petition be an initiative petition proposing a measure to be submitted to the legislature at its next ensuing regular session and is submitted for filing not less than ten days before such regular session, or if said petition be an initiative petition proposing a measure to be submitted to the people for their approval or rejection at the next ensuing general election and is submitted for filing not less than four months before such general election, or if said petition be a referendum petition ordering and directing that the whole or some part or parts of a bill passed by the legislature be referred to the people for their approval or rejection at the next ensuing general election or a special election ordered by the legislature, and such petition is submitted for filing not more than ninety days after the final adjournment of the session of the legislature which passed the bill, the secretary of state shall accept and file said petition in his office; otherwise, he shall refuse to file the same, but shall stamp on said petitions the word "submitted" and the date of submission, and shall retain said petitions pending appeal. [L. '13, p. 424, § 12.]

Under this section, "legal voters" include only persons having the constitutional qualifications who are registered upon the poll books and not canceled by failure to vote: State ex rel. Mullen v. Howell, 108 Wash. 340, 184 Pac. 333.

§ 5409. [4971-13.] Appeal from Refusal of Secretary of State to File—Review.

If the secretary of state shall refuse to file any such initiative or referendum petition when submitted to him for filing, the persons submitting the same for filing may, within ten days after such refusal, apply to the superior court of Thurston county for a citation requiring the secretary of state to bring such petitions before the court, and for a writ of mandate to compel him to file the same. Such application shall take precedence over other cases and matters and shall be speedily heard and determined. If the court shall issue citation, and upon final hearing shall determine that the petitions are legal in form and apparently contain the requisite number of signatures and were submitted for filing within the time prescribed in the Constitution, it shall issue its mandate requiring the same to be filed in his office by the secretary of state as of the date of submission for filing. The decision of the superior court granting a writ of mandate shall be final and no appeal shall be allowed from the decision of the superior court refusing to grant a writ of mandate, but such decision may be reviewed by the supreme court in a writ of certiorari sued out within five days after the decision of the superior court, and such review shall be considered an emergency matter of public concern, and shall be heard and determined with all convenient speed, and if the supreme court shall decide that the petitions are legal in form and apparently contain the requisite number of signatures of legal voters, and were filed within the time prescribed in the Constitution, it shall issue its mandate direct to the secretary of state, requiring that said petitions be filed in his office as of the date of submission. In case no appeal is taken from the refusal of the secretary of state to file said petitions within the time prescribed or in case an appeal is taken and the secretary of state is not required to file said petitions by the mandate of either the superior or the supreme court, the secretary of state shall destroy said petitions. [L. '13, p. 425, § 13.]

§ 5410. [4971-14.] Petitions to be Volumed and Filed.

If the secretary of state accept and file any such initiative or referendum petition upon its being submitted for filing or if he be required to file the same by the court he shall forthwith, in the presence of the governor, or, if the governor be absent, in the presence of some other state officer and in the presence of the persons submitting such petition for filing, if such persons desire to be present, detach the sheets containing the signatures and certificates and cause them all to be firmly attached to one or more printed copies of the proposed initiative or referendum measure in such volumes as will be most convenient for canvassing and filing, and shall number such volumes and file the same and stamp on each thereof the date of filing. [L. '13, p. 426, § 14.]

§ 5411. [4971-15.] Canvass of Petition.

Upon filing such volumes of an initiative petition proposing a measure for submission to the legislature at its next regular session, the secretary of state shall forthwith in the presence of at least one person representing the advocates and one person representing the opponents of the proposed measure, should either desire to be present, proceed to canvass and count the names of certified legal voters on such petition. If he find the same name signed to more than one petition he shall reject both names from the count. If, at the conclusion of the canvass and count, it shall appear that such petition bears the requisite number of names of certified legal voters, the secretary of state shall transmit a certified copy of such proposed measure to the legislature at the opening of its session together with a certificate of the facts relating to the filing of such petition and the canvass thereof. [L. '13, p. 426, § 15.]

Cited in 97 Wash. 574.

This section, providing that, upon submission to him of initiative petitions, the secretary of state "shall proceed to canvass and count the names of certified legal voters on such petition. If he find the same name signed to more than one petition, he shall reject both names from the count," being a special authority to reject names for one reason only, suggests, almost conclusively, a limitation on his power to reject names for any other cause: State ex rel. Case v. Superior Court, 81 Wash. 623, 143 Pac. 461, Ann. Cas. 1916B, 838.

The word "canvass," though meaning to "scrutinize, examine, and determine," does not authorize the secretary of state to do more than scrutinize and examine the petitions to determine the number of and reject the duplicate names, that being his only express authority; and the words "canvass and count" are given full effect without finding any intent to authorize the secretary of state to decide the genuineness of the signatures, the forgery of officers' initials, the sufficiency of the certifying officer's certificates, and like questions: State ex rel. Case v. Superior Court, 81 Wash. 623, 143 Pac. 461, Ann. Cas. 1916B, 838.

§ 5412. [4971-16.] Fraudulent Names.

The secretary of state shall, while making said canvass, keep a record of all names appearing on said petition which are not certified to be legal voters and of all names appearing more than once on said petition, and shall report the same to the prosecuting attorneys of the respective counties where such names were signed to the end that prosecutions may be had for violations of this act. [L. '13, p. 427, § 16.]

Cited in 97 Wash. 574.

§ 5413. [4971-17.] Appeals—Review.

Any citizen who shall be dissatisfied with the determination of the secretary of state that the petition contains or does not contain the requisite number of signatures of legal voters may, within five days after such determination, apply to the superior court of Thurston county for a citation requiring the secretary of state to submit said petitions to said court for examination, and for a writ of mandate compelling the certification of the measure and petition, or for an injunction to prevent the certification thereof to the legislature, as the case may be, which application and all proceedings had thereunder shall take precedence over other cases and shall be speedily heard and determined. No appeal shall be allowed from the decision of the superior court granting or refusing to grant the writ of mandate or injunction, but such decision may be reviewed by the supreme court on a writ of certiorari sued out within five days after the decision of the superior court, and if the supreme court shall decide that a writ of mandate or injunction, as the case may be, should issue, it shall issue such writ direct to the secretary of state; otherwise, it shall dismiss the proceedings, and the clerk of the supreme court shall forthwith notify the secretary of state of the decision of the supreme court. [L. '13, p. 427, § 17.]

Cited in 81 Wash. 631; 97 Wash. 574.

This section does not authorize the superior court to review the question as to requisite number of signatures of legal voters; since the appeal was to review only errors of the secretary of state and that question could not be determined by the secretary of state, the certificate of local certifying officers being conclusive on that subject on the courts as well as on the secretary of state: State ex rel. Case v. Superior Court, 81 Wash. 623, 143 Pac. 461, Ann. Cas. 1916B, 838.

Judicial review of initiative and referendum proceedings. Ann. Cas. 1916B, 829.

§ 5414. [4971-18.] Canvass of Names Within Thirty Days.

When the petition filed shall be a referendum petition or an initiative petition for submission of a measure to the people the secretary of state shall canvass and count the names on such petition within thirty days after filing and like proceedings shall and may be had thereon as provided in sections 5411, 5412 and 5413. [L. '13, p. 428, § 18.]

Cited in 97 Wash. 574.

§ 5415. [4971-19.] Certificate to County Auditor.

If such referendum or such initiative petition of submission to the people shall be found sufficient, the secretary of state shall at the time and in the manner he certifies to the county auditors of the various counties the names of candidates for state and district officers certify to each county auditor the serial numbers and ballot titles of the several initiative and referendum measures to be voted upon at the next ensuing general election or special election ordered by the legislature. [L. '13, p. 428, § 19.]

Cited in 81 Wash. 631.

§ 5416. [4971-20.] Serial Number for Referendum Bills.

Whenever any bill passed by the legislature shall be by the legislature referred to the people for their approval or rejection at the next ensuing general election or at a special election ordered by the legislature, the secretary of state shall give such bill a serial number, using a separate series, such series being designated "Referendum Bills," and if the legislature shall not have prescribed a ballot title shall obtain from the attorney general a ballot title therefor in the manner provided in this act for obtaining ballot titles for initiative measures, and shall certify the serial number and ballot title of such bill to the county auditors for printing on the ballots for such general or special election in like manner as initiative measures for submission to the people are certified. [L. '13, p. 428, § 20.]

§ 5417. [4971-21.] Certified by Serial Number.

Whenever any measure proposed by initiative petition for submission to the legislature is rejected by the legislature or the legislature shall take no action thereon before the end of the regular session at which it is submitted, the secretary of state shall certify the serial number and ballot title thereof to the county auditors for printing on the ballots at the next ensuing general election in like manner as initiative measures for submission to the people are certified. [L. '13, p. 428, § 21.]

§ 5418. [4971-22.] Substitute Measure to Take Same Number.

Whenever any measure proposed by initiative petition for submission to the legislature is rejected by the legislature and the legislature proposes a different measure dealing with the same subject, the secretary of state shall give such different measure the same serial number as that borne by the initiative measure followed by the letter "B," and such measure proposed by the legislature shall be designated as "Alternative Measure No. — B," and the secretary of state shall obtain from the attorney general a ballot title therefor in the manner provided in this act for obtaining ballot titles for initiative measures, and shall certify the alternative serial number and ballot title of such alternative measure to the county auditors for printing on the ballots for the election at which such measures are to be submitted to the people, in like manner as initiative measures for submission to the people are certified. The ballot title for such alternative measure shall be different from the ballot title of the initiative measure in lieu of which it is proposed, and shall indicate as clearly as possible the essential differences in the measure. [L. '13, p. 429, § 22.]

§ 5419. [4971-23.] Printing of Numbers and Titles on Ballots.

It shall be the duty of the several county auditors to cause to be printed on the official ballots for the election at which initiative and referendum measures are to be submitted to the people for their approval or rejection the serial numbers and ballot titles, certified by the secretary of state, under separate headings in the order of the serial numbers. Measures proposed for submission to the people by initiative petition shall be under the heading, "Provided by Initiative Petition"; bills passed by the legislature and ordered referred to the people by referendum petition shall be under the heading, "Passed by the Legislature and Ordered Referred by Petition"; bills passed and referred to the people by the legislature shall be under the heading, "Proposed to the People by the Legislature"; measures proposed to the legislature and rejected or not acted upon shall be under the heading, "Proposed to the Legislature and Referred to the People"; measures proposed to the legislature and alternative measures passed by the legislature in lieu thereof shall be under the heading, "Initiated by Petition and Alternative by Legislature." [L. '13, p. 429, § 23.]

§ 5420. [4971-24.] Provision for Voting—Ballot.

Except as in the next succeeding section provided, each measure submitted to the people for approval or rejection shall be so printed on the ballot, under the proper heading, that a voter can by making one cross (X) express his approval or rejection of such measure. Substantially the following form shall be a compliance with this section:

PROPOSED BY INITIATIVE PETITION.

Initiative Measure No. 22, entitled (here insert the ballot title of the measure).

FOR Initiative Measure No. 22☐

AGAINST Initiative Measure No. 22☐

§ 5421. [4971-25.] Alternative—Ballot.

In all cases where initiative measures proposed to the legislature have been rejected by the legislature and alternative measures passed by the legislature in lieu thereof the serial numbers and ballot titles of both such measures shall be so printed on the official ballots that a voter can express separately by making one cross (X) for each, two preferences: first, as between either measure and neither, and secondly, as between one and the other, as provided in the Constitution. Substantially the following form shall be a compliance with the constitutional provision:

INITIATED BY PETITION AND ALTERNATIVE BY LEGISLATURE.

Initiative Measure No. 25, entitled (here insert the ballot title of the initiative measure).

Alternative Measure No. 25B, entitled (here insert the ballot title of the alternative measure).

§ 5422. [4971-26.] Arguments—Number—Selection.

The person, persons, committee or organization filing any initiative or referendum petition proposing a measure, or ordering a referendum for submission to the people, and any other citizen or committee or organization of citizens shall have the right at the time of filing such petition or within ten days after such petition has been accepted and filed, to file with the secretary of state for printing and distribution arguments advocating the proposed measure or referendum, and any citizen or committee or organization of citizens may, within twenty days after such petition has been accepted and filed, file an argument in opposition to such measure or referendum for printing and distribution, provided, that not more than two separate arguments advocating such measure of referendum and not more than three separate arguments in opposition thereto shall be printed by and distributed at the expense of the state. If more than two arguments advocating or more than three arguments in opposition to such measure or referendum are filed, the secretary of state shall forthwith notify the persons filing the arguments advocating or in opposition to such measure or referendum of that fact, and if the persons filing such arguments do not agree among themselves within thirty days after the acceptance and filing of such petition as to which of said arguments shall be printed by the state, the secretary of state shall select for printing, binding and distribution, in addition to the argument advocating such measure filed by the persons proposing the same, one additional argument, and shall select three arguments in opposition to such measure, to be printed by the state. In making such selections the secretary of state shall select the argument advocating and the three arguments in opposition to the measure which he shall consider the strongest, taking into account the arguments proposed and the form in which they are presented. If in the opinion of the secretary of state any arguments for or against a measure offered for filing contain any obscene, vulgar, profane, scandalous, libelous, defamatory or treasonable matter or any language tending to provoke crime or a breach of the peace, or any language or matter the circulation of which through the mails is prohibited by any act of congress, the secretary of state shall refuse to file such argument: Provided, that the person submitting such argument for filing may appeal to a board of censors consisting of the governor, the attorney general and the superintendent of public instruction, and the decision of a majority of such board shall be final. Each such argument either for or against the measure shall not exceed two pages of the pamphlet hereinafter required to be published by the state and shall contain the serial designation and number of the measure and state the name of the person or organization advancing it. The person or organization filing such argument shall at the time of filing the same deposit with the secretary of state sufficient money, the amount to be estimated by the secretary of state, to cover the increased cost of paper for the printing and binding of such argument. In the case of measures initiated by petition and submitted to the legislature and alternatives passed by the legislature in lieu thereof, the person, committee or organization proposing the measure may likewise within ten days after the filing of the petition, or within ten days after the final passage of the alternative measure, file an argument in support of the initiative measure, and other citizens may file arguments in support thereof within ten days after the final passage of the alternative measure, and the legislature may by resolution file an argument in support of the alternative measure, and other citizens may file arguments in support thereof. But only two arguments in support of each measure, in addition to the argument filed by the proponents of the measure, and by the legislature, shall be printed by and distributed at the expense of the state, and if the persons filing arguments do not agree among themselves as to what arguments shall be printed the secretary of state shall select arguments to be printed. Arguments for and against bills passed and referred to the people by the legislature, including amendments to the Constitution proposed by the legislature, shall be filed, selected and printed in the same manner. § 5423. [4971-27.*] Publication of Pamphlet.

At least sixty days prior to any election at which any initiative or referendum measure is to be submitted to the people, the secretary of state shall cause to be printed in pamphlet form a true copy of the serial designation and number, the ballot title, the legislative title, the full text of and the argument for and arguments against each such measure, including amendments to the Constitution proposed by the legislature, to be submitted to the people in the foregoing order, and shall cause all of such measures to be printed and bound in a single pamphlet in the following order: First, those "Proposed by Initiative Petition"; second, those "Proposed to the People by the Legislature"; third, those "Proposed to the Legislature and Referred to the People"; fourth, those "Initiated by Petition and Alternative by the Legislature"; fifth, "Amendments to the Constitution Proposed by the Legislature"; and sixth "Measures Recommending Constitutional Conventions." The pages of such pamphlet shall be not larger than five and three-fourths by eight and three-fourths inches in size, and the outside measurement of the printed matter of each page shall be not less than four and one-half by seven and one-third inches, including running head, and shall be printed in eight-point roman-faced type, set solid in two columns, each thirteen ems pica to the line, separated by a pica slug, with appropriate headings. Said pamphlet shall be printed on No. 1 print paper weighing thirty-two pounds to the ream of sheets twenty-four by thirty-six inches. The cost of printing and binding such pamphlets shall be paid from the money appropriated for printing for the secretary of state: Provided, the increased cost of printing and binding such arguments shall be paid from the moneys deposited to cover the same and the balance of any such moneys, if any, and the moneys deposited for arguments not printed shall be returned to the persons depositing it respectively. Such number of pamphlets shall be printed as shall fill the requirements as to distribution hereinafter provided. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to publish in such pamphlets a table of contents and a brief alphabetical index of subjects. [L. '17, p. 99, § 1; L. '13, p. 433, § 27.]

The cost of mailing or shipping said pamphlets shall be paid from the money appropriated for postage for the secretary of state. It shall be the duty of the county auditors of the several counties to transmit the copies of the pamphlets so furnished them to the election officers of the respective precincts, to be kept at the polling place throughout election day for the information of voters. [L. '13, p. 434, § 29.]

The votes on the initiative and referendum measures submitted to the people, as in this act provided, shall be counted, canvassed and returned by the regular precinct election officers, and by the county auditors, in the manner provided by law for canvassing and returning votes for candidates for state offices. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state, in the presence of the governor, within thirty days after any such election to canvass the votes for each measure and certify to the governor the result thereof, and the governor shall forthwith issue his proclamation giving the whole number of votes cast in the state for and against such measure, and declaring such measures as are approved by the majority of those voting thereupon, provided that the vote cast upon such measure shall equal one-third of the total vote cast at such election, to be the law of the state of Washington from the date of such proclamation. [L. '13, p. 435, § 30.]

§ 5431. [4973.] Right to Lease or Purchase.

Any corporation incorporated or that may hereafter be incorporated under the laws of this state or any state or territory of the United States, for the purpose of manufacturing, transmitting or selling electric power, may lease or purchase and operate (except in cases where such lease or purchase is prohibited by the Constitution of this state) the whole or any part of the plant for manufacturing or distributing electric power or energy of any other corporation, heretofore or hereafter constructed, together with the franchises, powers, immunities and all other property or appurtenances appertaining thereto: Provided, that such lease or purchase has been or shall be consented to by stockholders of record holding at least two-thirds in amount of the capital stock of the lessor or grantor corporation; and all such leases and purchases heretofore made or entered into by consent of stockholders as aforesaid are for all intents and purposes hereby ratified and confirmed, saving, however, any vested rights of private parties. [L. '03, p. 362, § 3.]

§ 5432. [4974.] Power of Eminent Domain Granted — Must Assume Duties of Public Service Corporation.

Any corporation authorized to do business in this state, which, under the present laws of the state, is authorized to condemn property for the purpose of generating and transmitting electrical power for the operation of railroads, or railways, or for municipal lighting, and which by its charter or articles of incorporation, assumes the additional right to sell electric power and electric light to private consumers outside the limits of a municipality and to sell electric power to private consumers within the limits of a municipality, which shall provide in its articles that in respect of the purposes mentioned in this section it will assume and undertake to the state and to the inhabitants thereof the duties and obligations of a public service corporation, shall be deemed to be in respect of such purposes a public service corporation, and shall be held to all the duties, obligations and control, which by law are or may be imposed upon public service corporations. Any such corporation shall have the right to sell electric light outside the limits of a municipality and electric power both inside and outside such limits to private consumers from the electricity generated and transmitted by it for public purposes and not needed by it therefor: Provided, that such corporation shall furnish such excess power at equal rates, quantity and conditions considered, to all consumers alike, and shall supply it to the first applicants therefor until the amount available shall be exhausted: Provided further, that no such corporation shall be obliged to furnish such excess power to any one consumer to an amount exceeding twenty-five per cent of the total amount of such excess power generated or transmitted by it. In exercising the power of eminent domain for public purposes it shall not be an objection thereto that a portion of the electric current generated will be applied to private purposes, provided the principal uses intended are public: Provided, that all public service or quasi-public service corporations shall at no time sell, deliver and dispose of electrical power in bulk to manufacturing concerns at the expense of its public service functions, and any person, firm or corporation that is a patron of such corporation as to such public function, shall have the right to apply to any court of competent jurisdiction to correct any violation of the provisions of this act. § 5434. [4976.] Action Against Company for Violation of Act—Procedure.

In the event of the violation of any of the requirements of this act by any corporation availing itself of its provisions, an appropriate suit may be maintained in the name of state upon the relation of the attorney general, or, if he shall refuse or neglect to act, upon the relation of any individual aggrieved by the violation, or violations, complained of, to compel such corporation to comply with the requirements of this act. A violation of this act shall cause the forfeiture of the corporate franchise if the corporation refuses or neglects to comply with the orders with respect thereto made in the suit herein provided for. [L. '07, p. 350, § 3.]

“Act” refers to the two last previous sections.

§ 5435. [4976-1.] Rules for Construction.

It shall be unlawful from and after the passage of this act for any officer, agent, or employee of the state of Washington, or of any county, city or other political subdivision thereof, or for any other person, firm or corporation, or its officers, agents or employees, to run, place, erect, maintain, or use any electrical apparatus or construction, except as provided in the rules of this act.

Rule 1. No wire or cable carrying a current of less than seven hundred fifty (750) volts of electricity within the corporate limits of any city or town shall be run, placed, erected, maintained or used on any insulator the center of which is less than thirteen (13) inches from the center line of any pole. And no such wire shall be run past any pole to which it is not attached at a distance of less than thirteen (13) inches from the center line thereof. This rule shall not apply to any wire or cable where the same is run from underground and placed vertically on the pole; nor to any wire or cable where the same is attached to the top of the pole; nor to a pole-top fixture as between it and the same pole; nor to any wire or cable between the points where the same is made to leave any pole or fixture thereon for the purpose of entering any building or other structure and the point of attachment to such building or structure; nor to any jumper wire or cable carrying a current or connected with a transformer or other appliance on the same pole; nor to bridle or jumper wires on any pole which are attached to or connected with single wires on the same pole; nor to any aerial cable as between such cable and any pole upon which it originates or terminates; nor to exclusive telephone or telegraph toll-lines; nor to aerial cables containing telephone, telegraph, or signal wires, or wires continuing from same, where the cable is attached to poles on which no wires or cables other than the wires continuing from said cable are maintained, provided, that electric light or power wires or cables are in no case maintained on the same side of the street or highway on which said aerial cable is placed.

Rule 2. No wire or cable used to carry a current of over seven hundred fifty (750) volts of electricity within the incorporate limits of any city or town shall be run, placed, erected, maintained or used on any insulator the center of which is nearer than twenty-four (24) inches to the center line of any pole. And no such wire or cable shall be run past any pole to which it is not attached at a distance of less than twenty-four (24) inches from the center line thereof: Provided, that this shall not apply to any wire or cable where the same is run from underground and placed vertically on the pole; nor to any wire or cable where the same is attached to the top of the pole; nor to a pole-top fixture, as between it and the same pole; nor to any wire or cable between the points where the same is made to leave any pole or fixture thereon for the purpose of entering any building or other structure, and the point of attachment to said building or structure; nor to any jumper wire or cable carrying a current or connected with transformers or other appliances on the same pole: Provided, further, that where said wire or cable is run vertically, it shall be rigidly supported and where possible run on the ends of the cross-arms.

Rule 3. No wire or cable carrying a current of more than seven hundred fifty (750) volts, and less than seventy-five hundred (7,500) volts of electricity, shall be run, placed, erected, maintained or used within three (3) feet of any wire or cable carrying a current of seven hundred fifty (750) volts or less of electricity; and no wire or cable carrying a current of more than seventy-five hundred (7,500) volts of electricity shall be run, placed, erected, maintained, or used within seven (7) feet of any wire or cable carrying less than seventy-five hundred (7,500) volts.

Provided, that the foregoing provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to any wire or cable within buildings or other structures; nor where the same are run from underground and placed vertically upon the pole; nor to any service wire or cable where the same is made to leave any pole or fixture thereon for the purpose of entering any building or other structure, and the point of attachment to said building or structure; nor to any jumper wire or cable carrying a current or connected with a transformer or other appliance on the same pole.

Provided, that where run vertically, wires or cables shall be rigidly supported, and where possible run on the ends of the cross-arms.

Provided, further, that as between any two wires or cables mentioned in Rules 1, 2 and 3 of this section, only the wires or cables last in point of time so run, placed, erected or maintained, shall be held to be in violation of the provisions thereof.

Rule 4. No wire or cable used for telephone, telegraph, district messenger, or call-bell circuit, fire or burglar alarm, or any other similar system, shall be run, placed, erected, maintained or used on any pole at a distance of less than three (3) feet from any wire or cable carrying a current of over three hundred (300) volts of electricity; and in all cases (except those mentioned in exceptions to Rules 1, 2 and 3) where such wires or cables are run, above or below, or cross over or under electric light or power wires, or a trolley wire, a suitable method of construction, or insulation or protection to prevent contact shall be maintained as between such wire or cable and such electric light, power or trolley wire; and said methods of construction, insulation or protection shall be installed by, or at the expense of the person owning the wire last placed in point of time: Provided, that telephone, telegraph or signal wires or cables operated for private use and not furnishing service to the public, may be placed less than three (3) feet from any line carrying a voltage of less than seven hundred and fifty (750) volts.

Rule 5. Transformers, either single or in bank, that exceed a total capacity of over ten (10) K. W. shall be supported by a double cross-arm, or some fixture equally as strong. No transformer shall be placed, erected, maintained or used on any cross-arm or other appliance on a pole upon which is placed a series electric arc lamp or arc light: Provided, this shall not apply to a span wire supporting a lamp only. All aerial and underground transformers used for low potential distribution shall be subjected to an insulation test in accordance with the standardized rules of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. In addition to this each transformer shall be tested at rated line voltage prior to each installation and shall have attached to it a tag showing the date on which the test was made, and the name of the person making the test.

Rule 6. No wire or cable carrying more than seventy-five hundred (7,500) volts of electricity shall be run, placed, erected, maintained or used on curves or corners of greater than fifteen (15) degrees without maintaining guards sufficient to hold said wire or cable in case of breakage of pins or insulators to which the same are attached, except where said wire or cable terminates or dead-ends on curves or corners.

No wire or cable, other than ground wires, used to conduct or carry electricity, shall be placed, run, erected, maintained or used vertically on any pole without causing such wire or cable to be at all times sufficiently insulated the full length thereof to insure the protection of anyone coming in contact with said wire or cable.

Rule 7. The neutral point or wire of all transformer secondaries strung or erected for use in low potential distributing systems shall be grounded in all cases where the normal maximum difference of potential between the ground and any point in the secondary circuit will not exceed one hundred and fifty (150) volts. When no neutral point or wire is accessible one side of the secondary circuit shall be grounded in the case of single phase transformers, and any one common point in the case of interconnected polyphase bank or banks of transformers. Where the maximum difference of potential between the ground and any point in the secondary circuit will, when grounded, exceed one hundred fifty (150) volts, grounding shall be permitted. Such grounding shall be done in the manner provided in Rule 33.

Rule 8. In all cases where a wire or cable larger than No. 14 B. W. G. originates or terminates on insulators attached to any pin or other appliances, said wire or cable shall be attached to at least two insulators.

Provided, however, that this section shall not apply to service wires to buildings; nor to wires run vertically on a pole; nor to wires originating or terminating on strain insulators or circuit breakers; nor to telephone, telegraph or signal wires outside the limits of any incorporated city or town.

Rule 9. All poles along which shall be run vertically any wire or cable used to conduct or carry a current of over two hundred fifty (250) volts shall be provided with steps, and no steps shall be placed on any pole nearer the ground than seven (7) feet.

Rule 10. Fixtures placed or erected for the support of wires on the roofs of buildings shall be of sufficient strength to withstand all strains to which they may be subjected, due to the breaking of all wires on one side thereof, and, except where insulated wires or cables are held close to fire walls by straps or rings, shall be of such height and so placed that all of the wires supported by such fixtures shall be at least seven (7) feet above any point of roofs less than one-quarter pitch over which they pass or may be attached, and no roof fixtures or wire shall be so placed that they will interfere with the free passage of persons upon, over, to or from the roofs.

Rule 11. No guy wire or cable shall be placed, run, erected, maintained or used within the incorporate limits of any city or town on any pole or appliance to which is attached any wire or cable used to conduct electricity without causing said guy wire or cable to be efficiently insulated with circuit breakers at all times at a distance of not less than eight feet nor more than ten feet measured along the line of said guy wire or cable from each end thereof: Provided, no circuit breaker shall be required at the lower end of the guy wire or cable where the same is attached to a ground anchor, nor shall any circuit breaker be required where said guy wire or cable runs direct from a grounded messenger wire to a grounded anchor rod.

Rule 12. In all span wires used for the purpose of supporting trolley wires or series arc lamps there shall be at least two circuit breakers, one of which shall at all times be maintained no less than four (4) feet nor more than six (6) feet distance from the trolley wire or series arc lamp, and in cases where the same is supported by a building or metallic pole, the other circuit breaker shall be maintained at the building or at the pole: Provided, that in span wires which support two or more trolley wires no circuit breaker shall be required in the span wire between any two of the trolley wires: Provided, further that in span wires supporting trolley wires attached to wooden poles only the circuit breaker adjacent to the trolley wire shall be required.

Rule 13. At all points where in case of a breakdown of trolley span wires, the trolley wire would be liable to drop within seven (7) feet of the ground, there shall be double span wires and hangers placed at such points.

Rule 14. All wires or appliances carrying a current of less than seventy-five hundred (7,500) volts, inside of any building or vault, for the distribution of electrical energy, shall be sufficiently insulated, or so guarded, located, or arranged as to protect any person from injury. All wires or appliances carrying a current of over seventy-five hundred (7,500) volts, shall be insulated, or so located or arranged, as to protect any person from injury; or shall be protected by a grounded metallic guard screen or other device equally as efficient, so arranged that no person may come within three times the arcing distance of the given voltage of such conductor or appliances as rated by the American Institute of Electrical Engineers for discharges between needle points; or by a guard-rail or other device so arranged that no person may come within three feet of the same.

Rule 15. The secondary circuit of current transformers, the casings of all potential regulators and arc-light transformers, all metal frames of all switchboards, metal oil tanks used on oil switches except where the tank is part of the conducting system, all motor and generator frames, the entire frame of the crane and the tracks of all traveling cranes and hoisting devices, shall be thoroughly grounded, as provided in Rule 33.

Rule 16. All generators and motors having a potential of more than three hundred (300) volts shall be provided with a suitable insulated platform or mat so arranged as to permit the attendant to stand upon such platform or mat when working upon the live parts of such generators or motors.

Rule 17. Suitable insulated platforms or mats shall be provided for the use of all men while working on any live part of switchboards on which any wire or appliance carries a potential in excess of three hundred (300) volts.

Rule 18. Every generator, motor, transformer, switch or other similar piece of apparatus and device used in the generation, transmission or distribution of electrical energy in stations or substations, shall be either provided with a name plate giving the capacity in volts and amperes, or have this information stamped thereon in such a manner as to be clearly legible.

Rule 19. In all cases there shall be two switches used at the station or substation in each feeder for the transmission of electrical energy at constant potential of seven hundred fifty (750) volts or over; one shall be an oil switch so situated as to insure the safety of the person operating the same; the other shall be a disconnecting switch: Provided, that oil switches shall not be required in direct current feeders.

Rule 20. When lines of seven hundred fifty (750) volts or over are cut out at the station or substation to allow employees to work upon them, they shall be short-circuited and grounded at the station, and shall in addition, if the line wires are bare, be short-circuited, and where possible grounded at the place where the work is being done.

Rule 21. All switches installed with overload protection devices and all automatic overload circuit breakers must have the trip coils so adjusted as to afford complete protection against overloads and short circuits, and the same must be so arranged that no pole can be opened manually without opening all the poles, and the trip coils shall be instantly operative upon closing.

Rule 22. All feeders for electric railways must, before leaving the plant or substation, be protected by an approved circuit breaker which will cut off the circuit in case of an accidental ground or short circuit.

Rule 23. There shall be provided in all distributing stations a ground detecting device.

Rule 24. There shall be provided in all stations, plants, and buildings herein specified warning cards printed on red cardboard not less than two and one-fourth by four and one-half inches in size, which shall be attached to all switches opened for the purpose of linemen or other employees working on the wires. The person opening any line switch shall enter upon said card the name of the person ordering the switch opened, the time opened, the time line was reported clear and by whom, and shall sign his own name.

Rule 25. No manhole containing any wire carrying a current of over three hundred (300) volts shall be less than six (6) feet from floor to inside of roof; if circular in shape it shall not be less than six feet in diameter; if square it shall be six feet from wall to wall: Provided, however, that this paragraph shall not apply to any manhole in which it shall not be required that any person enter to perform work: Provided, further, that the foregoing provisions of this paragraph shall not apply where satisfactory proof shall be submitted to the proper authorities that it is impracticable or physically impossible to comply with this law within the space or location designated by the proper authorities.

Rule 26. All manholes containing any wires or appliances carrying electrical current shall be kept in a sanitary condition, free from stagnant water or seepage or other drainage which is offensive or dangerous to health, either by sewer connection or otherwise, while any person is working in the same.

Rule 28. No manhole shall have an opening which is, at the surface of the ground, within a distance of three (3) feet at any point from any rail of any railway or street-car track: Provided, that this shall not apply where satisfactory proof shall be submitted to the proper authorities that it is impracticable or physically impossible to comply with the provisions of this paragraph: Provided, that in complying with the provisions of this rule only the construction last in point of time performed, placed or erected shall be held to be in violation thereof.

Rule 29. Whenever persons are working in any manhole whose opening to the outer air is less than three (3) feet from the rail of any railway or street-car track, a watchman or attendant shall be stationed on the surface at the entrance of such manhole at all times while work is being performed therein.

Rule 30. There shall be provided proper cutout switches on all primary and secondary wires in all manholes where the wires are connected with transformers or other electrical devices therein.

Rule 31. All persons employed in manholes shall be furnished with insulated platforms so as to protect the workmen while at work in the manholes: Provided, that this paragraph shall not apply to manholes containing only telephone, telegraph or signal wires or cables.

experienced person is regularly employed, and a second competent and experienced person cannot be obtained without delay at prevailing rate of pay in said district, such work shall be permitted to be done by one competent and experienced person and a helper who need not be on the same pole on which said work is being done.

No work shall be permitted to be done in any manhole or subway on any live wire, cable or appliance carrying more than three hundred volts of electricity by less than two competent and experienced persons, who at all times while performing such work shall be in the same manhole or subway in which such work is being done.

Rule 33. The grounding provided for in these rules shall be done in the following manner: by connecting a wire or wires not less than No. 6 B. & S. gauge to a water-pipe of a metallic system outside of the meter, if there is one, or to a copper plate one-sixteenth inch thick and not less than three feet by six feet area buried in coke below the permanent moisture level, or to other device equally as efficient. The ground wire or wires of a direct current system of three or more wires shall not be smaller than the neutral wire at the central station, and not smaller than a No. 6 B. & S. gauge elsewhere: Provided, that the maximum cross-section area of any ground wire or wires at the central station need not exceed one million circular mils. The ground wires shall be carried in as nearly a straight line as possible, and kinks, coils and short bends shall be avoided: Provided, that the provisions of this rule shall not apply as to size to ground wires run from instrument transformers or meters. [L. '13, p. 397, § 1.]

§ 5441. [4977.] Lawful Fence Defined.

The following shall be considered lawful fences in this state: Post and rail or plank fences, five feet high, made of sound posts five inches in diameter, set substantially in the ground, not more than ten feet apart, with four planks not less than one inch thick and six inches wide, securely fastened by nails or otherwise, said planks not more than nine inches apart; post and rail fences, with posts not more than ten feet apart and rails not less than four inches wide (five of them), made in all other respects the same as the first described in this section; worm fences made in the usual way, of sound, substantial rails or poles, five feet high, including riders with stakes firmly set in the ground, and spaces no greater than in post and plank or rail fences, except the two lower spaces, which shall not be more than four inches, and the top spaces, between riders, not to be more than sixteen inches. Ditch and pole, or board or rail fence, shall be made of a ditch not less than four feet wide on top and three feet deep, embankment thrown up on the inside of the ditch, with substantial posts set in the embankment not more than ten feet apart, and a plank, pole, or rail securely fastened to said posts at least seven feet high from the bottom of the ditch. [Cf. L. '69, p. 323, § 1; L. '71, p. 63, § 1; L. '73, p. 447, § 1; Cd. '81, § 2488; 1 H. C., § 2544.]

This section requires an owner of inclosed lands to fence only against stock lawfully at large, and not against stock in an adjoining inclosed field; and where the owner of stock in his own inclosure does not avail himself of the statutory provisions for the maintenance of a division fence, the common-law rule applies, and he is liable for trespass by reason of the failure of the division fence to restrain his stock: Kobayashi v. Strangeway, 64 Wash. 36, 116 Pac. 461.

§ 5443. [4979.] Trespass by Animals—Liability for.

Any person making and maintaining in good repair, around his or her inclosure or inclosures, any fence such as is described in the last two preceding sections may recover in a suit for trespass before the nearest court having competent jurisdiction, from the owner or owners of any animal or animals which shall break through such fence, in full for all damages sustained on account of such trespass, together with the costs of suits; and the animal or animals so trespassing may be taken and held as security for the payment of such damages and costs: Provided that such person shall have such fences examined and the damages assessed by three reliable disinterested parties and practical farmers, within five days next after the trespass has been committed: And provided further, that if before trial the owner of such trespassing animal or animals shall have tendered the person injured any costs which may have accrued, and also the amount in lieu of damages which shall equal or exceed the amount of damages afterwards awarded by the court or jury, and the person injured shall refuse the same and cause the trial to proceed, such person shall pay all costs, and receive only the damages awarded. When any fence has been, or shall hereafter be, erected by any person on the boundary line of his land and the person owning land adjoining thereto shall make, or cause to be made, an inclosure, so that such fence may also answer the purpose of inclosing his grounds, he shall pay the owner of such fence already erected one-half of the value of so much thereof as serves for a partition fence between them: Provided, that in case such fence has woven wire or other material known as hog fencing, then the adjoining owner shall not be required to pay the extra cost of such hog fencing over and above the cost of erecting a lawful fence, as by law defined, unless such adjoining owner has his land fenced with hog fencing and uses the partition fence to make a hog inclosure of his land then he shall pay to the one who owns said hog fence one-half of the value thereof. [L. '07, p. 18, § 1. Cf. L. '69, p. 324, § 4; L. '71, p. 65, § 4; L. '73, p. 448, § 4; Cd. '81, § 2491; 1 H. C., § 2547.]

§ 5447. [4983.] Partition Fence—Who shall Repair.

The respective owners of adjoining inclosures shall keep up and maintain in good repair all partition fences between such inclosures in equal shares, so long as they shall continue to occupy or improve the same; and in case either of the parties shall desire to make such fence capable of turning hogs and the other party does not desire to use it for such purpose, then the party desiring to use it shall have the right to attach hog-fencing material to the posts of such fence, which hog fencing shall remain the property of the party who put it up, and he may remove it at any time he desires: Provided, that he leaves the fence in as good condition as it was when the hog fencing was by him attached, the natural decay of the posts excepted. The attaching of such hog fencing shall not relieve the other party from the duty of keeping in repair his part of such fence, as to all materials used in said fence additional to said hog fencing. CHAPTER X.

COUNTY DEPOSITARIES.

§ 5562. [5072.] Designation of Depositary by County Treasurer.

Each county treasurer in this state shall on the first day of July, 1907, and annually on the second Monday in January thereafter, and at such other times as he may deem necessary, designate one or more banks in the state as depositary or depositaries of all public funds held and required to be kept by him as such treasurer, and such designation or designations shall be in writing, and the same shall be filed with the board of county commissioners of his county, and no county treasurer shall deposit any public money in banks, except as herein provided. [L. '07, p. 74, § 1.]

Cited in 108 Wash. 598; 109 Wash. 197.

The designation of a bank as county depositary was intended to continue indefinitely and is not limited to one year, by this section; since the word "shall" relates to the first designation, while the word "annually" must be read in connection with the words immediately following: National Surety Co. v. Campbell, 108 Wash. 596, 185 Pac. 602.

This section, providing that county treasurers "shall" annually designate a depositary, is not mandatory as to requiring annual appointments; the time for the performance of an act generally being directory, and depending on the spirit as well as the letter of the law: National Surety Co. v. Campbell, 108 Wash. 596, 185 Pac. 602.

A proviso attached to a statute is a restraint upon or exception to it and does not extend the scope of the class of persons that come within it: Tatum v. Marsh Mines Consolidated, 108 Wash. 367, 185 Pac. 602.

§ 5563. [5073.] Bond—Approval of—Securities in Lieu of.

§ 5564. [5074.] Contract as to Interest.

Before any such designation or designations shall become effectual and entitle said treasurer to make deposits as hereinabove provided, the bank or banks so deposited shall also enter into a written contract with the county whose treasurer is to make such deposits, to pay to said county, to be credited to the county expense fund thereof two per centum per annum on the average daily balances of all moneys so deposited by such county treasurer in said bank while acting as such depositary; such payments to be made monthly to said county while such deposits continue in such depositary; said contract shall be in such form as shall be approved by the board of county commissioner and the prosecuting attorney of said county. § 5584. [5094.] Election to Authorize Issuance of Bonds for Bridges, etc.

The board of county commissioners for any county may, whenever a majority thereof shall so decide (provided, the county commissioners of any county may, when deemed for the best interest of their county, order a special election during the year eighteen hundred and ninety), submit to the bona fide voters of their county the question whether the said board shall be authorized to issue coupon bonds to the amount not to exceed five per centum of the taxable property in said county, bearing a rate of interest not exceeding six per cent per annum, and payable and redeemable at a time fixed by the said board of county commissioners, for the purpose of making a new road or roads, or bridge or bridges, or improving established roads within said county. This section excludes the idea that it may issue bonds for general repair of roads; and the law on the particular subject not authorizing the same, such bonds could not be issued under section 5576, supra, previously passed at the same session of the legislature, authorizing a county to issue bonds for strictly county purposes: Shea v. Skagit County, 68 Wash. 233, 122 Pac. 1061.

§ 5585. [5095.] How to be Held—Ballots—Bonds, When to Issue, and Requisites of.

Such election may be held at the times and in the manner provided for holding general elections in this state, and it may be held as a special election at such time as the board of county commissioners may designate. The ballots used must contain the words "Bonds, Yes," and "Bonds, No." If three-fifths of the legal ballots cast on the question of issuing bonds for the improvement contemplated in the last section shall be in favor of bonds, the said commissioners must issue said bonds in due and legal form, and negotiate or float the same to the best advantage for the county, at not less than par value. Such bonds must bear the signature of the chairman of such board of commissioners, and be countersigned by the county auditor of the county in whose name they are issued, with the seal of the county thereunto attached; and the coupons must be signed by said chairman and said county auditor, and each bond so issued must be registered in the office of the county treasurer, in a book provided for that purpose, which must show the date, number and amount of the bond, and the name, and address of the person to whom the same is issued. [L. '13, p. 475, § 1. Cf. L. '90, p. 41, § 2; L. '91, p. 174, § 1; 1 H. C., § 2684.]

§ 5586. [5096.] Notice of Election to State What.

The commissioners must give notice in some newspaper, having a general circulation in said county for a period of at least four weeks next preceding the date of election, setting forth the proposition as to amount, duration, and terms of the bonds to be issued, and state in such notice the roads or bridges to be built or improved. [L. '90, p. 41, § 3; 1 H. C., § 2685.]

§ 5587. [5097.] Proceeds of Bonds—How Disbursed.

When such bonds are sold, the money arising therefrom shall be immediately paid into the treasury of the county, and shall be drawn only for the improvement for which they were issued. [L. '90, p. 41, § 4; 1 H. C., § 2686.]

§ 5588. [5098.] Interest and Redemption of Bonds—Lien.

The commissioners must ascertain and levy annually the tax necessary to pay the interest on said bonds whenever the same becomes due, and a sinking fund to redeem the bonds at their maturity, and the said tax is a lien upon all property within the county, and must be collected in the same manner as other taxes are collected. [L. '90, p. 42, § 5; 1 H. C., § 2687.]

§ 5589. [5099.] Redemption of Bonds—Notice to be Mailed, When.

When the amount in the sinking fund equals or exceeds the interest and amount of any bond then due, the county treasurer shall post in his office a notice that he will, within thirty days from the date of such notice, redeem the bonds then payable, giving the numbers thereof; and preference must be given to the oldest issue: Provided, if the county treasurer is advised of the postoffice address of the holder of any such bonds, then he shall mail a written notice to such holder, and if, after expiration of the said thirty days, the holder or holders of said bonds shall fail or neglect to present the same for payment, interest thereon must cease, but the treasurer shall at all times thereafter be ready to redeem the same on presentation, and when any bonds are so purchased or redeemed, the county treasurer must cancel the same by writing across the face of each bond, in red ink, the word "Redeemed," and date of such redemption. [L. '90, p. 42, § 6; 1 H. C., § 2688.]

§ 5590. [5100.] Payment of Interest Coupons.

The county treasurer must pay out of any moneys belonging to the road fund so created the interest upon any bonds issued under this chapter, by such commissioners when the same becomes due, upon the presentation at his office of the proper coupon, which must show the amount due and the number of the bond to which it belongs; and all coupons so paid must be reported to the commissioners at their first meeting thereafter. § 5591. [5101.] Copy of Act to be Printed on Bonds.

§ 5592. [5101-1.] Coupon County Road Bonds—Limitation—Manner of Voting.

The board of county supervisors of any county may, whenever a majority thereof shall so decide, submit to the voters of their county at an election the question whether the said board shall be authorized to issue negotiable coupon road bonds of the county to the amount not to exceed five per centum of the taxable property in said county for the purpose of constructing a new road or roads, or improving established roads within said county, or for aiding in so doing, as prescribed in this act. The word "improvement" wherever employed in this act shall be deemed to embrace any undertaking for any or all of said purposes. The word "road" wherever employed in this act shall be deemed to embrace all highways, roads, streets, avenues, bridges, and other public ways. The provisions of this act shall apply not only to roads which are or shall be under the general control of the county, but also to all parts of state roads in such county and to all roads which are situated or are to be constructed wholly or partly within the limits of any incorporated city or town therein, provided the board of county commissioners finds that the same form or will become a part of the public highway system of such county, and will connect with existing roads in such county. Such finding may be made by the board of county commissioners at any stage of the proceedings before the actual delivery of the bonds. The constructing or improving of any and all such roads, or the aiding therein, is hereby declared to be a county purpose. The question of the issuance of bonds for any undertaking which relates to a number of different roads or parts thereof, whether intended to supply the whole expenditure or to aid therein, may be submitted to the voters as a single proposition in all cases where such course is consistent with the provisions of the state Constitution. If the county commissioners in submitting any such proposition relating to different roads or parts thereof find that such proposition has for its object the furtherance and accomplishment of the construction of a system of public and county highways in such county, and constitutes and has for its object a single purpose, such finding shall be presumed to be correct, and upon the issuance of the bonds such presumption shall become conclusive. No proposition for bonds shall be submitted which proposes that more than forty per cent of the proceeds thereof shall be expended within any city or town or within any number of cities and towns. [L. '13, p. 62, § 1.]

Specification of a certain highway must be construed to refer to the existing route: State ex rel. Thompson v. Pierce County, 113 Wash. 237, 193 Pac. 706.

§ 5593. [5101-2.] Time of Election—Form of Ballots—Bond—Form.

Such election may be held at the times and in the manner provided for holding general elections in this state, or it may be held as a special election at such time as the board of county commissioners may designate. The ballots used must contain the words, "Bonds, Yes," and "Bonds, No." If three-fifths of the legal ballots cast on the question of issuing bonds for the improvement contemplated in the last section shall be in favor of bonds, the said commissioners must issue such negotiable bonds in due and legal form, and negotiate or float the same in such manner as they may deem to the best advantage for the county, at not less than par value. The bonds authorized by this act shall be issued in the name of the county, in denominations of not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars; they shall be payable either (1) to some person or corporation (named therein) or the bearer, or (2) simply to the bearer, at such time as shall be stated therein, not more than twenty years after the date of issue, and bear interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, payable semi-annually; they may be made payable in any city in the United States containing a national bank; they shall bear the signature of the chairman of the board of county commissioners, and be countersigned by the county auditor of the county with the seal of county thereunto attached; and the interest coupons shall be signed by said chairman and said county auditor, and each bond so issued must be registered in the office of the county treasurer in a book provided for that purpose, which must show the date, number and amount of the bond, date of maturity, rate of interest, and the name and address of the person to whom the same is issued: Provided, that it shall be lawful, in case the county commissioners shall so order, for the coupons to bear lithographed or engraved facsimiles of the signatures of the chairman and county auditor instead of their original signatures. The county seal need not be affixed to the coupons. Each coupon must show the number of the bond to which it belongs. Such bonds and coupons shall be printed, engraved or lithographed on good bond paper. [L. '13, p. 63, § 2.]

After a notice of election specifying the exact route of the highway, the county commissioners cannot make a material departure under the authority of this section: Thompson v. Pierce County, 113 Wash. 237, 193 Pac. 706.

§ 5594. [5101-3.] Tax Levy for Interest—Sinking Fund—Investment.

The county commissioners must ascertain and levy annually a tax sufficient to pay the interest on all such bonds whenever the same becomes

due. At least five years prior to the maturity of such bonds and thenceforward in each year until their maturity, the county commissioners must ascertain and levy a tax sufficient to accumulate during such series of years a fund equal to the principal sum of all such bonds then remaining outstanding and unpaid, and the amount of such tax as collected shall be by the county treasurer credited to a special fund for the payment of the principal of such bonds, which shall be designated "Road Bonds of — Sinking Fund," (the blank to be filled by inserting the year in which the bonds are issued), and no part of said fund shall be diverted to any other purpose than the payment of such principal. But such fund or any accumulated part thereof may be invested at any time or times in such manner and under such safeguards as may hereafter be provided by the statutes of this state, in which case all interest or premiums that may be realized on any such investment, as well as the principal thereof, shall be credited to such fund. All such taxes levied either for interest or for the sinking fund shall be a lien upon all property within the county and must be collected in the same manner as other taxes are collected. The county treasurer must pay out of any money belonging to the fund accumulated from the taxes levied to pay the interest as aforesaid, the interest upon all such bonds when the same becomes due upon presentation at the place of payment of the proper coupon; all coupons so paid must be reported to the county commissioners at their first meeting thereafter. Whenever the coupons are payable at any place other than the city in which the county treasurer keeps his office, it shall be the duty of the county treasurer seasonably to remit to a suitable fiscal agent (which shall be either a fiscal agent appointed by the state of Washington or some responsible fiscal agent approved by the county commissioners) at the place of payment the amount of money required for the payment of any coupons which are about to fall due. When any such bonds or coupons are paid, the county treasurer shall suitably and indelibly cancel the same. [L. '13, p. 64, § 3.]

Tax levy and funds for general county road and bridge funds: See infra, §§ 6413-6422.

§ 5595. [5101-4.] Notice of Election.

The commissioners must give notice in some newspaper having a general circulation in said county for a period of at least four (4) weeks next preceding the date of the election, setting forth the proposition as to amount and duration of the bonds to be issued, and the rate of interest thereon which is not to be exceeded, and stating in such notice the road or roads to be built or improved. Such notice need not describe the road or roads with particularity, but it shall be sufficient either to describe the same by termini and with a general statement as to the course of the same, or to use any other appropriate language sufficient to show the purpose intended to be accomplished. The commissioners may, at their option, give such other or further notice as they may deem advisable. When the bonds are issued they may be made to bear the rate of interest stated in the notice or any less rate. [L. '13, p. 65, § 4.]

§ 5596. [5101-5.] Proceeds of Bonds—City Assistance—Limitation of Expenses.

When such bonds are sold, the money arising therefrom shall be immediately paid into the treasury of the county, and shall be drawn only for the improvement for which they were issued, under the general direction of the county commissioners: Provided, that if such improvement includes in whole or in part the constructing or improving of one or more roads, or any part or parts thereof, within the limits of any incorporated city or town and if the county commissioners shall find that the amount of the proceeds of such bonds intended to be expended for any such improvements within such corporate limits will probably not be sufficient to defray the entire expense of such improvement therein, and if they further find it to be equitable that such city or town should bear the remainder of such expense, they shall have power to postpone any expenditure therefor from the proceeds of such bonds until such city or town shall have made provision by ordinance for proceeding with such improvement within its corporate limits at its own expense so far as concerns the cost thereof over and above the amount of such bond proceeds available therefor. In such case it shall be lawful for the county commissioners to consent, under such general directions as they shall impose, that the proper authorities of such city or town shall have actual charge of making the proposed improvement within such corporate limits, such city or town acquiring any needed property or rights in doing the work by contract or otherwise in accordance with the charter or laws governing such city or town, but the same shall be subject to the approval of the county commissioners so far as concerns any payment therefor from the proceeds of such bonds. In such case, as the work progresses and money is needed to pay therefor, the county commissioners shall, from time to time, by proper order or orders, specifying the amount and purpose, direct the county treasurer to turn over to the city or town treasurer such part or parts of the proceeds of the bonds as may be justly applicable to such improvement or part thereof within such city or town, and any money so received by such city or town treasurer shall be inviolably applied to the purpose so specified. When that portion of the entire improvement which lies within any such city or town can readily be separated into parts, the procedure authorized by this section may be pursued separately as to any one or more of such parts of the general improvement. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to render the county liable for any greater part of the expense of any improvement or part thereof within any city or town than the proper amount of the proceeds of such bonds, or to prevent such city or town from raising any part of the cost of any such improvement or part of improvement, over and above the amount arising from the proceeds of such bonds, by assessment upon property benefited, or by contribution from any of its general or special funds in accordance with the provisions of the charter or laws governing such city or town. The provisions of this section, other than the direction for the payment into the county treasury of the money arising from the sale of the bonds, need not be complied with until after the issuance of the bonds and the validity of the bonds shall not be dependent upon such compliance. [L. '13, p. 66, § 5.]

§ 5597. [5101-6.] Validating Provisions.

In case at any election in any county the question of incurring any such indebtedness or issuing any such bonds has been submitted to the voters of such county by the county commissioners at any time within one year next prior to the day when this act shall take effect, and substantially in conformity herewith, and the vote at such election was such as would have authorized, by sufficient majority of votes, the incurring of such indebtedness and the issuance of such bonds had this act been in force, and had such vote been taken pursuant to the provisions of this act, then in that case such election and vote and all the proceedings in connection therewith had or taken in manner and form aforesaid, and the bond issue intended to be authorized by such proceedings and vote, be and the same are hereby validated and confirmed, with the same effect as if this act had been in force during all such time, and the county commissioners of such county are authorized and empowered to proceed with the matter of incurring such indebtedness and issuing such bonds by sale thereof and completing all proceedings in the manner provided by this act, and to expend the money arising from such bonds and to proceed with the improvement, whether within or without the limits of any city or town, in the manner provided by this act. [L. '13, p. 67, § 6.]

The submission of a bond issue for the construction of various county roads and bridges as a single proposition is validated by this section, where the county commissioners shall find that the proposition has for its object the construction of a system of county highways, and validating any such bonds where the submission would have been authorized under the act, if submitted at any time within one year prior to the taking effect of the act: Aylmore v. Hamilton, 74 Wash. 433, 133 Pac. 1027.

§ 5598. [5101-7.] Act Concurrent.

This act shall not be construed as repealing or affecting any other act relating to the issuance of bonds for road or other purposes, but shall be construed as conferring additional power and authority: Provided, that any proceedings which may have been begun under any other act but which are in substantial conformity with the provisions of this act, may be completed under the provisions of this act, with the same effect as if this act had been in force when such other proceedings were begun. § 5605. Limitation on Indebtedness.

No taxing district shall for any purpose become indebted in any manner to an amount exceeding one and one-half per centum of the last assessed valuation of the taxable property in such taxing district, without the assent of three-fifths of the voters therein voting at an election to be held for that purpose, nor in cases requiring such assent shall the total indebtedness at any time exceed five per centum of the last assessed valuation of the taxable property in such taxing district: Provided, that no part of the indebtedness allowed in this act shall be incurred for any purpose other than strictly county, city, town, school district, township, port district, metropolitan park district or other municipal purposes: Provided further, that any city or town, with such assent, may be allowed to become indebted to a larger amount, but not exceeding five per centum additional, determined as herein provided, for supplying such city or town with water, artificial light and sewers, when the works for supplying such water, light and sewers shall be owned and controlled by the city or town: Provided, further, that nothing herein contained shall be held to extend the debt limitations now imposed by law or any city charter on the powers of any taxing district. VALIDATING INDEBTEDNESS IN COUNTIES, CITIES AND TOWNS.

§ 5609. [5108a.] Manner of Ratifying Indebtedness.

Any county, city or town in this state other than any county or city of the first class may ratify in the manner prescribed by this act, the attempted incurring of any indebtedness of such county, city or town, by the issuing of warrants, making of contracts, or creations of other evidences of indebtedness on the part of such county, city or town, by the corporate authorities thereof at any time prior to the passage of this act, when the only ground of the invalidity of such indebtedness so to be ratified is that, at the time of such attempted incurring thereof, the same, together with all other then existing indebtedness of such county, city or town, exceeding one and one-half per centum of the taxable property in such county, city or town, ascertained by the last assessment for state and county purposes previous to the attempted incurring of such indebtedness, except that in incorporated cities the assessments shall be taken from the last assessment for city purposes, and that such indebtedness was so attempted to be incurred without the assent of three-fifths of the voters therein voting at an election held for that purpose. Whenever the corporate authorities of any such county, city or town shall deem it advisable that the ratification authorized by this act shall be obtained, they shall provide therefor by ordinance or resolution, which shall specify separately the amount of each distinct class of such indebtedness so to be ratified, the date or period of the attempted incurring by the corporate authorities of each separate class thereof, and the general nature of the indebtedness composed in each distinct class and shall provide for the holding of an election for that purpose, at which the attempted incurring of such indebtedness shall be submitted to the voters in such county, city or town for ratification or approval, of which election notice, to be provided for in such ordinance or resolution, shall be given by publishing the same in a newspaper published in such county, city or town once a week for at least four successive weeks, and if no newspaper is published in such city or town, then by publishing such notice for the same period in a newspaper published in the county wherein such city or town is situate and of general circulation therein. Each distinct class of such indebtedness so specified shall be the subject of a distinct vote in favor of or against the ratification thereof, and such vote shall designate the class of indebtedness referred to by the description thereof used and the amount specified in the ordinance or resolution. § 5611. [5110a.] Vote Necessary to Ratify.

If at an election held as provided for in section 5610, three-fifths of the voters of such county, city or town, voting at such election, shall vote in favor of the ratification of any distinct class of such indebtedness, specified in the ordinance or resolution providing for such election, then such indebtedness shall thereby become and is hereby declared to be validated and a binding obligation upon such county, city or town, when the only ground of the previous invalidity of such indebtedness is that at the time of the incurring thereof so ratified, the same, together with all other then existing indebtedness of such county, city or town, exceeding one and one-half per centum of the taxable property in such county, city or town ascertained by the last previous assessment for state and county purposes (except that in incorporated cities the assessment shall be taken from the last assessment for city purposes); Provided, that neither anything in this act contained nor the vote cast at any such election shall be deemed to validate or authorize any indebtedness, which, together with all other indebtedness of such county, city or town existing at the time of the attempted incurring of the same exceeded any constitutional limitation of indebtedness which might be incurred with the assent of three-fifths of the voters in such county, city or town voting at an election to be held for that purpose: And provided further, that this act shall apply only to indebtedness attempted to be incurred prior to the passage hereof. [L. '15, p. 355, § 3. Cf. L. '11, p. 615, § 3; L. '13, p. 481, § 3, and notes to § 5609.]

§ 5612. [5111a.] Construction.

The words "corporate authorities," used in this act, shall be held to mean the legislative or managing body of any county, city or town. [L. '15, p. 356, § 4. Cf. L. '11, p. 616, § 4; L. '13, p. 482, § 4, and notes to § 5609.]

"Act" refers to the foregoing sections of this chapter.

§ 5613. Sixth Class Counties—Ratification of Indebtedness.

Any county of the sixth class may, in the manner prescribed by this act, ratify the attempted incurring of any indebtedness by such county, by the issuing of warrants, making of contracts, or creating of other evidences of indebtedness on the part of such county, when the only ground of invalidity of such indebtedness to be so ratified is that, at the time of the attempted incurring thereof, the same, together with other existing indebtedness of such county within the one and one-half per cent limitation on county indebtedness exceeded such limitation as ascertained by the last assessment for state and county purposes previous to the attempted incurring of such indebtedness, and that the incurring of such indebtedness was so attempted without the assent of three-fifths of the voters of the county voting at an election held for that purpose. [L. '21, p. 167, § 1.]

§ 5614. Resolution for Ratification.

Whenever the board of county commissioners of any such county, shall deem it advisable that the ratification authorized by this act shall be obtained, they shall provide therefor by resolution, which shall specify separately the amount of each distinct class of such indebtedness to be so ratified, the date or period of the attempted incurring by the corporate authorities of each separate class thereof, and the general nature of the indebtedness composed in each distinct class and shall provide for the holding of a special election for that purpose, at which the attempted incurring of such indebtedness shall be submitted to the voters of such county, for ratification or rejection. Notice of such election shall be provided for in such resolution, and shall be given by publishing the same in a newspaper published in such county, once a week for at least four successive weeks. Each distinct class of such indebtedness so specified shall be the subject of a distinct vote in favor of or against ratification thereof, and such vote shall designate the class of indebtedness referred to by the description thereof used and the amount specified in the resolution. [L. '21, p. 167, § 2.]

§ 5615. Scope of Act.

If at any election held as provided for in section 5614, three-fifths of the voters of such county, voting at such election, shall vote in favor of the ratification of any distinct class of such indebtedness, then such indebtedness shall thereby become and is hereby declared to be validated and a binding obligation upon such county. Nothing in this act contained nor the vote cast at any such election shall be deemed to validate or authorize any indebtedness, which, together with all other indebtedness of such county, existing at the time of the attempted incurring of the same exceed any constitutional limitation of indebtedness which might be incurred with the assent of three-fifths of the voters in such county. Provided, that this act shall apply only to indebtedness attempted to be incurred prior to the passage thereof. [L. '21, p. 168, § 3.]

"Act" refers to the last four sections of this chapter.

§ 5616. Bonds Authorized.

Whenever the board of county commissioners of any such county shall submit to the voters the question of ratifying any indebtedness as provided in this act, they may at the same time submit the question whether the corporate authorities shall be authorized to fund such indebtedness by the issuance and sale of the general negotiable bonds of such county. The question of ratifying the indebtedness and the question of authorizing the funding thereof may, in the discretion of the county commissioners, be submitted as one question, or the question of ratifying and the question of authorizing the funding of the indebtedness may be separately submitted. In either event an affirmative vote of three-fifths of the voters voting upon said proposition at such election shall be necessary to carry such proposals whether separately or jointly submitted. It shall be lawful to fund the principal and accrued interest of the indebtedness so ratified. If the proposal to authorize the funding of the indebtedness shall carry, the corporate authorities in their discretion may issue and sell the bonds of the county, to the amount so authorized, in the manner and upon the terms and conditions now provided by law for the issuance, sale and redemption of like bonds of such county. [L. '21, p. 168, § 4.]

"Act" refers to the last four sections of this chapter.

FUNDING INDEBTEDNESS IN COUNTIES, CITIES AND TOWNS.

§ 5617. [5112.*] Funding Bonds, When and How Issued.

Any county, city or town in the state of Washington which now has or may hereafter have an outstanding indebtedness evidenced by warrants or bonds, including warrants or bonds of any city or town which are special fund obligations of and constitute a lien upon the waterworks or other public utilities of such city or town, and are payable only from the income or funds derived or to be derived therefrom, whether issued originally within the limitations of the Constitution of this state, or of any law thereof, or whether such outstanding indebtedness has been or may hereafter be validated or legalized in the manner prescribed by law, may, by its corporate authorities, provide by ordinance or resolution for the issuance of funding bonds with which to take up and cancel such outstanding indebtedness in the manner hereinafter described, said bonds to constitute general obligations of such county, city or town:

Provided, that special fund obligations payable only from the income funds of the public utility, shall not be refunded by the issuance of general municipal bonds, however, unless such general municipal bonds shall have been previously authorized at an election held in the manner prescribed by section 9489, for the issuance of general municipal utility bonds. The notice of said election, in describing said bonds or warrants, need only refer to the bonds or warrants sought to be so funded by naming the utility or utilities in aid of which the bonds or warrants were issued and shall state the total amount sought to be so funded: Provided, however, that nothing in this chapter shall be so construed as to prevent any such county, city or town from funding its indebtedness as now provided by law. That all bonds heretofore voted or issued, and which may have been or may hereafter be issued by any county, city or town, for any of the purposes authorized by the preceding section as hereby amended, including general fund bonds issued for the purpose of refunding special utility fund bonds or warrants, shall be validated and have the same force and effect as though said section had been in full force and effect at the time said bonds were either authorized or issued. [L. '17, p. 592, § 2.]

§ 5619. [5113.] Bonds, Denomination of, and How Issued.

Funding bonds authorized to be issued by this chapter shall be in denominations of not less than one hundred dollars, nor more than one thousand dollars, and shall be signed by the following corporate authorities: When issued by a county, the chairman of the board of county commissioners, countersigned by the county treasurer and attested by the county auditor, who shall affix his official seal; when issued by a city or town, by its mayor, countersigned by its treasurer and attested by its clerk, who shall affix his official seal. They shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed seven per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, which interest shall be evidenced by proper coupons attached to each bond. Such corporate authorities shall, by ordinance or resolution, provide for the manner of issuing and the form of said bonds, and the time or times when the same shall be made payable; but no bonds issued under this chapter shall be issued for a longer period than twenty years, and when they shall be made payable at different periods within said twenty years, they shall be divided into series not to exceed twenty in number, but there shall be as many series as there are different times of payment, and all bonds included in each series shall be made payable at the same time. The principal and interest may be made payable at any place in the United States designated by the corporate authorities of such county, city or town. Such bonds shall not be issued to an aggregate amount in excess of the warrants or other outstanding indebtedness proposed to be funded thereby. They may be exchanged at not less than their par value for such warrants or other outstanding indebtedness, or may be sold at not less than their par value, and the proceeds used exclusively for the purpose of retiring and canceling such warrants and interest thereon or other indebtedness: Provided, that nothing in this chapter contained shall be deemed to authorize the issuing of any funding bonds which, other than that proposed to be funded under the provisions of this chapter, shall exceed any constitutional limitation of indebtedness, or any indebtedness, which might be incurred with the assent of three-fifths of the voters of such county, city or town voting at an election to be held for that purpose. The corporate authorities of any such county, city or town shall provide annually by ordinance or resolution for the levy and extension on the tax-rolls of such county, city or town, and for the collection thereof, of a direct annual tax in addition to all other county, city or town taxes to be levied according to law, which shall be sufficient to meet the interest on all of said bonds promptly as the same matures, and also sufficient to fully pay each series of bonds as the same matures: Provided, that such ordinance or resolution shall not be repealed until the levy therein provided for shall be fully paid, or the bonds both principal and interest shall be paid or canceled. [L. '95, p. 467, § 4.]

§ 5624. [5118.] Anticipated Revenue.

Any county, city, town or school district in this state may borrow money or issue warrants in anticipation of its revenue, to meet its current general expenses, as hereinafter provided: Provided, however, that no county, city, town or school district now or hereafter having an outstanding warrant or floating indebtedness, not funded, shall be permitted to take advantage of the provisions of this chapter until said indebtedness shall be paid, funded, canceled or exchanged as provided in section 5629, or otherwise paid. [L. '95, p. 297, § 1.]

This chapter (the act of March 20, 1895) was intended to be repealed by § 257 of Laws of 1897, page 448, but the title of the act of 1897 omits mention thereof, and consequently the chapter is retained as in force at least as applicable to all corporations except school districts.

Whenever any such county, city, town or school district shall have reached its limit of indebtedness as specified in the preceding section, and shall desire to issue warrants, such warrants shall be in manner and form as now required by law, except that each shall contain a clause declaring that the same is not a debt or obligation of such county, city, town or school district, and distinctly limiting the payment thereof, and the payment of interest accruing thereon, to the revenues to be derived from the levy then actually made, and against which the same is drawn; and in case any such warrant shall be presented for payment and there shall be no funds on hand with which to pay the same, it shall be indorsed, "Presented for payment and not paid for want of funds," together with the date of presentation, and shall thereafter draw interest at the legal rate, but such indorsement shall in no case operate to make such warrant a debt or obligation of said county, city, town or school district, or in any manner extend the payment thereof to any revenue or revenues than that or those against which the same was originally drawn. [L. '95, p. 300, § 5.]

§ 5629. [5123.] Treasurer Authorized to Borrow, When.

When any warrants shall have been issued, as now provided by law, or as provided in this chapter, and shall be outstanding and not called for payment, and the board, council or other managing body of any county, city, town or school district shall deem it necessary or advisable to cancel or exchange the same, and there shall be no funds on hand with which to effect such cancellation, then, in such case, said board, council or other managing body shall, by a majority vote, duly authorize the treasurer to make a temporary loan or loans in the manner hereinbefore provided with which to take up and cancel such warrants, or may cause to be issued, in the manner hereinbefore provided, note or notes in exchange therefor; but in all cases, before any such note or notes shall be issued, said treasurer shall publish a notice calling for the warrants it is proposed to so cancel or exchange, said notice to be so published once a week for two consecutive weeks in some newspaper of general circulation in the county; and interest on such warrants shall cease ten days after the date of the last publication of such notice (if said warrants are not sooner presented); and when warrants aggregating an amount not less than five hundred dollars shall be so presented a note or notes may be issued in exchange therefor, or with which to obtain funds to cancel the same. [L. '95, p. 300, § 6.]

§ 5630. [5124.] Reserve Fund.

In all cases where any temporary loan or loans shall have been made and any note or notes shall have been issued as provided in this chapter, it shall be the duty of the treasurer of such county, city, town or school district, to set aside and reserve out of all revenues, when collected, an amount sufficient to meet the payment of such note or notes at maturity, and said revenues so set aside and reserved shall not be diverted to any other purpose so long as such loan or loans shall remain outstanding and unpaid: Provided, that when any temporary loan or loans shall have been made, as provided in section 5627, and any note or notes shall have been issued as therein provided, or when any warrant shall have been issued as provided in section 5628, then, and in such case, such treasurer shall set aside, and reserve when collected, for the payment of such note or notes, or warrants, only such revenues as shall be derived from the levy against which said note or notes, or warrant, is drawn, and such revenues shall not be diverted to any other purpose so long as such note or notes, or warrants, shall remain outstanding and unpaid: Provided, that when any such treasurer may have five hundred dollars on hand applicable to the payment of any such warrants, he shall publish a call for such warrants in the manner prescribed in the last preceding section, and shall redeem the same in the order of their issuance: Provided, however, that no such warrants shall be paid while any note or notes issued against said levy under the provisions of section 5627 remains outstanding and unpaid, unless there shall be funds on hand with which to pay such note or notes at maturity. [L. '95, p. 301, § 7.]

§ 5633. [5127.] Interest not Compounded.

Whenever any note or notes shall have been issued according to the provisions of this chapter, and shall become due and payable, and there shall be no funds on hand with which to pay the same, or any interest thereon, and it shall be deemed desirable to renew said note or notes, as provided in this chapter, the interest due upon said note or notes shall not be included in the sum for which said note or notes shall be renewed, but warrant or warrants may be issued therefor; and said warrant or warrants shall be noninterest bearing, and shall so state upon their face, and shall be paid only when there shall be sufficient funds on hand, received from the revenues against which the original note or notes was issued. [L. '95, p. 303, § 10.]

§ 5634. [5128.] Construction.

This chapter shall not be construed to prevent any county, city, town or school district from issuing warrants, as heretofore provided by law, but it shall be optional with such county, city, town or school district to issue such warrant, or issue warrants or make temporary loans, as provided by this chapter. [L. '95, p. 303, § 11.]

CHAPTER XIX.FUNDS AND TAX LEVIES IN CERTAIN CITIES.

Assessment of taxes in first-class cities: See § 11318 et seq.

Assessment of taxes in other cities: See § 11328 et seq.

§ 5635. [5129.] Creating Current Expense and Indebtedness Funds.

In all municipal corporations, having less than twenty thousand inhabitants, there shall be maintained a fund to be designated as "Current Expense Fund," and, after the first day of February, eighteen hundred and ninety-eight, a fund to be designated as "Indebtedness Fund." [L. '97, p. 222, § 1.]

Cited in 24 Wash. 472; 31 Wash. 542; 68 Wash. 549, 552.

Under this chapter, a claim thereafter creating a general liability of the city is payable out of the current expense fund: Townsend Gas. & Elec. L. Co. v. Hill, 24 Wash. 469, 64 Pac. 778.

This section supplanted former laws requiring moneys from the same sources to be paid into the "general fund": State ex rel. Polson v. Hardcastle, 68 Wash. 548, 124 Pac. 110.

§ 5636. [5130.] License Moneys, Disposition of.

All moneys collected by such corporations from licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors and from all other licenses shall be credited and applied by the treasurer to said "Current Expense Fund": Provided, that this chapter shall not exempt such corporations from paying ten per cent of all money collected for liquor licenses, to the state. [L. '97, p. 222, § 2.]

§ 5637. [5131.*] Levies.

Such municipal corporations shall levy and collect annually a property tax for the payment of current expenses, not exceeding fifteen mills on the dollar; a tax for the payment of indebtedness (if any indebtedness exists) not exceeding six mills on the dollar, and all moneys collected from the taxes levied for payment of current expenses shall be credited and applied by the treasurer to "Current Expense Fund"; and all moneys collected from the taxes levied for the payment of indebtedness shall be credited and applied to a fund to be designated as the "Indebtedness Fund": Provided, that the city council, by unanimous vote of all its members at a regular meeting may levy a property tax for the payment of current expenses not exceeding eighteen mills on the dollar: And provided further, that if the qualified electors of any such municipality shall, at a special election to be held for that purpose, vote in favor of a larger levy for the payment of current expenses than eighteen mills on the dollar of assessed valuation, such larger levy for such purpose may be made accordingly: Provided further, that this act shall not be held to apply to cities of the third class, or in any way modify the law in relation thereto. [L. '21, p. 418, § 1; L. '19, p. 510, § 1; L. '13, p. 274, § 1. Cf. L. '97, p. 222, § 3.]

Tax Levies in Cities in General: See Remington's Digest, Mun. Corp., § 536, and cases cited.

This section is not impliedly repealed by section 9073, infra, relating to tax levies in second-class cities, but must be taken in pari materia therewith: Benn v. Grays Harbor County, 102 Wash. 620, 173 Pac. 632.

A tax levy by a city of the third class in excess of the legal limit of ten mills on the dollar "for all purposes," cannot be sustained on the ground that the excess was made for the purpose of retiring outstanding indebtedness of the city: Owings v. Olympia, 88 Wash. 289, 152 Pac. 1019; Whitfield v. Davies, 78 Wash. 256, 138 Pac. 883.

§ 5638. [5132.] Basis for Tax Levy.

The levy of tax for current expenses shall be based upon an estimate of the expenses for the ensuing year, which estimate shall be adopted by a majority vote of the councilmen present at the meeting at which the levy is made, and shall be entered in the record of the proceedings of the council, and in making such estimate, the probable revenues from licenses and from all sources, other than from taxes shall be taken into consideration and the levy shall not exceed, by more than twenty per cent, the amount of such estimate. Current expenses shall be deemed to include all salaries, the expenses of the various departments of the city government, the making, improvement and repairs of streets and sidewalks (excepting such improvements, the cost of which is to be assessed against any specific property), the making and improvement of sewers, and any and all other expenses necessary to be incurred in maintaining the corporation and in its government in accordance with its charter and the needs of its inhabitants. [L. '97, p. 222, § 4.]

§ 5639. [5133.] Tax for Indebtedness to be Fixed by Council.

The tax for payment of indebtedness shall be based upon a statement of such indebtedness, which shall be prepared by the clerk and approved by the council by a majority vote, at the meeting at which the levy is made, which statement shall be entered in the record of the proceedings of the council. In making the levy, consideration shall be taken of all outstanding warrants, certificates and all other obligations and indebtedness of the city, with the interest thereon, for the payment of which no provision is made by law, by the levy of a special tax, or otherwise than by a general tax, and this chapter shall not affect existing laws relating to the levy or collection of any tax, or the maintenance of any fund, for the payment of any bonded or funded indebtedness, or of the interest thereon. [L. '97, p. 223, § 5.]

See supra, §§ 5601, 5621, tax for funding bonds.

Cited in 24 Wash. 473; 39 Wash. 626.

§ 5640. [5134.] Surplus in Street and Sewer Funds Go to Current Expense Fund.

On the first day of February, 1898, or as soon thereafter as practicable, all moneys in the hands of the treasurer to the credit of the street fund, or the sewer fund, in excess of the amount necessary to pay any and all warrants outstanding against said funds, shall be transferred and credited and applied to the credit of the current expense fund. [L. '97, p. 223, § 6.]

§ 5641. [5135.] Certain Moneys Belong to Indebtedness Fund.

All moneys collected on and after the first day of February, 1898, from taxes of the year 1896, and previous years, and from penalty and interest thereon, shall be paid into the indebtedness fund. [L. '97, p. 223, § 7.]

Cited in 39 Wash. 627.

§ 5642. [5136.] Certain Moneys Belong to Current Expense Fund.

From and after the first day of February, 1898, any and all moneys which, by any law enacted prior hereto, are payable into the general fund, except taxes, shall be credited and applied to the current expense fund. [L. '97, p. 223, § 8.]

§ 5643. [5137.] How Applied.

All moneys in the current expense fund shall be paid and applied upon current expenses and from and after the first day of February, 1898, all current expenses shall be paid out of said current expense fund. [L. '97, p. 224, § 9.]

§ 5644. [5138.] Separate Funds Maintained, When.

Any such municipal corporation maintaining waterworks, lighting plants, cemetery or other public works or institutions, from which rents or other revenues or income are derived, shall maintain separate funds for each of said public works or institutions, designated as "Waterworks Fund," "Lighting Fund," "Cemetery Fund," or otherwise as the case may be. No special tax shall be levied for the maintenance of such waterworks, electric lighting plant, cemetery or other public works or institutions, but the expense of such public works or institutions, less the rents or other revenues or income therefrom shall be considered in levying taxes for payment of current expenses, and any deficit in the maintenance of such public works or institutions shall be paid out of the current expense fund, and any surplus in said "Waterworks Fund," "Lighting Fund," "Cemetery Fund," or other like funds, shall, at the end of each fiscal year, be paid and transferred to the current expense fund: Provided, that this chapter shall not affect existing laws relating to any funded or bonded indebtedness incurred in the constructions or purchase of such public works or institutions, or to the levy and collection of taxes for the payment of such funded or bonded indebtedness: Provided, that if the council shall find, and enter such finding in the record of their proceedings, that it is necessary to retain such surplus, or any part thereof, in such fund, for the purpose of extending or repairing such public works or institutions, or for the purpose of paying interest or principal of any indebtedness incurred in the construction or purchase of such public works or institutions, or for the purpose of creating or adding to a sinking fund for the payment of such indebtedness, then such surplus, or any part thereof, may be so retained or paid upon such indebtedness or interest thereon, or may be transferred to such sinking fund. [L. '97, p. 224, § 10.]

§ 5645. [5139.] Proceedings Where Corporate Limits Changed.

In all cases where the limits of such corporations have been or shall be extended, and additional territory annexed, it shall be the duty of the council and officers of the corporation to arrange and keep and maintain the accounts and funds of the corporation in such a manner that the interests of the inhabitants and taxpayers of the several districts of the corporation in the various funds and property of the city shall be clearly shown, and in all transactions these different interests shall be considered and protected. [L. '97, p. 225, § 11.]

§ 5646. [5140.] Vote by Ballot.

All elections for the validation of any debt created by any city, which has since become consolidated with any other city, shall be by [ballot], and the vote shall be taken in the new consolidated city as the same is constituted at the time of any such election. [L. '97, p. 225, § 12.]

The fact that such subjects are not now entitled to become citizens of the United States on account of the war, under U. S. Comp. Stats. 1916, § 4362, is immaterial; since it cannot be said that the intention of this section, was to confine the right to those entitled to become citizens at the time they apply for a license to fish: State ex rel. Every licensee of a fishing appliance licensed by the terms of this act shall file a report with the state treasurer, under oath, on a blank to be furnished upon request by the director of fisheries and game, on the last day of March, July and November of each year, for the four months preceding the date on which the report is made, stating the number of salmon, species stated separately, the number of crabs, sturgeon, pounds of smelt, herring, shrimps, clams, shad, sea bass, carp, black, ling, rock and other cod fish; devil-fish, dogfish, flounders, halibut, mackerel, salt-water perch, red-snapper, sable-fish, sand-dabs, skates, sole, Dolly Varden trout, and all other food fish, other than those listed, and all fish which may hereafter be classified as food fish by the board of fisheries, caught during the preceding four months' period together with the name of the person, firm or corporation to whom sold, the number and quantity delivered to each purchaser, and shall at the same time remit to the state treasurer the catch taxes, license charges and the additional fees required by this act and it shall be the duty of the state treasurer, upon receiving any such report, to indorse thereon his duplicate receipt for the taxes, charges and fees, if any, accompanying the report, and transmit the report to the director of fisheries and game, and deposit the moneys received in the state treasury to the credit of the fisheries fund.

Every person receiving a license under the terms of this act must make report on dates specified, irrespective of whether or not any appliance was operated or fish caught during the four months preceding the date of the report.

No owner of any licensed fishing appliance, who has sold the fish caught under his license to any canner, wholesale dealer, broker, or to any person, firm or corporation engaged in freezing, salting, smoking, kippering, mild-curing, curing or otherwise preserving fish, who by the terms of this act are held responsible to the state for the collection of the catch taxes, need remit said taxes at the time of making his report, but remittance in payment of fish caught by said licensee shall be made by the canner, wholesale dealer, broker, or curer of fish to whom said licensee has sold his catch.

And every person, firm or corporation engaged in canning, preserving, salting, smoking, kippering, mild curing, curing, freezing, preserving in ice or otherwise, or in buying, selling, or otherwise dealing in food or shell-fish caught within the waters of the state, or in those over which it has jurisdiction, as canners, fish brokers, wholesalers, or retailers, either as principal, agent or employee, shall on the same dates and for the same periods file reports with the state treasurer, stating the quantity in pounds of all fish canned, preserved or cured or handled, and all purchases and sales made during the preceding period for which the report is made, the varieties stated separately, together with the name of the person, persons, firms or corporations from whom purchased and the place from which the fish were taken and the appliances with which the same were taken, and at the same time shall remit to the state treasurer the catch taxes, license charges, and additional fees required by this act; and it shall be the duty of the state treasurer, upon receiving any such report, to indorse thereon his duplicate receipt for the taxes, charges and Every person, firm or corporation engaging in business as a canner, wholesale fish dealer, fish broker, or in the business of freezing, salting, smoking, kippering, or preserving fish in ice or otherwise shall, at the time of procuring a license, execute to the state of Washington a bond in a sum to be fixed by the director of fisheries and game and subject to his approval, conditioned that at the times herein provided he will pay or cause to be paid to the state treasurer the catch taxes and other charges required to be paid by him as required by law; that he will file the reports required by this act with the state treasurer on March 31st, July 31st, and November 30th of each year, showing all salmon, species stated separately, other food and shell fish purchased by him, the name and license number of the person from whom purchased, and such other information as may be required by the director of fisheries and game, for ascertaining the amount owing or to be owing to the state of Washington for fish taken from the waters of the state and those over which the state has jurisdiction, and for fish taken in the Pacific Ocean off the western territorial limits of the state of Washington and brought into the state of Washington. The director of fisheries and game may require such other provisions to be inserted in said bond as may in his judgment be necessary in order to efficiently administer the laws and to enforce the collection of license fees, taxes and other charges.

Every person, firm or corporation engaged in any branch of the fishing industry, including oysters, clams and shell-fish and including any by-product thereof shall on or before the thirty-first day of March of each year report to the director of fisheries and game in writing upon blanks furnished upon request by the director of fisheries and game the amount of capital invested in the business, the quantity and kind of equipment and the value thereof and where situated, the value of the product handled, the number of employees and the wages paid during the preceding year; and any person, firm or corporation who shall fail to make the reports in this paragraph provided and at the same time make payment of the amounts of money due to the state shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor and the amounts owing by any such persons for license charges and additional charges shall become and constitute a first lien upon the fishing appliances of any such person and also a lien on the real and personal property of the person owing such sum or sums, from and after a notice of such lien on behalf of the state shall have been filed in the office of the county auditor in which the person owing such amount or amounts shall reside; the notice of lien to be filed by the director of fisheries and game shall be sufficient if it shall state the amount for which the lien is claimed and the person owing same. Every person, firm or corporation owning or operating codfish canning or curing establishments or owning or operating establishments for the manufacture of fertilizer, oil, meal or other by-product from fish or engaged in the buying, selling or dealing in halibut at wholesale or as a broker, shall make reports to the director of fisheries and game at the times and for the periods in this section provided, stating the quantity of fish with the species bought or sold or handled with the names of the persons from whom purchased and the waters from which taken, and also the quantity and value of all fish or fish by-products handled by them. [L. '21 p. 192, § 3. Cf. L. '17, p. 793, § 11; L. '15, p. 90, § 52.]

Under Laws 1917, pp. 786, 793, §§ 51, 52, which require gill-net fishermen to be licensed and to make reports of the number of fish caught, the statutory exemption from additional fees does not absolve gill-net fishermen from the necessity of making the report: State v. Hoffman, 110 Wash. 82, 188 Pac. 25.

Laws 1917, p. 793, § 52, requiring gill-net fishermen to report the number of "fish caught during the preceding four months period," does not require any report where no fish were caught during such period: State v. Hoffman, 110 Wash. 82, 188 Pac. 25.

Evidence that fish frozen and preserved by accused might have been caught in Oregon, British Columbia, Alaska or the state of Washington, does not sustain a conviction for failure to report and pay a tonnage tax on fish frozen by accused, caught within the waters of the state of Washington: State v. Diamond Ice & Storage Co., 105 Wash. 122, 177 Pac. 634.

Under section 2057, supra, requiring an information to be direct and certain, an information charging failure to report and pay a tonnage tax upon fish frozen and preserved by accused, caught within the state of Washington, does not sustain a conviction for failure to report and pay a tonnage tax upon fish which were caught in the waters of Alaska, British Columbia, or elsewhere, even though that also be an offense under the statute: State v. Diamond Ice & Storage Co., 105 Wash. 122, 177 Pac. 634.

The commissioner shall designate by the erection of monuments and signs all of the above mentioned boundary points.

If the Province of British Columbia or Dominion of Canada shall prohibit and prevent the taking of salmon in Georgia Straits and the Fraser River during a forty-eight hour weekly period in each even-numbered year, beginning at 6 o'clock P. M. Friday and ending not earlier than 6 o'clock P. M. Sunday, then and in that event it shall be unlawful to take or fish for sockeye salmon by any means whatever except with hook and line, in any of the waters of that portion of Puget Sound last described between the hours of 8 o'clock P. M. Thursday and 8 o'clock P. M. Saturday of each week in each even-numbered year. In the event that this proviso becomes effective and during the years while in effect, it shall supersede and render inoperative the thirty-six hour closed period in this section first provided as to and in the waters above described.

If it shall be adjudicated that the foregoing proviso be unconstitutional and invalid for any reason, such adjudication of invalidity of such proviso or any part of this act shall not affect the validity of the act as a whole or any part thereof. [L. '17, p. 795, § 12; L. '15, p. 92, § 54.]

Cited in 104 Wash. 221.

Laws 1917, p. 799, § 16, making it unlawful to possess or deal in salmon during the closed season cannot be sustained as a valid exercise of the police power for the protection of salmon, in view of the proviso to the act providing that the act shall not apply to salmon taken beyond the three-mile limit outside the straits of Juan de Fuca; since the proviso defeats the purpose which is the one justification of such legislation: State v. Belknap, 104 Wash. 221, 176 Pac. 5.

The board is hereby authorized, when in its judgment it appears advisable, to accept on behalf of the state, any grant of land within the state, which shall then become a part of the state forests: Provided, that no grant shall be accepted until the title has been examined and approved by the attorney general of the state and a report made to the board of the result of such examination. [L. '11, p. 623, § 2.]

When so audited and inspected, the board shall present a statement thereof for each county, accompanied by the original bills, to the state auditor, who shall audit the same, and if found correct, the state auditor shall draw his warrant on the state treasurer in payment thereof, and the state treasurer is hereby authorized to pay said warrants out of any money in the treasury appropriated for such purposes. [L. '11, p. 624, § 3.]

§ 5784. [5277-4.] Assistants—Duties.

The forester may at his discretion, subject to the approval of the board, appoint trained forest assistants, possessing technical qualifications, and may employ necessary clerical assistants, and fix the amount of their respective salaries, which shall be payable in equal monthly installments to each assistant so appointed or employed.

He shall act as secretary of the board, or he may delegate that duty to one of his assistants. He shall, acting under the supervision of the board, and whenever he may deem it necessary to the best interests of the state, co-operate in forest surveys, in forest studies, in forest products studies, in forest fire fighting and patrol, and in the preparation of plans for the protection, management, replacement of trees, wood lots, and timber tracts, with any of the several departments of the governments of other states, and with the government or with the departments of the government of the United States, with the Dominion of Canada, or with any province thereof, and with counties, towns, corporations, and individuals within the state of Washington.

He shall, subject to the rules and regulations of the board, have direct charge and supervision of all matters pertaining to forestry, including the forest fire service of the state.

The term "forest fire service" as used in this act shall be held to include all wardens, rangers and help especially employed for preventing or fighting forest fires.

In times of emergency or unusual danger the forester is empowered to mass the forest fire service of the state where its presence might be required by reason of forest fires, and to take charge of, and direct the work of suppressing such fires.

The forester shall enforce all laws for the preservation of the forests within the state, investigate the origin of all forest fires, vigorously prosecute all violators of this act; prepare and print for public distribution an abstract of the forest laws and the forest fire laws of Washington, together with such rules and regulations as may be formulated by the board.

The forester may, with the approval of the board, publish for free distribution, information pertaining to forestry, and to forest products, which he may consider of benefit to the people of the state.

It shall be the duty of the forester to annually notify the county clerk in each county where wardens or rangers are appointed, giving the names of such appointees.

The forester shall furnish notices printed in large letters on cloth, calling attention to the dangers from forest fires, and to the penalties for the violation of this act; such notices to be posted in conspicuous places by the wardens or rangers in all timbered districts along roads and trails, streams and lakes, frequented by tourists, campers, hunters and fishermen, and in other visited regions.

The forester shall, subject to the approval of the board, prepare all necessary printed forms for use of wardens and rangers, in connection with the granting of applications for permits to burn; for the appointment of wardens and rangers, and any and all forms or blanks required or desirable, and shall supply each warden and ranger with such forms and blanks.

The forester shall become familiar with the location and the areas of all state timbered and cut-over lands, and shall prepare maps of each of the timbered counties showing the state land therein, and supply such maps to each warden and in all ways that are practical and feasible protect such lands from the dangers of fire, trespass, and the illegal cutting of timber, reporting from time to time direct to the board such information as may be of benefit to the state in the care and protection of its timber.

It shall be the duty of the forester to institute inquiry into the extent, kind, value and condition of all timber lands within the state;

the amount of acres, and the value of the timber that is cut and removed each year, to determine what state lands are chiefly valuable for growing timber; the extent to which timber lands are being destroyed by fire; and also to examine into the production, quality and quantity of second-growth timber, with a view of ascertaining conditions for reforestation, and not later than the first day of December of each year, make a written report to the board upon all such tracts so examined by him, together with detailed information as to the work of the forest fire service of the state. [L. '11, p. 624, § 4.]

See notes to § 5783.

§ 5785. [5277-5.*] Wardens—Duties of Foresters and Wardens—Compensation.

The forester shall, subject to the approval of the board, have power to appoint within any county in this state where there is timber requiring protection, one or more wardens for all or any portion of the period during which the forester deems that forest fire dangers exist.

The forester may, subject to the approval of the board, and at such times and in such localities as he deems the public welfare demands, employ one or more wardens whose duty it shall be to examine deforested lands of the state, and ascertain if such lands are chiefly valuable for agriculture, or if they are chiefly valuable for timber growing, with a view to reforestation. The said wardens, shall, under the direction of the forester, engaged in the discovery of inflammable materials, and cause, or assist in the burning of such material at such times as the burning can be done without endangering adjacent timber, or other property. The said wardens, under the direction of the forester, shall prevent and detect trespass and illegal cutting upon state timber lands, and shall enforce the laws in respect to such trespass and illegal cutting.

The forester shall have power to temporarily suspend any warden or ranger who may be incompetent or unwilling to discharge properly the duties of his office, and to appoint his successor temporarily, until his action shall be passed upon by the board.

The wardens shall make their headquarters at the county seat of the county which they represent, and be equipped with suitable office quarters in the county courthouse by the county commissioners.

The board of county commissioners of any county in which there has been no warden appointed, may request the forester to appoint a warden, and the forester may, if in his judgment the necessity exists, appoint, subject to the approval of the board, one or more wardens for each county.

The authority of the wardens respecting the prevention, suppression and control of forest fires, summoning, impressing or employing help, or making arrests for the violation of this act, may extend to any adjacent county, or to any part of the state in times of great fire danger.

The salaries and necessary expenses of all wardens, together with all wages and expenses incurred for help and assistance in forest fire protection shall be fixed by the state board of forest commissioners, the wages and salaries to be based on but not to exceed going wages and salaries for similar work, and shall be borne in the proportion of two-thirds by the state and one-third by the county in which the service was given and the expense incurred for forest fire protection.

All accounts of the wardens shall be submitted to the forester as well as all bills for forest fire protection authorized by the wardens, and when such bills are approved and paid as provided for in section 5783, the amount of one-third of all such outlays in each county shall be due and payable on demand from each of said counties into the state treasury, and credited to the fund appropriated by this act.

All wardens and rangers shall render reports to the forester on such blanks or forms, or in such manner, and at such times as may be ordered, giving a summary of how employed, the area of country visited, expenses incurred, and such other information as may be called for by the forester. [L. '21, p. 298, § 1. Cf. L. '11, p. 627, § 5.]

See note to § 5783, supra.

§ 5786. [5277-6.] Duties of Warden.

Each warden shall be at all times under the direction and control of the forester, and shall perform such other duties at such times and places as he may direct.

It shall be the duty of wardens to post over the forest areas notices of warning giving the date of the closed season as provided for in section 5788, and copies of all such laws and rules as they may be directed to post by the forester.

They shall investigate all fires and report all of a serious or threatening character to the forester immediately. They shall patrol their districts; visit all parts of roads and trails, and frequented places and camps as far as possible, warn campers or other users of fire, see that all locomotives are provided with spark-arresters, and with adequate devices for preventing the escape of fire or live coals from ash-pans and fire-boxes, in accordance with the law; extinguish small or smoldering fires; summon, impress or employ help to stop conflagrations; see that all laws for the protection of forests are enforced, and arrest and cause to be prosecuted all offenders. [L. '11, p. 628, § 6.]

§ 5787. [5277-7.*] Ex-officio Rangers—Compensation.

All state land cruisers, all game-wardens, when approved by the forester, and all rangers and assistant rangers of the United States forest service, when recommended by their forest supervisors, and commissioned by the forester, shall be ex-officio rangers.

Timber cruisers and citizens of the state advantageously located may, at the discretion of the forester, be appointed rangers, and vested with their duties and powers.

Rangers shall receive no compensation for their services except when employed in co-operation with the state and under the provisions of this act, and shall not create any indebtedness, or incur any liability on behalf of the state: Provided, that rangers actually engaged in extinguishing, or preventing the spread of fire in brush, slashings, choppings, timber or elsewhere that may endanger timber or other property, shall when their accounts for such service have been approved by the fire-wardens in authority, be entitled to receive compensation for such services at a rate to be fixed by the state board of forest commissioners. [L. '17, p. 104, § 1. Cf. L. '11, p. 629, § 7.]

§ 5788. [5277-8.*] Closed Season—Fires—Permits.

No one shall burn any forest material within any county in this state in which there is a warden or ranger during the period beginning the first day of May west of the summit of the Cascade Mountains, and the first day of June east of the summit of the Cascade Mountains and ending, unless sooner ended by proclamation of the governor, on the first day of October in each year, which period is hereby designated as the closed season, without first obtaining permission in writing from the forester, or a warden or a ranger, and afterwards complying with the terms of said permit; and anyone violating any provisions contained in the preceding portions of this section shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined not less than twenty-five dollars ($25) nor more than five hundred dollars ($500), or be imprisoned in the county jail not exceeding thirty (30) days. Such permission for burning shall be given only upon compliance with such rules and regulations as the board shall prescribe, which shall be only such as the board deems necessary for the protection of life or property.

The forester, any of his assistants, any warden or ranger, may at his discretion, refuse, revoke, or postpone the use of permits to burn when such act is clearly necessary for the safety of adjacent property. [L. '21, p. 300, § 2. Cf. L. '11, p. 629, § 8.]

See notes to § 5783.

Under this section, one may be convicted of burning "logs and stumps" located in his own dooryard; since a yard in which there are logs and stumps is manifestly located in a forest or slashing or woodland: State v. Hendricks, 68 Wash. 670, 123 Pac. 1077.

This section has no application to fires where the fire-warden sent rangers to personally superintend the burning and take charge thereof: Waldy v. Preston Mill Co., 80 Wash. 25, 141 Pac. 192.

§ 5789. [5277-9.*] Burning Forest Material — Control — Assistance — Penalty.

No one shall burn any forest material until all dry snags, stubs and dead trees over twenty-five (25) feet in height, within the area to be burned, shall have been cut down and until such other work shall have been done in and around the slashing or chopping, to prevent the spread of fire therefrom, as shall be required to be done by the forester, or any warden or ranger.

When any person shall have obtained permission from the forester, warden or ranger, to burn any slashings made for the purpose of clearing land, the warden may, at his discretion, furnish him with a man to supervise and control the burning, who shall represent and act for such warden, and shall have all the power and authority of a warden while engaged in such service, including the right to revoke such permit, if in his opinion the burning authorized would endanger any valuable timber or other property. Such a man shall serve only until such time as the party burning may be able to keep the fire under control himself.

The forester and wardens are hereby authorized and empowered to employ a sufficient number of men to extinguish or prevent the spreading of any fires that may be in danger of destroying any valuable timber or other property of the state. The forester, or any warden by special authority of the forester, may provide needed tools and supplies, and transportation when necessary for men so employed.

Every man so employed, and also the representative of the warden supervising the burning, shall be entitled to compensation at a rate to be fixed by the state board of forest commissioners, and the warden shall issue a certificate to each man so employed showing the number of hours worked by him and the amounts due to him, upon which, after approval by the forester, the men shall be entitled to receive payment from the state in the manner provided for in section 5783.

Any person refusing to render assistance when called upon by any warden, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars ($10) nor more than one hundred dollars ($100). [L. '17, p. 105, § 2. Cf. L. '11, p. 630, § 9.]

§ 5790. [5277-10.] Suspension of Permits and Game Laws.

In times and localities of unusual fire danger, the governor, with the advice of the forester, may suspend any or all permits or privileges authorized by section 5788, and may prohibit absolutely the use of fire therein mentioned.

Whenever during an open season for the hunting of any kind of game within this state, it shall appear to the governor that by reason of extreme drought, the use of firearms or fire by hunters is liable to cause forest fires, he may by proclamation suspend the open season and make it a closed season for the shooting of wild birds or animals of any kind, for such time as he may designate, and during the time so designated all provisions of law relating to closed seasons for game shall be enforced. [L. '11, p. 631, 10.]

§ 5791. [5277-11.*] Removing Notices—Penalty.

Any person who shall willfully or needlessly deface or remove any warning placard or notice posted under the requirements of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall upon conviction be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars ($25) nor more than one hundred dollars ($100) for each offense, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding thirty (30) days.

Any person who shall upon any land within this state set any fire, except for necessary lumbering operations, or at the proper places on camping grounds which have been prepared and designated for recreation purposes, which fire shall spread and damage or destroy property of any kind not his own, shall upon conviction be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars ($10) nor more than five hundred dollars ($500). If such fire be set or left maliciously, whether on his own or on another's land, with intent to destroy property not his own, he shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) or imprisonment in the county jail for not less than one month, nor more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

During the closed season any person who without a written permit from the state board of forest commissioners, shall kindle a fire, in or dangerously near any forest material, except for necessary lumbering operations or at the proper places on camping grounds which have been prepared and designated for recreation purposes, or who shall be a party to kindling such fire, or who shall by throwing away any lighted cigar, cigarette, matches, or by use of firearms, or in any other manner start a fire in forest material, and who shall fail immediately to extinguish the same, shall upon conviction, be fined not less than ten dollars ($10) nor more than one hundred dollars ($100), or be imprisoned in the county jail not exceeding two (2) months.

Provided, that nothing in this section contained shall absolve any person from liability on account of negligence.

The state board of Forest Commissioners is hereby authorized and empowered, and it is its duty to designate and prepare such camping grounds as it may determine for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this section. [L. '21, p. 301, § 3. Cf. L. '11, p. 631, § 11.]

§ 5792. [5277-12.] Notice of Damage.

Any and all inadequately protected forests, or deforested land covered wholly or in part by inflammable debris, or otherwise likely to further the spread of fire, which by reason of such location or condition, or lack of protection, endanger life or property, when adjoining, lying near, or intermingling with other forest land, is hereby declared to be a public nuisance, and whenever the forester shall learn thereof, he shall notify the owner, or person in control or possession of said land, advise him of means and methods that should be taken for its protection, and request him to take the proper steps to that end. [L. '11, p. 632, § 12.]

§ 5793. [5277-13.] Burning Wood-waste—Penalty.

It shall be unlawful for anyone manufacturing lumber or shingles, or other forest products, to destroy wood-waste material by burning the same at or near any mill situated within one-quarter of one mile of any forest material, without properly confining the place of said burning and without further safeguarding the surrounding property against danger from said burning by such additional devices as the forester may require.

It shall be unlawful for anyone to destroy any wood-waste material by fire within any burner or destructor operated at or near any mill, and situated within one-quarter of one mile of any forest material, or to operate any power-producing plant using in connection therewith any smokestack, chimney, or other spark emitting outlet, without installing and maintaining on such burner or destructor or on such smokestack, chimney or other spark-emitting outlet a safe and suitable device for arresting sparks.

Anyone violating the provisions of this section shall upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars ($50) nor more than five hundred dollars ($500) for each and every violation, or by imprisonment of not less than thirty (30) days in the county jail. [L. '11, p. 632, § 13.]

§ 5794. [5277-14.] Closed Season—Restrictions.

It shall be unlawful for anyone to operate any spark-emitting railroad locomotive, logging locomotive, logging, or farming engine, or boiler, at any time during the closed season, or for anyone to operate any railroad locomotive, logging locomotive, or logging or farm engine or boiler, within one-quarter of one mile of any forest material during the closed season, without such railroad locomotive, logging locomotive, logging, or other engine or boiler is provided with and uses a safe and suitable device for arresting sparks.

It shall be unlawful for anyone to operate during the closed season any railroad locomotive, logging locomotive, or logging, or other engine or boiler, within one-quarter of one mile of any forest material, without such railroad locomotive, logging locomotive, or logging or other engine or boiler is provided with and uses an adequate device to prevent the escape of fire or live coals from all ash-pans, and all fire-boxes, except when said ash-pans and said fire-boxes are being cleaned when not in motion.

Everyone failing to comply with the provisions of this section, shall upon conviction pay a fine for each railroad locomotive, logging locomotive, or other engine or boiler, for each day so operated without such spark-arresting or without such adequate device to prevent the escape of fire or live coals from said ash-pans or said fire-boxes, of not less than ten dollars ($10), nor more than fifty dollars ($50) per day for each railroad locomotive, logging locomotive, or other engine or boiler so used, and shall be prohibited from further use of such railroad locomotive, logging locomotive, or other engine or boiler until such spark-arrester or such adequate device for preventing the escape of fire or live coals from said ash-pans and said fire-boxes, is provided and used therewith. [L. '11, p. 633, § 14.]

§ 5795. [5277-15.] Railroads—Fire on Right of Way.

No one operating a railroad shall permit to be deposited by his, or its, employees, and no one shall deposit during the closed season, fire or live coals upon the right of way outside of the yard limits, and within one-quarter of one mile of any forest material, without such deposit of fire or live coals shall be immediately extinguished.

Anyone violating the provisions of this section respecting the deposit of fire or live coals, shall upon conviction pay a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars ($25), nor more than one hundred dollars ($100) or be imprisoned in the county jail not exceeding thirty (30) days.

Wardens and rangers shall report any lack of sufficient spark-arresters, and any lack of adequate devices for preventing the escape of fire and live coals, as provided in this act, to the forester, and to the prosecuting attorney of their county, and the superior court of that county where suit is first instituted, shall have jurisdiction of the offense. Everyone clearing right of way for railroad, public highway, private road, ditch, dike, pipe or wire line, or for any other transmission, or transportation utility right of way, shall pile and burn on such right of way all refuse timber, brush and debris cut thereon, as rapidly as the clearing or cutting progresses, or at such other times as the forester, or his authorized representatives may specify, and if during the closed season, in compliance with the law requiring burning permits. No one clearing any land or right of way, or in cutting or logging timber for any purpose, shall fell, or permit to be felled, any trees so that they may fall on to land owned by another, without first obtaining permission from such owner in addition to complying with the terms of this section for the disposal of refuse. All the terms of this section and other forest laws of the state shall be observed in all clearings of right of way or other land on behalf of the state itself or any county thereof, either directly or by contract; and unless unavoidable emergency prevents, provision shall be made by all officials directing such work for withholding a sufficient portion of the payment therefor, until the piling and burning is completed, to insure the completion of the piling and burning in compliance with the provisions of this section. [L. '17, p. 106, § 3. Cf. L. '11, p. 634, § 16.]

§ 5797. [5277-17.] Stationary Engineers—Watchman—Regulations.

(b) Cut down all snags, stubs and dead trees over twenty-five feet in height within a radius of fifty (50) feet from each donkey-engine or other portable or stationary engine. [L. '11, p. 635, § 17.]

§ 5798. [5277-18.] Fire Patrol.

Everyone operating a logging locomotive during the closed season, shall:

Have a man whose duty it shall be to follow each logging locomotive, except a locomotive using oil for fuel, for the purpose of acting as fire patrol, the said man to begin the said patrol at approximately thirty (30) minutes after the starting of the logging locomotive which it is his duty to follow.

Anyone who shall violate any of the provisions contained in sections 5796, 5797 or 5798, shall be punished by a fine not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100) or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty (30) days. [L. '11, p. 635, § 18.]

have been lodged with him, the prosecuting attorney of the county in which the criminal act was committed, shall prosecute the offender or offenders, with all diligence and energy. If any prosecuting attorney shall fail to comply with the provisions of this section, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars ($50) nor more than five hundred dollars ($500), and by imprisonment of not less than thirty (30) days, nor more than one year in the county jail. The penalties of this section shall apply to any magistrate, with proper authority, who refuses or neglects to cause the arrest and prosecution of any person or persons when complaint under oath of violation of any provisions of this act has been lodged with him. [L. '11, p. 636, § 20.]

§ 5801. [5277-21.] Fines.

All fines collected under this act shall be paid into the county treasury of the county in which the offense was committed. [L. '11, p. 636, § 21.]

§ 5802. Division of Forestry Assumes Powers and Duties.

The director of conservation and development, through and by means of the division of forestry, shall, upon his appointment, qualification and assumption of the duties of his office, exercise all the powers and perform all the duties vested in, and required by this act to be performed by either the state forester and fire warden or the state board of forest commissioners. The director of conservation and development shall have the power and authority and it shall be his duty to receive, and disburse through and by means of the division of forestry, any and all moneys contributed, allotted or paid by the United States under the authority of any act of congress for use in co-operation with the state of Washington in protecting and developing forests. [L. '21, p. 302, § 4.]

See also, § 10893.

§ 5803. [5149.] Destruction of Forests by Fire.

Any person or persons who shall willfully and deliberately set fire to any wooded county or forest belonging to this state or the United States, within this state, or to any place from which fire shall be communicated to any such wooded county or forest, or who shall accidentally set fire to any such wooded county or forest, or to any place from which fire shall be communicated to any such wooded county or forest, and shall not extinguish the same or use every effort to that end, or who shall build any fire for lawful purposes or otherwise in or near any such wooded county or forest, and through carelessness or neglect shall permit said fire to extend to and burn through such wooded county or forest, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction before a court of competent jurisdiction shall be punishable by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment: Provided, that nothing herein contained shall apply to any person who in good faith shall set a back-fire to prevent the extension of a fire already burning. All fines collected under this section shall be paid into the county treasury for the benefit of the common school fund of the county in which they are collected. [L. '91, p. 226, § 1; 2 H. P. C., § 84a.]

See supra, § 2522, setting without permit of fire-warden.

§ 5804. Owners to Protect Against Fires.

Every owner of forest land in the state of Washington shall furnish or provide therefor, during the season of the year when there is danger of forest fires, adequate protection against the spread of fire thereon or therefrom which shall meet with the approval of the state board of forest commissioners: Provided, however, that for the purposes of this section forest land shall be deemed to be adequately protected if within one mile of the owner's permanent residence or if the owner shall furnish patrol and protection therefor equal in standard, efficiency and seasonal duration to that of those who are in good faith maintaining organized patrol and protection of their lands against fire with the approval of the state board of forest commissioners: Provided further, that for the purposes of this section forest lands, lying in counties east of the summit of the Cascade Mountains, shall be deemed to be adequately protected where patrol is furnished by the United States forest service of a standard and efficiency and seasonal duration, deemed by the state board of forest commissioners to be sufficient for the proper protection of the forest land of such counties. [L. '17, p. 349, § 1.]

§ 5805. Protection Provided by State Forester.

If any owner or owners of forest land shall neglect or fail to provide adequate fire protection therefor as required by section 5807, then the state forester, under direction from the state board of forest commissioners, shall provide such protection therefor at a cost not to exceed five (5) cents an acre per annum. Any amounts paid or contracted to be paid by the state forester for this purpose shall be a lien upon the property patrolled and protected and, unless reimbursed by the owner within ten days after October 1st of the year in which they were incurred, on which date the state forester shall be prepared to make statement thereof upon request to any forest owner whose own protection has not been previously approved by him as adequate, shall be reported by the state forester to the county assessors of the county or counties in which the property is situated who shall extend the amounts upon the tax-rolls covering such property, and the amounts shall be collected at the time and in the same manner by the same procedure and with the same penalties attached that the next general state and county taxes on the same property are collected, except that errors in assessments may be corrected at any time by the state board of forest commissioners by certifying the same to the county treasurer of the county in which the land involved is situated. Upon the collection of said assessments the county officials shall repay said amounts to the state forester to be applied to the expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of this section: Provided, that the state forester is hereby authorized and required to include in the assessment herein authorized against the owner or owners of forest lands neglecting to provide adequate fire protection, a sum not to exceed one-half of one cent per acre, to cover the necessary and reasonable cost of office and clerical work incurred in the enforcement of the provisions of section 5804 et seq. and subsequent amendments thereto, and is authorized to expend any sums heretofore collected from owners of forest lands or coming from any other source for any necessary office and clerical expenses in connection with the enforcement of the provisions of section 5807: Provided further, that the state forester is required to furnish a good and sufficient bond of a surety company running to the state of Washington, in a sum as great as the probable amount of money annually coming into his hands under the provisions of this act, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties as such officer and for a faithful accounting for all sums received and expended thereunder, which bond shall be approved by the attorney general. [L. '21, p. 196, § 1. Cf. L. '17, p. 349, § 2.]

§ 5806. Uncontrolled Forest Fire a Public Nuisance—Expense of Abatement—Lien on Offender's Property.

Any fire on any forest land in the state of Washington burning uncontrolled and without proper precaution being taken to prevent its spread is hereby declared a public nuisance by reason of its menace to life or property. Any person, firm or corporation responsible for either the starting or the existence of such fire is hereby required to control or extinguish it immediately, without awaiting instructions from a forest officer, and if said responsible person, firm or corporation shall refuse, neglect or fail to do so, the state forester, or any fire warden or forest ranger acting with his authority, may summarily abate the nuisance thus constituted by controlling or extinguishing the fire and the cost thereof may be recovered from said responsible person, firm or corporation by action for debt and, if the work is performed on the property of the offender, shall also constitute a lien upon said property. Such lien may be filed by the state forester in the office of the county auditor and foreclosed in the manner provided by law for the foreclosure of liens for labor and material. It shall be the duty of the prosecuting attorney for the county to bring such action for debt, or to foreclose such lien, upon the request of the state forester. [L. '17, p. 350, § 3.]

§ 5807. Cut-over Land or Slashing, Public Nuisance.

Any and all cut-over land or slashings in the state of Washington covered wholly or in part by inflammable debris and which by reason of such condition is likely to further the spread of fire and thereby endanger life or property, a finding to which effect by the state forester shall be prima facie evidence of such fact, is hereby declared a public nuisance, and the owner or owners thereof or the agency responsible for its existence, if such be not the owner, are hereby required to abate such nuisance forthwith under the general direction of the state forester.

If the person, firm or corporation responsible for the existence of any such nuisance shall refuse, neglect or fail to abate it after a ten days notice by the state forester, the latter may summarily cause it to be abated and the cost thereof and of any patrol or fire fighting made necessary by such nuisance may be recovered from said person, firm or corporation responsible therefor or from the owner of the land on which such nuisance existed by an action for debt and said costs shall also be a lien upon said land and may be enforced in the same manner, with the same effect and by the same agencies as the lien provided for in section 5806. [L. '21, p. 198, § 2. Cf. L. '17, p. 351, § 4.]

§ 5808. Co-operative Protection by Timber Owners.

When any responsible protective agency or agencies composed of timber owners other than the state shall agree to undertake systematic forest protection in co-operation therewith and such co-operation shall appear more advantageous to the state than the maintenance of the independent system provided elsewhere by law, the state forester may, with the approval of the state board of forest commissioners, designate suitable areas to be official co-operative districts and substitute thereto whenever necessary, in place of the county wardens elsewhere provided by law, such district wardens, with such district headquarters and duties, as may be agreed upon by him and by the co-operating agencies to render such co-operation most effective. He may also co-operate in the compensation of such wardens, or in the payment of other expenses for the prevention and control of fire in such official fire districts, to such extent as the board of forest commissioners may deem equitable on behalf of the state, and claim for such payments shall be approved and paid in the manner prescribed for claims outside such co-operative districts. [L. '17, p. 351, § 5.]

§ 5809. Forest Land.

For the purposes of this act any land shall be considered forest land which has enough timber, standing or down, or inflammable debris, to constitute in the judgment of the state board of forest commissioners a fire menace to life or property. [L. '17, p. 352, § 6.]

§ 5810. Notices—Sufficiency of Service.

Any notice required by this or other acts to be served by a forest officer shall be sufficient if a written or printed copy thereof is delivered, mailed or telegraphed by a forest officer to the person to receive notice or to his responsible agent, or, in case the name or address of such person or agent is unknown to the officers and cannot be obtained by reasonable diligence, by posting such copy in a conspicuous place upon the premises concerned by this notice. [L. '17, p. 352, § 7.]

§ 5811. Division of Forestry to Perform Duties of State Forester.

The director of conservation and development, through and by means of the division of forestry, shall, upon the appointment, qualification and assumption of his duties, exercise all the powers and perform all the duties vested in, and required by this act to be performed by, either the state forester or the state board of forest commissioners. [L. '21, p. 198, § 3.]

CHAPTER II.

REFORESTATION AND PRESERVATION OF TIMBER.

§ 5812. State Acquisition of Lands for Reforestation.

The director of conservation and development is authorized to acquire by purchase or gift any lands which, by reason of their location, topography and geological formation, are unsuitable for agricultural development, and are chiefly valuable for the purpose of developing and growing timber, and to designate such lands and any lands of the same character belonging to the state, as state forest lands: Provided, that not to exceed five dollars per acre shall be paid for any lands purchased under this act: Provided further, that the director is authorized to acquire by purchase at a price not to exceed one dollar per acre, or by gift, any such lands reserving to the vendor or donor all oils, gases, coal, minerals and fossils of every name, kind or description, or either or any of them, which may be in or upon said lands and the right to enter upon said lands for the purpose of prospecting for or opening, developing and working mines thereon and taking and removing therefrom the materials reserved. § 5813. Reservation from Sale.

Whenever any lands are designated as state forest lands, the commissioner of public lands shall be notified and shall note such designation upon the records of his office, and shall keep a record describing all of such lands, the date, when and how acquired and the price, if any, paid therefor; and thereafter such lands shall be reserved from sale or lease: Provided, however, that the timber on such lands may be sold whenever the director of conservation and development shall notify the commissioner of public lands that such timber is suitable for sale: Provided further, that such lands shall be subject to lease under the laws relating to mineral lands of the state, but under such conditions as shall not interfere with and impair their use as state forest lands. [L. '21, p. 663, § 2.]

§ 5814. Seeding and Development.

The director of conservation and development is authorized to seed and develop forests on any lands designated by him as state forest lands, and shall furnish such care and fire protection for any such lands as he shall deem advisable. [L. '21, p. 663, § 3.]

§ 5815. Logged-off or Deforested Lands Reported.

The commissioner of public lands, supervisor of forestry and the supervisor of geology, shall, on or before the first day of January of each year, report to the director of conservation and development any logged-off lands or deforested lands belonging to the state or held in private ownership, coming to their knowledge and observation during the preceding year, of the same character as the lands described in section 5812. [L. '21, p. 663, § 4.]

§ 5816. Appropriation.

There is hereby appropriated the sum of five thousand dollars, payable out the reclamation revolving fund of the state, not otherwise appropriated, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act. [L. '21, p. 664, § 5.]

§ 5817. Delegation of Powers.

The state forester and fire-warden shall exercise all the powers and perform all the duties in this act vested in, and required to be per-§ 5818. Forests and Timber Protected.

All forests and timber upon all lands in the state of Washington, lying west of a line one mile west of the eastern boundary of range ten west of the Willamette Meridian and north of the north boundary line of Grays Harbor county, shall be protected and preserved from the fire hazard to which they are or may be exposed by reason of the unusual quantity of fallen timber upon such lands. It shall therefore be unlawful for any person, firm, company or corporation, their officers, agents or employees, to do or commit any act which shall expose any of the forests or timber upon such lands to the hazard of fire. [L. '21 p. 202, § 1.]

§ 5819. Governor to Make Rules.

The governor shall have the power and it shall be his duty to make, adopt, amend and promulgate rules and regulations for the preservation and protection of the forests and timber situated upon the lands described in section 5818, from damage or destruction by fire. [L. '21, p. 202, § 2.]

See, also, Gottstein v. Wist, 22 Wash. 581, 61 Pac. 715.

If the legal title to land has been transferred upon the parol promise of the grantee, made in bad faith and with intent to deceive, that he would hold same in trust for grantor, the transaction does not come within the statute of frauds, as trusts arising from fraud are excepted from its operation: Rozell v. § 5825. [5289.] Contracts, etc., Void Unless in Writing.

In the following cases specified in this section, any agreement, contract and promise shall be void, unless such agreement, contract or promise, or some note or memorandum thereof, be in writing, and signed by the party to be charged therewith, or by some person thereunto by him lawfully authorized, that is to say: (1) every agreement that by its terms is not to be performed in one year from the making thereof; (2) every special promise to answer for the debt, default, or misdoings of another person; (3) every agreement, promise or undertaking made upon consideration of marriage, except mutual promises to marry; (4) every special promise made by an executor or administrator to answer damages out of his own estate; (5) an agreement authorizing or employing an agent or broker to sell or purchase real estate for compensation or a commission. [L. '05, p. 110, § 1. Cf. L. '54, p. 403, § 2; L. '60, p. 298, § 2; L. '63, p. 412, § 2; Cd. '81, § 2325; 1 H. C., § 2432.]

CONTENTS OF MEMORANDUM.

— Designation and Description of Parties: See Remington's Digest, Frds., St. of, § 32; Mead v. White, 53 Wash. 638, 102 Pac. 753, 132 Am. St. Rep. 1092, 23 L. R. A. (N. S.) 1197; Kahlotus Grain & Supply Co. v. Blair, 101 Wash. 645, 172 Pac. 818.

A contract is signed within the meaning of the statute of frauds whether the name of the party to be charged appears at the bottom, top, middle or side of the paper: Tingley v. Bellingham Bay etc. Co., 5 Wash. 644, 32 Pac. 737, 33 Pac. 1055.

The use, by the seller of flour, of a blank form, with its name printed at the top, filled out by its authorized agent showing the terms of the contract of sale, is a sufficient "signing" of the contract by the seller to satisfy the statute of frauds: Wright v. Seattle Grocery Co., 105 Wash. 383, 177 Pac. 818.

— Statement of Consideration: See Remington's Digest, Frds., St. of, § 33; Parks v. Elmore, 59 Wash. 584, 110 Pac. 381.

— Subject Matter in General: See Remington's Digest, Frds., St. of, § 34; Swartswood v. Naslin, 57 Wash. 287, 106 Pac. 770; Engleson v. Port Crescent Shingle Co., 74 Wash. 424, 133 Pac. 1030; Goodrich v. Rogers, 75 Wash. 212, 134 Pac. 947.

The indorsement of a note in consideration of the sale of stock is not an oral promise, but is an engagement in writing, within the statute of frauds: Ginnett v. Greene, 87 Wash. 40, 151 Pac. 99.

An agreement to pay the debt of another is not taken out of the operation of the statute of frauds by letters referring to the closing up of the matter or to the "understanding" of a third person as to the promise, none of which determines what the agreement was without resort to parol evidence; since the memorandum must be complete without resort to such evidence: Campbell v. Weston Basket & Barrel Co., 87 Wash. 73, 151 Pac. 103.

A memorandum of an order for the sale of goods describing the thing sold, the names of the parties, price and terms of payment, signed by the party charged, meets the requirements of the statute of frauds, though informal and containing abbreviations which it is necessary to explain by oral evidence: Nut House v. Pacific Oil Mills, 102 Wash. 114, 172 Pac. 841.

To satisfy the statute of frauds, the memorandum must in itself contain all the terms of the contract; and a contract partly in writing and partly in parol is an oral contract under the statute: Coleman v. St. Paul & Tacoma Lumber Co., 110 Wash. 259, 188 Pac. 532.

See, also, Lewis v. Elliot Bay Logging Co., 112 Wash. 83, 191 Pac. 803.

The failure of a contract for the sale of wheat for future delivery, to fix the time for payment, does not render it void under the statute of frauds; since in such case the law provides that payment and delivery shall be concurrent acts: Dement Brothers Co. v. Coon, 104 Wash. 603, 177 Pac. 354.

SUBDIV. 1. AGREEMENTS NOT TO BE PERFORMED WITHIN ONE YEAR—Stipulations as to Time: See Remington's Digest, Frds., St. of, § 7-1; Spokane Canal Co. v. Coffman, 61 Wash. 357, 112 Pac. 383.

See, also, Seal v. Long, 112 Wash. 370, 192 Pac. 896.

Possibility of Discharge or Other Termination Without Performance: See Remington's Digest, Frds., St. of, § 8; Field's Estate, In re, 33 Wash. 63, 73 Pac. 768; Union Savings & Trust Co. v. Krumm, 88 Wash. 20, 152 Pac. 681.

An agreement to pay a commission on a sale of goods, in consideration of the agent's release of an option, permitting a sale to another, is not within the statute of frauds as not to be performed within one year, because no time was fixed; especially where it was fully executed on the part of the promisee: Maze v. Feuchtwanger, 106 Wash. 327, 179 Pac. 850.

SUBDIV. 2. PROMISES TO ANSWER FOR DEBT, DEFAULT OR MISCARRIAGE OF ANOTHER—Nature of Debt, Default or Miscarriage: See Remington's Digest, Frds., St. of, § 1; McKenzie v. Puget Sound Nat. Bank, 9 Wash. 442, 37 Pac. 668, 43 Am. St. Rep. 844; Barto v. Phillips, 28 Wash. 482, 68 Pac. 895; First National Bank of Pullman v. Gaddis, 31 Wash. 596, 72 Pac. 430; Taylor v. Howard, 70 Wash. 217, 126 Pac. 423.

Oral promises by a trustee for creditors that claims would be paid in full fall within the inhibition of the statute of frauds: Kirkland v. Dressel, 104 Wash. 668, 177 Pac. 643.

Where the guaranty to answer for the debt of another had been executed, parol evidence was admissible to prove the existence of the contract: Dudley v. Duval, 29 Wash. 528, 70 Pac. 68.

Upon an action to charge defendant with the debt of another to plaintiff, the evidence is sufficient to make out a prima facie case, where the debtor testifies that he was a tenant of defendant on shares, that he surrendered the lease to defendant who agreed to pay plaintiff the value of plaintiff's services performed for the tenant (although the services were performed under agreement for a share of the crop) and this evidence is corroborated by plaintiff and one other witness: Dimmick v. Collins, 24 Wash. 78, 63 Pac. 1101.

Promise to Debtor to Discharge Debt—Assumption of Debt in Consideration of Transfer of Property: See Remington's Digest, Frds., St. of, § 2; Silby v. Frost, 3 W. T. 388, 17 Pac. 887; Don Yook v. Washington Mill Co., 16 Wash. 459, 47 Pac. 464; Ordway v. Downey, 18 Wash. 412, 51 Pac. 1047, 52 Pac. 228, 63 Am. St. Rep. 892; Gilmore v. Skookum Box Factory, 20 Wash. 703, 56 Pac. 934; Dimmick v. Collins, 24 Wash. 78, 63 Pac. 1101.

Promise to Indemnify—Contracts of Insurance: See Remington's Digest, Frds., St. of, § 3; Beckman v. Edwards, 59 Wash. 411, 110 Pac. 6, Ann. Cas. 1912B, 40; Ford v. Aetna Life Ins. Co., 70 Wash. 29, 126 Pac. 69.

Original or Collateral Promise in General: See Remington's Digest, Frds., St. of, § 4; Kelley v. Greenough, 9 Wash. 659, 38 Pac. 158; McGraw v. Franklin, 2 Wash. 17, 25 Pac. 911, 26 Pac. 810; Gay v. Schaefer, 52 Wash. 269, 100 Pac. 334; Mead v. White, 53 Wash. 638, 102 Pac. 753, 132 Am. St. Rep. 1092, 23 L. R. A. (N. S.) 1197; Burns v. Weston Basket & Barrel Co., 87 Wash. 73, 151 Pac. 103; Union Savings & Trust Co. v. Krumm, 88 Wash. 20, 152 Pac. 681; Hart v. Bogle, 88 Wash. 125, 152 Pac. 1010; Union Machinery & Supply Co. v. Darnell, 89 Wash. 226, 154 Pac. 183; Greenbaum v. Stern, 90 Wash. 156, 155 Pac. 751; Washington Printing Co. v. Osnier, 99 Wash. 537, 169 Pac. 988; Dixon v. Parker, Moran & Parker, 102 Wash. 101, 172 Pac. 856.

A promise is shown to be a collateral one, where it appears that plaintiff, on selling and delivering certain goods delivered to one N., to whom the promise was made, could not give a clear and consistent statement of the transaction, testifying that defendant told him to deliver the goods to N., and "the account would be taken care of"; to "go ahead and sell and we will see you get the money"; and "that is all he said, for me to furnish N. the stuff and they would pay the bill," and that they would "take care of the account"; especially where the parties, in their correspondence, treated it as N.'s account; since every statement except the third is clearly collateral: Pressentin v. Hawkeye Timber Co., 77 Wash. 388, 137 Pac. 999.

An oral statement by a general contractor, to induce one employed by a subcontractor to continue on the work, to go ahead and he would see him paid, is a collateral promise to answer for the debt or default of another, and void under the statute of frauds, where the work continued as in the past with the subcontractor in charge: Sieffert Company v. Wright, 108 Wash. 616, 185 Pac. 577.

Where one promises, upon a valuable consideration, to pay the debt of another to a third person, the latter may maintain an action thereon in his own name: Moore v. Baasch, 109 Wash. 568, 187 Pac. 388.

Promise on Transfer of Note: See Remington's Digest, Frds., St. of, § 5; Swenson v. Stoltz, 36 Wash. 318, 78 Pac. 999, 2 Ann. Cas. 504; Handsaker v. Pedersen, 71 Wash. 218, 128 Pac. 230.

A contract for the sale of stock of a corporation upon which a partial payment is made is a sale of goods, wares, and merchandise, and it not void as within section 5825, supra, relating to oral contracts that are not to be performed within one year, although deferred payments extend beyond that time: Benner v. Billings, 107 Wash. 1, 181 Pac. 19.

A written contract satisfying the statute of frauds is shown by correspondence where the seller of wheat wrote confirming a sale of ten thousand bushels of blue stem wheat at $2.44 f. o. b. Eureka Flat points, the buyer to send check of $1,000 as margin, and the buyer, while at first failing to directly acknowledge the contract, wrote about sixty days later that he would take the wheat "bought from you last August if you will give me time," and fixing date for first shipment subject to sight draft: Jones-Scott Co. v. Ellensburg Milling Co., 108 Wash. 73, 183 Pac. 113.

Parol evidence is admissible for the purpose of showing that the actual consideration for a sale of logs is different from that expressed in a bill of sale: Don Yook v. Washington Mill Co., 16 Wash. 459, 47 Pac. 965.

An absolute acceptance of an engine and hay baler is shown, sufficient to take an oral sale thereof out of the operation of this section 5826, requiring a note or memorandum thereof, in writing, etc., unless the purchaser shall accept and receive part of the goods etc.), where it appears that the agent, authorized to purchase the same, received the engine and baler early in June and hauled them to the purchaser's ranch, where they remained, long prior to the commencement of the action, the purchaser knowing that the seller claimed an absolute sale, delivery and acceptance, the purchaser making no demand for a test thereof as provided for in the contract: Adams County Mercantile Co. v. Walla Walla Livestock Co., 64 Wash. 285, 116 Pac. 669.

This section requiring a note or memorandum of a sale of goods exceeding fifty dollars to be "signed by the party to be charged thereby" is satisfied where it is signed by and may be enforced against the seller, although not signed by the purchaser: Wright v. Seattle Grocery Co., 105 Wash. 383, 177 Pac. 818.

A memorandum showing the date, name and address of the purchaser and the statement of goods sold with the agreed price, is a sufficient compliance with the statute of frauds, although all the details are not stated and the complaint alleges an agreement partly oral and partly written: Wright v. Seattle Grocery Co., 105 Wash. 383, 177 Pac. 818.

A memorandum of a sale of flour setting forth the purchaser and seller, the quantity and character of the goods, the price therefor and the date of sale, shows a complete contract and satisfies the statute of frauds, although time and place of delivery were not given: Wright v. Seattle Grocery Co., 105 Wash. 383, 177 Pac. 818.

Part Performance in General: See Remington's Digest, Frds., St. of, § 42; Horr v. Hollis, 20 Wash. 424, 55 Pac. 565; Browder v. Phinney, 37 Wash. 70, 79 Pac. 598; Jomslund v. Sloan, 94 Wash. 551, 162 Pac. 985.

The evidence of the contract and of a substantial part performance thereof must be clear and convincing in order to enforce an oral agreement, which under the statute of frauds should be in writing: Anderson v. Schneider, 22 Wash. 363, 60 Pac. 1125.

When an oral contract for the sale of standing timber to be cut immediately is executed, it cannot be attacked as affecting an interest in lands, within the statute of frauds; since, if not valid as a sale of personal property, it is valid as a license to enter and sever the timber: Bay View Land Co. v. Ferguson, 53 Wash. 323, 101 Pac. 1093.

Performance does not take a contract out of the operation of the statute of frauds: Cushing v. Monarch Timber Co., 75 Wash. 678, 135 Pac. 660, Ann. Cas. 1914C, 1239.

See, also, Peterson v. Nichols, 110 Wash. 288, 188 Pac. 498.

The payment of expenses in exploring property is not the giving of something in earnest, within the meaning of the statute of frauds, since it was not anything of value given to the other party: Coleman v. Saint Paul & Tacoma Lumber Co., 110 Wash. 259, 188 Pac. 532.

There was no such part performance of an oral contract for the exchange of lands for a stock of goods as to materially change the situation of the parties and take it out of the operation of the statute of frauds, though the owner of the store took possession and contracted for goods, depositing the proceeds pending consummation of the deal, where there was no showing that the obligations incurred could not be satisfied from the funds deposited, or collected from the owner of the goods on his refusal to carry out the contract: Peterson v. Nichols, 110 Wash. 288, 188 Pac. 498.

Contracts in Part Within Statute: See Remington's Digest, Frds., St. of, § 43; Swash v. Sharpstein, 14 Wash. 426, 44 Pac. 862, 32 L. R. A. 796.

An entire contract for a trade of real estate for a stock of goods is governed by section 10550, requiring all conveyances to be by deed, and not by this section, relating to the sale of goods, wares and merchandise; and the part relating to the sale of land being in parol, the whole contract is void: Peterson v. Nichols, 110 Wash. 288, 188 Pac. 498.

Modification of Contract: See Remington's Digest, Frds., St. of, § 44; Tingley v. Fairhaven Land Co., 9 Wash. 34, 36 Pac. 1098; Sedro Veneer Co. v. Buckeye Lumber Co., 94 Wash. 520, 162 Pac. 588; Woolen v. Sloan, 94 Wash. 551, 162 Pac. 985.

See, also, Clements v. Cook, 112 Wash. 217, 191 Pac. 874.

A written offer to sell mining stock was not accepted so as to bring it within the statute of frauds, where, upon a conference, it appeared that there were liens against the stock, and that the seller orally agreed to modify the agreement so as to permit the amount of the liens to be withheld; since the contract would be partly in writing and partly in parol, and a modification by parol would nullify the rule of the statute: Coleman v. St. Paul & Tacoma Lumber Co., 110 Wash. 259, 188 Pac. 532.

§ 5829. [5293.] Contracts of Minors, Liability.

A minor is bound, not only by contracts for necessities, but also by his other contracts, unless he disaffirms them within a reasonable time after he attains his majority, and restores to the other party all money and property received by him by virtue of the contract, and remaining within his control at any time after his attaining his majority. § 5830. [5294.] Disaffirmance of Contracts Prohibited, When.

No contract can be thus disaffirmed in cases where, on account of the minor's own misrepresentations as to his majority, or from his having engaged in business as an adult, the other party had good reasons to believe the minor capable of contracting. [L. '66, p. 93, § 3; 1 H. C., § 2434.]

A minor, before coming of age, may repudiate his contract with attorneys to prosecute an action for personal injuries, and his application for the appointment of a general guardian and the making of an independent settlement sufficiently indicates his intention to repudiate the contract: Plummer v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 98 Wash. 67, 167 Pac. 73.

Such contract cannot be sustained on the theory that it was for necessities, as the minor is liable only for the reasonable value of necessities furnished: Plummer v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 98 Wash. 67, 167 Pac. 73.

The disaffirmance of such a contract by a minor makes it void ab initio, and avoids assignments of rights thereunder: Plummer v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 98 Wash. 67, 167 Pac. 73.

§ 5831. [5295.] Satisfaction of Contracts With Minor.

When a contract for the personal service of a minor has been made with him alone, and those services are afterward performed, payment made therefor to such minor in accordance with the terms of the contract is a full satisfaction for those services, and the parents or guardian cannot recover therefor. [L. '66, p. 93, § 4; 1 H. C., § 2435.]

The board of county commissioners of any county within this state may establish game reserves on any island within the borders of their respective counties, upon petition of two-thirds of the freeholders of any such island and upon the presentation of a petition signed by two-thirds of the resident freeholders of any island to the board of county commissioners of the county in which said island is situated. It shall be the duty of such board of county commissioners to designate a day upon which said petition shall be heard and to post notices to this effect in at least three conspicuous places on such island; said notices shall be posted at least ten days prior to such hearing. of the board of county commissioners to pass upon such petition within ten days after the said hearing and if it appears to them that the said petition is the wish of two-thirds of the freeholders of the said island it shall be their duty to make an order and have same entered in the official records of the board establishing said island as a game reserve. [L. '05, p. 247, § 1.]

See infra, § 5864, penalty for violating this section.

The evidence is insufficient to show that the game commission of S. county acted arbitrarily in setting aside as a game preserve the lands owned or leased by a gun club, influenced thereto, as alleged, by the fact that members of the gun club had refused to comply with an order of the commission to desist from "feeding" their grounds prior to the opening of the season, which order was without authority and was rescinded, where every member of the commission testified that he was not influenced by the matter of "feeding," and it clearly appears that this land was selected only after a thorough investigation, and many testified that it was better adapted for a refuge, nesting and breeding place for birds than any other tract in the county, and that many varieties breed and nest there: Cawsey v. Brickey, 82 Wash. 653, 144 Pac. 938.

See, also, infra, § 5953.

For the purpose of encouraging game farming and the domestication and propagation of game, a game farmer's license, which shall authorize the licensee to engage in the business of breeding and selling moose, caribou, elk, deer, beaver, otter, marten, mink and other wild animals or wild birds or game birds, as limited herein, shall be issued, subject to the provisions of this act, by the state game-warden to any responsible resident person duly applying therefor, such licenses to expire on March 31st following the date of its issuance. The fee for such license shall be ten dollars ($10). After such license has been issued, it shall be valid as long as said licensee pays the state game-warden, for the benefit of the game fund, an annual fee of five dollars ($5), unless otherwise determined under the provisions of this act: Provided, however, that this act shall not be construed to require the granting of licenses to public parks. [L. '19, p. 146, § 1.]

Under the game laws of the state as they existed from 1901 to 1911, inclusive, regulating the hunting of game, taking the word "possess" in connection with its context, wherein it is prohibited to "hunt, pursue, take, kill, injure, destroy or possess" any of the protected animals during the closed season prescribed in the act, it must have been the intention of the legislature to prohibit the taking of "possession" only during the closed season; and there is nothing in any of the acts sufficiently broad to cover the possession of deer and game fowls which were reclaimed from their wild state and kept in an inclosure: Graves v. Dunlap, 87 Wash. 648, 152 Pac. 532, Ann. Cas. 1917B, 944, L. R. A. 1916C, 338.

No person shall at any time or in any manner acquire any property in, or subject to his dominion or control, any of the game birds, game animals, or game fish, or any parts thereof, of the game birds, game animals or game fish herein mentioned, but they shall always and under all circumstances be and remain the property of the state; except, that by killing, catching or taking the same in the manner and for the purposes herein authorized, and during the periods when the killing is not herein prohibited, the same may be used by any person at the time, in the manner and for the purposes herein expressly authorized; and whenever any person kills, catches, injures, takes, ships, or has in his possession or under control, any of the game birds, game animals, or game fish, or any parts thereof, mentioned in this chapter, at a time or in a manner prohibited by this chapter, such person shall thereby forfeit and lose all right to the use and possession of such game bird, game animals, or game fish, or any parts thereof, and the state shall be entitled to the sole possession thereof: Provided, that the state wardens, or the game commission of each county shall grant permission to persons to have in their possession and allow the sale and shipping of game birds or game animals for propagation only. "This chapter," refers to the act of 1913.

There being no private right in the citizen to take game, the title being in the state, the state's right to control or prohibit the taking of game is an inherent incident of the police power; and this section, to the above effect, is but declaratory of the common law, and therefore does not deprive anyone of property rights or vested privileges: Cawsey v. Brickey, 82 Wash. 653, 144 Pac. 938.

This section and 5962 providing that no person shall "have in possession or under control" certain wild animals should not be given a retroactive effect, when to do so would violate the due process clauses of the state and federal constitutions protecting the qualified right of property in animals ferae naturae that had been reclaimed from their wild state before the passage of the act: Graves v. Dunlap, 87 Wash. 648, 152 Pac. 532, Ann. Cas. 1917B, 944, L. R. A. 1916C, 338.

Any person guilty of violating this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '13, p. 366, § 22.]

See, also, supra, § 5899.

§ 5953. [5395-23.] Hunting Deer With Dogs.

Any person who shall at any time shoot or kill in any manner a deer when such deer is in any river or lake, or body of salt water, or shall hunt or chase deer with dogs, shall be deemed guilty of a gross misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished as hereinafter provided. [L. '13, p. 366, § 23.]

The words "as hereinafter provided" may be treated as surplusage, and resort should be had to the general statute, section 2267, providing that every person convicted of a gross misdemeanor for which no punishment is prescribed at the time of the conviction shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year or by a fine of not more than $1,000, or by both: State v. Deer, 80 Wash. 92, 141 Pac. 321.

And he shall further state the cause of death, so as to show the course of disease or sequence of causes resulting in death, giving the primary and immediate causes, and also the contributory causes, if any, and the duration of each. Indefinite and unsatisfactory terms, indicating only symptoms of disease or conditions resulting from disease, will not be held as sufficient for issuing a burial or removal permit; and any certificate containing only such terms as defined by the state registrar as indefinite and unsatisfactory shall be returned to the physician for correction and definition. Causes of death, which may be the result of either disease or violence, shall be carefully defined; and if from violence, its nature shall be stated, and whether accidental, suicidal or homicidal, and in case of death in hospitals, institutions, or away from home, the physician shall furnish the information required under this head (item 19), and shall state where, in his opinion, the disease was contracted. [L. '15, p. 638, § 5. Cf. L. '07, p. 149, § 7.]

§ 6025. [5430.] Burial Permits, etc.—Procedure.

That it shall be the duty of every undertaker or person acting as undertaker, to obtain a certificate of death and file the same with the local registrar, and secure a burial or removal permit, prior to any permanent disposition of the body. He shall obtain the personal and statistical particulars required, from the person best qualified to supply them, over the signature and address of such person or state over his own signature that after careful inquiry he could not obtain such particulars. In case such deceased be a stranger whose identity cannot be determined it shall be the duty of the undertaker having such body in charge to have a photograph taken of such deceased and a copy of such photograph shall be filed with the secretary of the state board of health. He shall then present the certificate to the attending physician, if any, or in case the death occurred without any medical attendance, to the proper official for certification as hereinabove provided, for the medical certificate of the cause of death and other particulars necessary to complete the record as hereinabove provided. And he shall state the facts required relative to the date and place of burial, over his signature and with his address, and present the completed certificate to the local registrar, for the issu-

The undertaker shall deliver the burial permit to the sexton, or person in charge of the place of burial, before interring the body; or shall attach the transit permit containing the local registrar's removal permit, to the box containing the corpse, when shipped by any transportation company, and said permit shall accompany the corpse to its destination, provided that when a body is removed from one registration district in Washington to another for interment, cremation or other permanent disposition not requiring the use of a common carrier or the issuance of a transit permit, the registrar's removal permit from the district where the death occurred may be accepted as authority for burial in the other district. It shall be the duty of every person, firm or corporation selling a casket to keep a record showing the name and postoffice address of the purchaser, the name of the deceased and the date and place of death of the deceased, which record shall be open to inspection of the state registrar at all times, and it shall be the duty of every person, firm, or corporation selling caskets to, on the first day of each month, report to the state registrar each sale for the preceding month, on a blank provided for that purpose: Provided, however, that no person, firm, or corporation selling caskets to dealers or undertakers only shall be required to keep such record. It shall be the duty of every person, firm, or corporation selling a casket at retail, and not having charge of the disposition of the body, to inclose within the casket a notice furnished by the state registrar calling attention to the requirements of the law, a blank certificate of death, and a copy of the rules and regulations of the state board of health concerning the burial or other disposition of dead bodies. [L. '15, p. 639, § 6. Cf. L. '07, p. 149, § 8.]

§ 6026. [5431.] Requisites of Burial Permit.

If the interment, or other disposition of the body, is to be made within the state, the wording of the burial permit may be limited to a statement by the local registrar and over his signature, that a satisfactory certificate of death having been filed with him, as required by law, permission is granted to inter, remove or otherwise dispose of the deceased; stating the name, age, sex, cause of death, and other necessary details upon the form prescribed by the state registrar. [L. '07, p. 150, § 9.]

It shall be unlawful for any person in charge of any premises in which bodies of deceased persons are interred, cremated or otherwise permanently disposed of, to permit the interment, cremation or other disposition of any body upon such premises unless it is accompanied by a burial, removal or transit permit as hereinabove provided. It shall be the duty of the person in charge of any such premises to, in case of the interment, cremation or other disposition of a body therein, indorse upon the permit the date and character of such disposition, over his signature, to return all permits so indorsed to the local registrar of his district within ten days from the date of such disposition, and to keep a record of all bodies disposed of on the premises under his charge, stating, in each case, the name of the deceased person, if known, the place of death, the date of burial or other disposition, and the name and address of the undertaker, which record shall at all times be open to public inspection, and it shall be the duty of every undertaker, or person acting as such, when burying a body in a cemetery or burial grounds having no person in charge, to sign the burial, removal or transit permit, giving the date of burial, write across the face of the permit the words "no person in charge," and file the burial, removal or transit permit within ten days with the registrar of the district in which the cemetery is located. It shall then, in such case, be the duty of the local registrar to secure the necessary information and signature to make a proper certificate of birth. [L. '07, p. 150, § 12.]

§ 6030. [5435.] Contents of Certificate.

It shall be the duty of every local registrar when any certificate of birth of a living child is presented without statement of the given name, to make out and deliver to the parents of such child a special blank for the supplemental report of the given name of the child, which shall be filled out as directed and returned to the registrar as soon as the child has been named. [L. '15, p. 641, § 8. Cf. L. '07, p. 151, § 14.]

§ 6032. [5437.] Registration of Physicians, Midwives and Undertakers.

Every physician, midwife and undertaker shall without delay, register his or her name, address and occupation with the local registrar of the district in which he or she resides or may hereafter establish a residence; and shall thereupon be supplied by the local registrar with a copy of this act, together with such rules and regulations as may be prepared by the state registrar relative to its enforcement. Within thirty days after October 1st of each year each local registrar shall make a return to the state registrar of all physicians and midwives who have been registered in his district during the whole or any part of the preceding calendar year: Provided, that no fee or other compensation shall be charged by local registrars to physicians, midwives, or undertakers for registering their names under this section or making returns thereof to the state registrar. And in case of persons admitted or committed for medical treatment of contagious disease, the physician in charge shall specify, for entry in the record, the nature of the disease, and where, in his opinion, it was contracted. The personal particulars and information required by this section shall be obtained from the individual himself, if it is practicable to do so; and when they cannot be so obtained, they shall be secured in as complete a manner as possible from the relatives, friends, or other persons acquainted with the facts. [L. '07, p. 152, § 16.]

§ 6034. [5439.] Duties of State Registrar.

That the state registrar shall prepare, print and supply to all registrars all blanks and forms used in registering, recording and preserving the returns, or in otherwise carrying out the purpose of this act; and shall prepare and issue such detailed instructions as may be required to secure the uniform observance of its provisions and the maintenance of a perfect system of registration. And no other blanks shall be used than those supplied by the state registrar. He shall carefully examine the certificates received monthly from the local registrars, and if any such are incomplete or unsatisfactory, he shall require such further information to be furnished as may be necessary to make the record complete and satisfactory, and shall cause such further information to be attached to and filed with the certificate. He shall furnish, arrange, bind and permanently preserve the certificates in a systematic manner, and shall prepare and maintain a comprehensive and continuous card index of all births and deaths registered; the cards to show the name of the child or deceased, place and date of birth or death, number of certificate, and the volume in which it is contained. He shall inform all local registrars of the diseases which are to be considered as infectious to the public health, as decided by the state board of health, in order that, when death occurs from such diseases, proper precautions may be taken to prevent the spreading of dangerous diseases. If any cemetery company or association, or any church or historical society or association, or any other company, society, or association, or any individual, is in possession of any record of births or deaths which may be of value in establishing the genealogy of any resident of this state, such company, society, association, or individual may file such record or a duly authenticated transcript thereof with the state registrar, and it shall be the duty of the state registrar to preserve such record or transcript and to make a record and index thereof in such form as to facilitate the finding of any information contained therein. Such record and index shall be open to inspection by the public, subject to such reasonable conditions as the state registrar may prescribe. If any person desires a transcript of any record filed in accordance herewith, the state registrar shall furnish the same upon application, together with a certificate that it is a true copy of such record, as filed in his office, and for his services in so furnishing such transcript and certificate he shall be entitled to a fee of fifty cents per hour or fraction of an hour necessarily consumed in making such transcript, which fee shall be paid by the applicant. [L. '15, p. 641, § 9. Cf. L. '07, p. 153, § 17.]

It shall be the duty of the local registrar to supply blank forms of certificates to such persons as require them. And he shall carefully examine each certificate of birth or death when presented for record, to see that it has been made out in accordance with the provisions of this act and the instructions of the state registrar; and if any certificate of death is incomplete or unsatisfactory, it shall be his duty to call attention to the defects in the return, and to withhold issuing the burial or removal permit until they are corrected. If the certificate of death is properly executed and complete, he shall issue a burial or removal permit to the undertaker: Provided, that in case the death occurred from some disease that is held by the state board of health to be infectious, contagious, or communicable and dangerous to the public health, no permit for the removal or other disposition of the body shall be granted by the local registrar, except under such conditions as may be prescribed by the state and local boards of health. If a certificate of a birth is incomplete, he shall immediately notify the informant, and require him to supply the missing items if they can be obtained. He shall then number consecutively the certificates of birth and death, in two separate series, beginning with "number one" for the first birth and the first death in each calendar year, and sign his name as local registrar in attest of the date of filing in his office. He shall also make a complete and accurate copy of each birth and death certificate registered by him, upon a form identical with the original certificate, to be filed and permanently preserved in his office as the local record of such death, in such manner as directed by the state registrar. And he shall on or before the fifth day of each month, transmit to the state registrar all original certificates registered by him during the preceding month. And if no births or no deaths occurred in any month, he shall, on the fifth day of the following month, report that fact to the state registrar, on a card provided for this purpose: Provided, that in cities of the first class, original certificates may be retained by the local health authorities, and exact duplicates of the original certificates may be forwarded by the local registrars to the state registrar. And in case no births or deaths were registered during any month, the local registrar shall be paid the sum of twenty-five cents for each report to that effect, properly made out in accordance with the directions of the state registrar: Provided, that all local registrars who receive regular compensation as health officers shall not be entitled to the fee of twenty-five cents, above mentioned, but the duties of the local registrar shall be considered as a part of their duty as local health officer. All fees payable to local registrars under the provisions of this act shall be paid by the treasurer of the county, or city, as the case may be, properly chargeable therewith, out of the funds of such county or city, upon warrants drawn by the auditor, or other proper officer of such county or city. No warrant shall be issued to any local registrar except upon a certificate, signed and verified under oath by the state registrar, stating the names and postoffice address respectively of the local registrars entitled to fees from such county or city, and the number of certificates and reports of births or deaths, properly returned to the state registrar, by each such local registrar, during the three preceding calendar months prior to the date of such certificate, and the amount of fees to which each local registrar is entitled, which certificate the state registrar shall file with the proper officers during the months of January, April, July and October of each year. county or city to issue warrants for the amount due each local registrar and mail the same to the local registrars at their respective post-office addresses, as given in such certificate of the state registrar. [L. '15, p. 643, § 10. Cf. L. '07, p. 154, § 19.]

§ 6037. [5442.] Certified Copies of Records and Searches, Fees for.

It shall be the duty of the state registrar to, upon request, furnish any applicant with a certified copy of the record of any birth or death, registered under the provisions of this act, for the making and certification of which he shall be entitled to a fee of fifty cents to be paid by the applicant. For any search of the files and the records when no certified copy is made, the state registrar shall be entitled to a fee of fifty cents for each hour or fractional part of an hour employed in such search, to be paid by the applicant. But the state registrar and all local registrars shall furnish upon application certificates of the age of children to be used in attending the public schools or in obtaining employment permits without fee or compensation. The state registrar shall keep a true and correct account of all fees received by him under the provisions of this act, and turn the same over to the state treasurer on the first day of January, April, July and October. Local registrars in cities of the first, second and third class shall be entitled to charge for certified copies of records of births and deaths and for searching of records when no certified copy is made, the same fee as hereinabove provided for the state registrar, but such fees, if any collected, shall be paid into the treasury of the city where collected. The state registrar is hereby charged with the thorough and efficient execution of the provisions of this act in every part of the state, and with supervisory power over local registrars, to the end that all of the requirements shall be uniformly complied with. He shall have authority to investigate cases of irregularity or violation of law, personally or by accredited representative, and all local registrars shall aid him, upon request, in such investigation. When he shall deem it necessary he shall report cases of violation of any of the provisions of this act to the prosecuting attorney of the proper county with a statement of the fact and circumstances; and when any such case is reported to them by the state registrar, all prosecuting attorneys or officials acting in such capacity shall forthwith initiate and promptly follow up the necessary court proceedings against the parties responsible for the alleged violations of law. CHAPTER I.

THE LAW OF TRAVEL.

§ 6295. [5558.] Vehicle to Turn to the Right.

Whenever any persons driving any vehicle shall meet on any public highway in this state, whether owned or kept by a corporation or private person, the persons so meeting shall seasonably turn their vehicles to the right of the center of the road, so as to permit each vehicle to pass without interfering with or interrupting the other. [L. '69, p. 288, § 68; L. '79, p. 67, § 66; Cd. '81, § 3030; 1 H. C., § 2064.]

Cited in 3 Wash. 663; 64 Wash. 247; 81 Wash. 122.

An ordinance requiring vehicles to keep as near the right-hand curb as possible is not in conflict with this section, and the ordinance establishes the law of the road within the boundaries of the city: Hiscock v. Phinney, 81 Wash. 117, 142 Pac. 461, Ann. Cas. 1916E, 1044.

Such a law as this has no application to vehicles meeting a street-car, as it is the duty of the driver of a vehicle in such case to turn to either side so as best to avoid collision: Spurrier v. Front St. Cable Ry. Co., 3 Wash. 659, 29 Pac. 346.

§ 6296. [5559.] Penalty for Violation of Preceding Section.

If any person shall willfully violate the provisions of this chapter, he shall forfeit and pay the sum of five dollars for every such violation, to the party injured, to be recovered by a civil action, and such further damage in the same action as such party may directly sustain by reason of such violation. [L. '69, p. 288, § 69; L. '79, p. 67, § 67; Cd. '81, § 3031; 1 H. C., § 2065.]

§ 6297. [5560.] Liability of Master.

Whenever any person driving a vehicle, who shall violate the provisions of this chapter, is at the time in the employ of another, such other person is liable for the penalty herein provided, the same as if he were the driver of such vehicle at the time of such violation; but an election to sue the driver or employer is a bar to an action against the other. All road supervisors, county and municipal officers and their deputies are hereby vested with the powers and duties of sheriffs in preventing violations of this act and in making arrests therefor. [L. '15, p. 65, § 1.]

See infra, § 6332, limitation on weight of vehicle.

Cited in 108 Wash. 206.

This section, making it a misdemeanor to use any vehicle within the corporate limits of a city of the first class which shall be of such weight as to destroy or permanently injure the surface of the street, is not void for indefiniteness and uncertainty in failing to specifically point out the facts which constitute the offense: State v. Brown, 108 Wash. 205, 182 Pac. 944.

§ 6299. [5561-5.] Penalty.

Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '15, p. 66, § 2.]

§ 6300. [5561-6.] Disposition of Fines.

"This act," has reference to this, and the two preceding sections.

§ 6304. Duty to Maintain Standard Guide-posts.

It shall be the duty of the county commissioners of each county to construct and maintain on the public highways outside of incorporated cities and towns, at all crossroads or forks of roads, sign-boards or guide-posts according to the plans and specifications furnished by the state highway commissioner. [L. '19, p. 408, § 1. Cf. L. '17, p. 264, § 2.]

ing as a public gift the official sign-boards or guide-posts herein provided for. [L. '19, p. 409, § 4. Cf. L. '17, p. 265, § 4.]
